A MODERN MISSIONARY

Rev. and Mrs. Earl E. Harper, and son Hugh, of Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, Auburn, have just returned from what Mr. Harper states had all the aspects of a modern day missionary journey. Their mission field was a series of religious assemblies, conventions and institutes, representing a constituency not only from the United States, but from all over the world, as two of the assemblies were international in scope.

Travelling in a Ford sedan, with tents and full camping equipment, they left Auburn on the 19th day of June. Driving and camping through Massachusetts and New York, they crossed into Canada at Niagara Falls and spent several days in the dominion, coming back into the United States at Detroit, and proceeding from there to Toledo, Ohio, where the Ohio State Christian Endeavor Union convened in annual assembly. Mr. Harper directed the services of worship, and lectured on church music and worship each day, Mrs. Harper appearing as soloist.

From Toledo they went to Chicago for services in individual churches and for conferences with leaders in the field of music and worship there. Then they drove to Des Moines, Iowa, where Mr. Harper was associate director with Prof. H. Augustine Smith, at the International Christian Endeavor Convention. A complete church plant was turned over to the two leaders here where from ten o'clock in the morning until ten o'clock at night lectures were given, services prepared.

FOR JAPANESE RELIEF

Newton Chapter of the Red Cross to Receive Subscriptions

An appeal to the American people to contribute to the relief of the people of Japan has been issued by President Coolidge.

The American Red Cross was officially designated as the organization through which relief contributions should be transmitted.

The President's Proclamation says, "In order that the utmost co-ordination and effectiveness in the Relief Fund be obtained, I recommend that all contributions, clearly designated, be sent to the Chairman National Red Cross at Washington or any of the local Red Cross Chapters for transmission to Japan."

The American Red Cross immediately announced that it had started a Relief Fund with a contribution of $100,000. Any citizen of Newton desiring to contribute to this fund is earnestly requested to send their contribution as soon as possible to Mr. J. W. Estabrook, Treasurer, Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, West Newton, Massachusetts.

All checks should be clearly designated: "For Japanese Relief Fund." All contributions received will be immediately made available.

Newton Chapter, Amer. Red Cross. GEORGE M. ANGLIER, Chairman.

ESCAPE THE EARTHQUAKE

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Brown of Washington street and Mrs. Howard Norton of Hunnewell avenue were much pleased to learn on Wednesday morning that the party had escaped the earthquake which devastated Japan last Sunday. There had been much anxiety felt for the safety of the tourists following word of the earthquake. A cablegram last Thursday gave the party's cable address as the Imperial Hotel, Tokyo, until Sunday, "after that Kobe." It is believed the group shortened their visit in Tokyo to proceed to Nikko, which is one of the show places on the island.

The message on Wednesday morning was directed to Mr. George W. Brown, the father of Mr. Edwin P. Brown and was dated September 5 and reads, "Party all safe. Well." It was signed by John H. Connor, vice president of the United Shoe Machinery Company, in charge of foreign business. Mr. Connor was touring Japan with Mr. Brown, Mrs. Brown, their daughter, Florence, and Mrs. Brown's sister, Mrs. Howard Norton. Nikko is some 80 miles northwest of Tokyo and is noted for its beautiful scenery, temples and mortuary shrines.

NOVELTY SHOWER

On Wednesday evening a delightful novelty shower was tendered to Miss Sadie Kelly at the home of Mrs. Thomas F. Bryson, 11 Carleton street, Newton.

Miss Kelly, a popular young Newton lady is to be married in the early fall to Mr. George Bryson of Hovey street, Newton.

About 75 guests were present from the Newtons, Brighton and Watertown and many beautiful and useful gifts were received.

Mr. Bryson is manager of the Newton Centre Office of the Nicholas J. Murphy, Inc., and has just completed a beautiful colonial home at Waban.

National Bank Assurance

The National government is the bulwark of safety over which the alarmists and disruptionists have no power. The national banking system is the greatest measure ever devised by a nation to protect the resources of its citizens.

With national bank assurance—plus the careful management for which the Waltham National Bank is known—a checking account is nothing short of a necessity for anybody who has the handling of even a moderate amount of money. Deposits may be made in person or by mail. Interest paid on deposits.

WARREN-ROBINSON

Saturday afternoon, September 1st, was selected by Miss Corabel Evelina Robinson, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Robinson of Oakland avenue, Auburndale, for her wedding to Mr. Malcolm Algonon Warren of Higgin street, Auburndale. The ceremony was performed at four o'clock at the home of the bride by Rev. Dr. George S. Butters of Newton. The bride wore a gown of ivory, satin, tulle and lace and the conventional tulle veil with orange blossoms.

She was attended by Miss Gladys J. Hadley of Bloomsburg, Pa., as maid of honor, gowned in embroidered blue georgette.

Mr. George Kellar of Auburndale was the best man. A reception followed the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Warren being assisted by Mr. Kellar and Miss Hadley in receiving their guests.

Refreshments were served by the Girls' Sewing Club of which the bride was a member.

The house was decorated with an arch of hydrangeas with a background of ferns.

The bride is a graduate of the Framingham Normal School and the groom from the Wentworth Institute.

After a wedding trip through the White Mountains by automobile, Mr. and Mrs. Warren will make their home at 36 Oakland avenue, Auburndale, where they will be at home after October 1st.

DEATH OF WALTER THERIAULT

Walter T. W. Theriault, a veteran of the World War, died last Friday at the Veterans' Hospital in Rutland after a long illness. Mr. Theriault was 39 years of age and was a native of Newton. He graduated from the Newton High School in 1912 and was a well known athlete, being a letter man in baseball, and a member of the school track and football teams. He enlisted in the navy during the war and served for 14 months on a submarine destroyer. He was a member of the Newton Lodge of Elks and of Newton Post, American Legion. Funeral services were held Monday morning at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, in Nonantum, with a solemn high mass. Delegations were present from Newton Post, A. L., the Women's Auxiliary of Newton Post and from Newton Lodge of Elks. The burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

BEAL-SMITH

The wedding of Miss Doris Margaret Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith of Greenough street, Auburndale, and Mr. Francis Guy Beal, of West Newton, took place at the Church of the Messiah on Saturday evening, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Percival M. Wood, the rector, at six o'clock.

The bride wore white flat crepe with court train of Duchess satin, a coronet of pearls and veil of tulle caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of brides' roses and maiden hair fern. The maid of honor, Miss Arabella Sylvester-Lancaster of Somerville was in rose orchid chiffon taffeta with hat of rose orchid and turquoise blue and silver slippers and carried Columbia roses. The bridesmaids, the Misses Irene Trefrey of Boston, Barbara Brown of Cambridge, Olive Beal of West Newton, Caroline Sylvester-Lancaster of Somerville and Ann Getchel of Wakefield, wore chiffon taffeta and georgette crepe in rainbow shades.

Mr. Stanley A. Beal of West Newton was the best man and the ushers were Messrs. John Knudsen of Boston, John H. H. Turner of Auburndale, Winthrop Rhodes of Waban, Ralph Keyes of Auburndale and C. E. Gould Capon of Newton Centre.

The bride was a picture of girlish beauty as she entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin". After the ceremony Mendelssohn's wedding march accompanied by joy bells rang out as the bridal party left the church. The music was under the able direction of Mr. Raymond Sikes, organist and choir master of the church.

A reception followed the ceremony in the parish house of the church, Mr. and Mrs. Beal being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith and Mr. A. T. Beal.

The presents were numerous and beautiful, consisting of cut glass, hand painted china, silver, embroidered linen and checks. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond pendant and the bride's gifts to the maid of honor and bridesmaids were crescent bar pins studded with rainbow colors. The groom's gifts to the ushers were gold cuff links.

The groom is a graduate of Amherst College 1917, and an Odd Fellow, and both bride and groom are members of Rebekah Lodge. They are well known in Auburndale and West Newton, also in musical circles, being members of the Newton Choral Union and choir singers.

After a wedding trip through Canada Mr. and Mrs. Beal will make their home in West Newton, where they will be at home after October 15th.

MR. LUTWEILER IS RIGHT

The following letter was recently published in the Boston Transcript:—

THE "GAS" REFERENDUM

To the Editor of the Transcript: In a recent Transcript there was a news item, in which Mr. Day Baker was quoted as making the claim that the automobile users of the State would have $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 per year through the defeat of the gasoline tax. This is just as absurd as the claim he made a year ago before a legislative committee that the additional tax of $5 to $10, advocated at that time by Mr. Cole, would add to the costs of living, referring particularly to the farmer. Just as though $5 on a farmer's truck or automobile would cut any figure in the cost of his products. If we take Mr. Baker's highest figure and divide it among the automobile owners of the State, we find that it is less than $18 each. Now, $18 represents 900 gallons of gasoline at two cents per gallon, and it also means that each car owner is driving from 12,000 to 13,000 miles per year, based on an average of fifteen miles per gallon.

If, for the sake of argument, we grant that all of these absurd figures are correct, there is not an owner of an automobile in the State that will not be able to offset any such saving as this every year by extra gasoline, wear and tear on his machine and tires due to poor roads. For aside from a few good trunk line roads, our roads are in poor shape, especially the tarred roads with their hard furrows where innumerable springs are broken, bodies shaken badly—requiring repairs to take the rattle out—tires are cut on the ragged edges, and when the season is over $18 goes a very little way toward paying the bill. If this $7,000,000 was spent on the roads for a few years, every automobile owner would save money, and the State and every community would benefit thereby.

Who are the people back of this movement to delay the operation of the law? It is the truck owners who do not want to pay the tax that they should in the way of a gasoline tax and thereby decrease their profits, and the automobile dealers who are afraid it will hurt the sale of automobiles. As an automobile owner, I would rather pay the tax than not, and I am surprised that thirty thousand people who have signed the petition should be so gullible. One thing we can say about Massachusetts and that is, that the question of the money received being honestly and conscientiously spent in the roads is never raised. Good roads bring hundreds of thousands of dollars to the community, spent by outsiders. They will succeed in deferring the operation of this law, but it will only be deferred until December 4, 1924, for I believe that the bulk of our people want good roads.

C. S. LUTWEILER.

A MODERN MISSIONARY JOURNEY

sented, stereopticon pictures shown, and a gallery of prints of art masterpieces opened to the public, with trained guides to direct the people as they visited it. On Sunday afternoon, July 8, with a fifty piece band for accompaniment, and the amplifiers used by President Harding at his inaugural and at the burial of the Unknown Soldier, Mr. Harper conducted a half hour service of worship at the Iowa State Fair Grounds which was participated in by 40,000 people. Religious leaders affirm that this is the largest number of people that ever actually participated in a service of worship.

Driving from Des Moines to Nebraska, Mr. and Mrs. Harper visited with their parents, opened a new pipe organ in the German M. E. Church at Papillion, Nebraska, directed a Sunday evening service and delivered an address in the University Place M. E. Church, the largest M. E. Church in Nebraska, appeared before the student body of the Nebraska Wesleyan University Summer School, and conducted a union Sunday evening service in the First M. E. Church at Auburn, Nebraska, where Mr. Harper's father is pastor.

Driving from Des Moines to Kansas City, the journey next carried them to the flourishing little city of Pittsburg, Kansas, where all the churches of the city joined in a union Sunday evening service for the presentation of the message of religious education in music and worship. Adequate advertising brought out a great throng here, including the musical leaders of the state Normal, the municipal band, and the public school music.

Across Missouri to St. Louis, their next stop, the travellers made their way, finding the worst road of the entire trip. On the night that President Harding died they were in Columbus, Ohio, thirty miles from Marion, and the next day they began a ten day mission at the annual meeting of the Ohio State Baptist Assembly. Since Mr. Harding was an Ohioan and a Baptist, his death was felt very keenly here, and Mr. Harper was commissioned to write and direct a special memorial service, which combined ritual music, prayer and address. Leaders of the Baptist Church in the state took various parts in the service, and the great church at Granville was filled to overflowing. On the day of the funeral Mr. Harper directed another service which was listened to by an entire community. From a very high hill on the edge of town, a bell was tolled, and trumpeters played the music of the funeral service, concluding with "Taps." The service was carefully correlated to the time of the service being held at the same time in Marion, and everywhere in the entire community vehicles paused, pedestrians stood with bowed heads, while the thousand or more attendants at the Assembly silently entered into the service.

The next work was at the great Chautauqua Institute at Chautauqua, N. Y., where Prof. Smith is director of music for the entire season. A series of lectures was given here, and the "missionaries" participated in the rendition of Handel's oratorio, "The Creation." The New York Symphony Orchestra, playing a concert each evening, and accompanying all the people chorals, made this a notable experience.

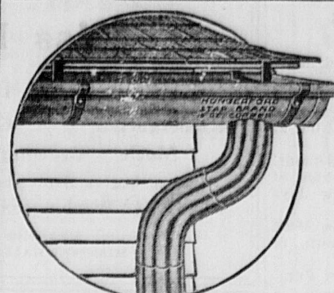

The final assembly was the great Methodist meeting at Asbury Grove, Mass., where every night during the week the big tabernacle was crowded to the doors, while on Sunday afternoon four thousand people sat or stood in the great pine grove while an outdoor service was conducted. A goodly portion of Handel's "Messiah" was given here in what the leader called a "congregationalized" form, hymns and responsive readings being included and correlated in a program involving several choruses and solos from the oratorio. Mrs. Harper was the soprano soloist, and Mr. Arthur Wellcome, soloist at Centenary Church, was the tenor. The tabernacle was crowded and hundreds of people stood quietly throughout the service. It is to be repeated at the State Sunday School Convention at North Adams, and will be presented in the near future in Centenary Church.

The mission of the Auburndale folks who thus toured over more than half the country, through fifteen states, driving nearly 5000 miles, was to establish new and higher standards of church music and worship, and to present the tried and proven program of religious education in this field which is in successful practice at Centenary Church, Auburndale.

The Oliver Ditson Company of Boston are publishing a special anthem book edited by Mr. Harper this winter to furnish material for the young people's and boys' and girls' department of this work, while a prominent New York publishing firm will publish a book on the theory and program in vogue at Auburndale during the coming year.

The pastor and his wife came back to find, to their unbounded surprise and delight, that Miss Mabel T. Eager, one of the trustees of the church, had arranged to present to the church and has installed a modern pipe organ, complete to the last detail, as large as could justifiably be installed in the auditorium of Centenary Church, and of a quality and completeness unsurpassed by any organ anywhere.

So the "missionary work" in this particular line and realm of church work will be carried on with greater facilities in the future than in the past. All branches of the Christian Church find a spiritual unity in Christian music and worship, but many of them have failed to especially give attention to and develop the talents and capabilities of a congregation in this regard. Through congregational rehearsals, through organization of choirs ranging from Junior to Adult, the Centenary program attempts to actually and thoroughly train an entire congregation in the meaning and technique of true worship. Many churches abroad over the

POLICE COURT

In court Wednesday Peter Brennan, 64 West street, Nonantum, and Frank Smith, 137 Bridge street, Nonantum, were fined $1 for drunkenness and $10 for disturbance and also were given a three months' sentence in the House of Correction. The sentence was suspended till March 1, 1924, for assault on Officer Hayden. Tuesday evening the police patrol was called to West street. On the patrol were Officers Hayden, Tobin and Cole. When Officer Hayden tried to arrest Brennan for being drunk Smith jumped to rescue his friend and in doing so assaulted officer Hayden.

Paint for this big barn less than $18.00

YOU begin to realize how far Certain-teed paint goes when you see that only 10 gallons are needed for a barn like this (72'x34'). If you have a barn about this size, you can safely figure that about $18 worth of this paint will give it two good coats. On any other buildings needing paint we will be glad to give you estimates if you will bring in the measurements.

There is lasting satisfaction in using Certain-teed paint. It is made from the best ingredients and mixed thoroughly and accurately by machines. Every gallon measures up to the same high standard.

EDITORIAL

The hearts of our people have been stirred by the news of the terrible calamity which has befallen the Japanese people, and the response in money and materials has already commenced. We earnestly trust that Newton will do more than its full share and venture to suggest that residents of this city make their contributions through the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross, the announcement of which appears on our first page. Let's Go.

Once more we call attention of our district and superior court judges that the only effective remedy for convictions of operating an automobile under the influence of liquor, is a jail sentence.

The bill board men and the coal operators and miners are all in the same class—"the public be d—d."

90TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Margaret A. Goulding, widow of William H. Goulding, observed her ninetieth birthday on Sunday, September 2, 1923, at her home in West Newton. Mrs. Goulding was born in Concord, Mass., in 1833. Two years later she moved to Framingham, which was her home until she came to West Newton as a bride in 1854. She has made her home there ever since, living for many years with her daughter, Mrs. F. T. Burgess.

BRADY-LANERGAN

A very pretty wedding took place Sunday evening at the Church of Our Lady, when Miss Gertrude Alyce Brady, daughter of Thomas A. Brady of 18 Gay street, Newtonville, was united in marriage to John Francis Lanergan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander J. Lanergan of 144 Norwell street, Dorchester. Rev. Walter J. Roche performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a travelling gown of navy blue canton with hat to match. Miss Mary E. Mahoney who was maid of honor wore a gray canton gown with gray hat.

A reception at the Shore Gardens, Nantasket, followed the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Lanergan were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Joseph Hughes, a sister of the bride, Thomas A. Brady, the father of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Lanergan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lanergan left shortly after the reception for a trip to Maine, after which they will reside in Winthrop.

YOUR BUSINESS AND MINE

Anything which adds to the sum total of the individual's general fund of knowledge adds that much to his effectiveness as a citizen of his community, as well as to his own personal efficiency. One naturally wishes to learn all he can regarding his hobby. One must of necessity keep informed on matters pertaining to his own special daily work. The following books which have recently been added to the Newton Free Library will without doubt prove helpful for some of these three purposes:

Motor Car Mechanism W. E. Dommett
Automotive Manual for Laboratory and Repair Shop, Taylor and Blake
Electric Cranes and Hauling Machines, F. E. Chilton
A small book full of simple practical information and suggestions. Automotive Power Plants

Ben G. Elliott
Automobile Gasoline, its dangers and tests Augustus H. Gill Practical Optics for the Laboratory and Workshop B. K. Johnson
Elements of Radio Communication, a book for the engineer, amateur, student and layman

E. W. Stone (indexed)

Electrical Horology, Langman and Ball
A brief outline of the application of electricity to time-keeping or recording clocks and instruments. Fabrics and How to Know Them

Grace Goldena Denny
A book containing definitions of fabrics, practical textile tests, and classification of fabrics.

Vegetable Growing Projects, combining earning and learning

Ralph L. Watts
(A book giving practical instructions and suggestions with questions and answers, also pests and methods of combating them, as well as means of overcoming other common difficulties of the inexperienced farmer or gardener; includes index and schedules for planting)

Light and Color in Advertising and Merchandising, M. Luckiesh
An analysis of the relative effectiveness of advertising values of different shades of color.

The Child at Home, Cynthia Asquith
Essentially English in the atmosphere of child life described, but universal in its general appeal regarding the child age of all lands.

Richard Boeckel
An interesting statement of what laboring people and labor organizations are doing with the money they have to invest.

MCGRATH-O'CONNELL

The wedding of Miss Madeline E. O'Connell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. O'Connell of Cherry street and Ralph M. McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McGrath of 121 Chestnut street, Waltham, took place last Monday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William J. Dwyer, pastor of St. Bernard's Church. Following the ceremony a nuptial mass was read by Father Dwyer.

The bride made a striking picture in her wedding gown of white canton and lace and her embroidered tulle veil caught up with orange blossoms. She carried bride roses. Miss Isabel O'Connell, a sister of the bride was maid of honor, and was daintily gowned in peach canton crepe with silver trimmings. She wore a most becoming hat of peach brocade and carried bridesmaid roses. Willard Furlot of Waltham was best man and Joseph Ryan and William Roblee, Jr., of West Newton acted as ushers.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. McGrath were assisted in receiving by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. O'Connell, Mr. and Mrs. P. McGrath and Miss O'Connell and Mr. Furlot. A buffet breakfast was served to over eighty guests, after which the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to New Hampshire. On their return they will be at home at 9 Grant street, West Newton.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Charles L. Noyes late of Newton in said County, deceased. WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for probate, by Waldo Noyes who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him and Inez Curt Noyes the executors therein named, without giving a surety on their official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the nineteenth day of October A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, thirty days at least before said Court.

Witness, George E. Lawton, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of August in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three.

F. M. ESTY, Register.

AMERICAN CAMPAINE

THE records of past ages are authority for the fact that campanies or bell towers became very common in Italy and especially in Rome between the eighth and eleventh centuries. Almost everybody has at some time seen a picture of that famous old one of old St. Mark's Church in Venice.

On the other hand, campanies are rarely seen in the United States now-a-days and yet California boasts what is perhaps the most splendid example of a bell tower on the western hemisphere.

It is one of the most-pleasing and graceful architectural structures one can hope to look upon and is located in the grounds of the University of California, at Berkeley. The gift of a Mrs. Sater, it cost about $200,000, is 302 feet high, approximately 36 feet square and is constructed of California granite, with the exception of the pyramidal-shaped top-piece which is of white marble.

Within the tower is an immense clock and a chime of twelve beautifully-toned bells. These precious bells were safely transported through the submarine-infested waters of the Atlantic, on their journey from the old world, during the earlier days of the world war.

These bells, also the gift of Mrs. Sater, range in weight from 349 to 4,118 pounds. The tenor or largest bell carries the following inscription, written especially for the purpose by Professor Flag of the university:

"We ring, we chime, we toll;
Lend ye the silent part,
Some answer in the heart,
Some echo in the soul."

—Mr. W. K. Bryan has leased the Harding house at 25 Washington park.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. Wellman went on a motor trip to Maine over the holiday.

—Mr. Ernest H. Delesdernier of Lowell avenue is moving to 55 Wyoming road.

—Mr. Ralph W. Warren of Fountain street is on a business trip to the Pacific coast.

—Mr. William E. Emory and family of Otis street have moved to Worcester, Mass.

—Services at the Second Church will be resumed on Sunday. Dr. Park will be the preacher.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gibson of Highland street have returned from Brooksville, Maine.

—Miss Lucy Allen is expected home from three months of travel in Europe the middle of September.

—Mrs. Arthur E. Pearson and Miss Nella J. Pearson of Otis street are at Swampscott for a few weeks.

—Mrs. G. E. Peters, Jr., and children of Sterling street have returned from a visit at Clarksville, Tenn.

—The Boston Fruit and Flower Mission closes its work for the season on Tuesday, September 11th.

—Mr. Samuel Tower and family of Perkins street have returned from a summer stay at Narragansett, R. I.

—Rev. Paul S. Phalen preached at the Unitarian Church, Bar Harbor, Maine, on Sunday, September 2nd.

—Mrs. Sarah Warren and the Misses Warren of Otis street have returned from a summer at Bristol, N. H.

—Richard and Horace Cole of Somerset road return next week from a ten weeks' trip in England and the continent.

—Mr. Frank W. Remick has been invited by Governor Cox to serve as a member of the committee on Japanese relief.

—Rev. Paul S. Phalen and family will return on September 6th from their summer home at Prospect Harbor, Maine.

—The young ladies of the Misses Allen School all passed successfully their College Board Examinations for Eastern Colleges.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Gile and daughter, Miss Elinor of Barnstable road, sailed from London on August 25 for New York. They have been for the past three weeks, starts for home the end of the week. Mr. Wellman has recently been made a head director in the Fox Film Co. One of his pictures has been shown at the Modern Theatre in Boston last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid S. Tufts of Highland street returned last Saturday on the Samaria from a trip of nine weeks in Europe. Mr. Tufts is head of merchandising and a director of the Jordan Marsh Company. He inspected the offices of the company in France, Italy, Germany, Austria, Belgium and England. Germany, he said, now has but few American buyers. They are afraid to go there because of internal disorders. Austria, according to Mr. Tufts, was making a rapid recovery. The people were very busy and, because of the partial stabilization of currency, business is good. He found business good in France, but in England, on the other hand, he found it to be otherwise. In Germany, when the bottom fell out of the mark and exchange ranged into the millions for an American dollar, shopkeepers put up shutters and locked their doors.

MISS MCGILL IS PRESIDENT

Miss Margaret McGill, the new president of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston began her duties on Tuesday.

Miss McGill comes well prepared to take up the educational work of the Union, as she is a trustee of Mt. Holyoke College, and has been for many years at the head of the history department at the Newton Classical High School. This summer she has completed all requirements for her master's degree from the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Miss McGill's interest in educational subjects and her long experience in school work will bring an added stimulus to the Union's work in furnishing the school lunches and in vocational guidance.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Still Studying the Serious Traffic Problems in This City

The Board of Directors of the Newton Chamber held the first meeting of the new season on Friday, September 7, with a good attendance. Vice-President Leon B. Rogers was in the chair, with Vice-President George J. Martin presiding during the latter part of the session. Others present were Directors Joseph W. Bartlett, John H. Gordon, Henry D. Lloyd, Herbert E. Locke, George A. Schade, Thomas J. Sullivan, G. Wilbur Thompson and the Secretary.

The most important business was the revision and approval of the proposed traffic ordinance for Newton, prepared by a special committee from the Chamber including Henry D.

Lloyd, Chairman, Chief of Police Leonard F. Burke, Chief of the Fire Department Walter B. Randlett, Seat Commissioner George E. Stuart, and Henry W. Robbins of Waban. Much assistance was given this committee by Ex-Alderman Philip Nichols as legal advisor, while special committees from the various improvement associations of the city cooperated in formulating local regulations as to parking restrictions, one way streets, and other details.

The Chamber committee was appointed last winter to co-operate with a special Aldermanic committee of which Alderman George W. Geben-

A LONG SESSION

Aldermen Sit Until Nearly Midnight at First Meeting After the Summer Vacation

With a recess for committee meetings lasting about two hours there was good reason why the first Aldermanic meeting after the summer vacation, held last Monday night, lasted well towards midnight.

President Hollis presided and all the members but Aldermen Ball, G. W. Pratt, Tucker, Collins and Hick-ey were present.

There were the usual hearings on Edison and telephone poles, for keeping of gasoline and for various other things, most of which attracted but little public interest.

L. J. Heminway and a representative of W. W. Webber objected to Edison poles on Langley road unless placed on the opposite side of the street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Greenwood protested against any poles on Algonquin road, claiming it was the best lighted street in the city.

Dr. Paul favored Edison poles on Page road and a telephone protest was filed by S. R. Holmburg.

Stanley A. Smith favored taking land at Phillips street from the general residence district and placing it in the business district and Henry R. Brigham, acted the part of a dog in the manger and objected to the Smith petition unless the land he represented was also placed in the business district.

W. J. Frethy of the Bonelli-Adams Co. favored the laying out of Wauwinet road, Colbert road, east and Risley road, new streets thru the Wauwinet Farm property.

Every Third Generation Wears Overalls

As the twig is bent,
so will the tree grow

Wealth seems to travel in cycles, that is, the son of the laboring man, having been given greater advantages than his father, with a modest inheritance for a start, and with the habits of Thrift cultivated in his youth, is able to build up a competence that precludes the actual necessity of practicing economy. His son having had no financial responsibility or training, dissipates his father's fortune and is not able to replace it.

The third generation having neither capital nor training, goes back to "union-mades" to earn a living.

Thrift has its place in keeping a fortune as well as building it up.

There was a lively hearing on the proposition to regrade Linwood avenue under the betterment act. C. F.
York said there was a general agreement that present conditions on that avenue were a public nuisance and that the abutters ought not to be called upon to pay the bills. William Jones gave a graphic picture of conditions in that neighborhood which he said were a disgrace to the city.

He told about going to church one day and things were so bad that he was "mad." A. J. Horrikan told about troubles in regard to the sidewalk and with John C. O'Rourke protested against any betterments. Later in the session the board voted no action necessary, after Alderman Young had stated that the Street Commissioner would fix the matter of drainage about which the complaint centered.

No one appeared on Edison poles on Waltham street, Grasmere street, Mt.
Vernon street, on gasoline permits for W. P. Leavitt Sons Co., Pearl street, and The Boston Ice Co., Boylston street, on sewers in Oakland avenue, Evergreen avenue, Pigeon Hill road and Indiana terrace, and on laying out of Tarleton road.

Mayor Childs sent in petition of Newton City Employees Local that night watchman at City Hall be granted two days' leave of absence each month, that $768.37 be voted for back pay for Annette V. Bryson, that $7500 be voted for new hydrants, for $3500 for playground maintenance, $1500 for work on power plant, $300 for office expenses and $350 for clerk in Buildings Dept., and for additional money to complete sewers in Allen avenue and Lothrop street.

Street Commissioner Stuart sent in schedules of assessments for street sprinkling, for moth work, for various sewer house connections, all of which were approved. He also reported the cost of work on Applegarth street as $1449.58.

An acknowledgment was received from Mrs. Harding for the resolution recently adopted on the death of the President.

The board adjourned at 11.30 P. M.

THE STREET RAILWAY SITUATION

It is expected that evidence in the dispute between the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company and its employees will be completed this week.

Wednesday at the meeting of the arbitration board held in the committee room at the Kimball Building, James H. Vahey, counsel for the carmen, closed the evidence for his side.

William T. Egan, president of the Carmen's Union, first to take the stand yesterday, declared that the wages received by the motormen and conductors on the Middlesex and Boston were inadequate to meet living conditions.

Pres. Pitt F. Drew, who is representing the company on the board, presented tabulations showing earnings of the company, mileage rates, costs, expenditures, etc. Frank Frykstrand, treasurer of the company, who made the tabulations, testified to their authenticity and during cross examination by Mr. Vahey admitted that the company is in better financial condition in every way today than three years ago.

A questionnaire will be sent to each man employed asking how much he pays for rent, if he owns his home, how much he paid for it, if there is any mortgage on it, how many there are in his family, how many are earning, if he owns an automobile, how much he paid for it and if it is paid for.

Charles H. Donahue, neutral member and chairman of the board, thought that this plan would help to show existing conditions, better than if certain individuals were picked.

DIES SUDDENLY

Mr. Henry W. Harris of 292 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, died suddenly of heart failure on Sunday while playing golf on the Marlon Golf Club links.

He was born Sept. 13, 1871, at Flushing, L. I., the son of Charles Morgan Harris and Mrs. Emma (Hitch) Harris. He prepared for college at King's School, Stamford, Conn., and was in the class of 1895 at Yale. He was a member of Wolf's Head and other societies. In 1896
Mr. Harris won the New York Yacht Club cruise with his schooner Quissetta.

On Feb. 3, 1896, he married Miss Mabel Hovey, daughter of the late William Alfred Hovey of Boston, who survives him.

Mr. Harris is also survived by three sons, Henry W. Harris, Jr., of the Boston Globe, Morgan Hovey Harris and William Charles Harris; by his mother, Mrs. Emma Hitch Harris-Ryan of East Orange, N. J., and by two sisters, Mrs. James G. Marshall of New York and Mrs. Franklin W.
Fort of East Orange, N. J.

In business Mr. Harris was at different times connected with George B. Poole in insurance and real estate, and with Swasey, Raymond & Page, yacht designers. From 1914 to 1921
he was with the Texas Traction Company at Fort Worth, Tex. For the past three years he has been with Stone & Webster, Inc., at Boston.

Funeral services were held at the Church of the Redeemer, Chestnut Hill, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Lucian
W. Rogers, rector of the parish, officiated. The ushers were Arthur S.
Hood, A. T. Bradlee, Frank W. Hallowell, Barclay Tilton, Franklin King and Richard Harte, all of Chestnut Hill, and Edward Hutton of Milton.
Burial was at Mount Auburn.

EXCELSIOR!

ON August 29 Edison Service, climbing steadily up the grade of progress with its community, reached a new level.

On that date the load connected to the Edison system equaled 500,000 kilowatts, or 671,000 horsepower.

Five hundred thousand kilowatts would light ten 50 candle-power lamps (bulbs) in each of one million homes.

Or, 500,000 kilowatts would light a continuous line of such lampset twenty inches apart on every street in the territory served by Edison Light.

Or, 500,000 kilowatts would light a continuous line of such lamps, eighteen inches apart, from Boston to San Francisco.

TIME flies. A community like ours is on the march. In January, 1895, there was a great celebration in Edison Service because it had reached a record of connected load equal to 100,000 lamps of 16 candle-power each.

Today the 500,000 kilowatts will light ten million lamps of 50 candle-power each.

There's a thrill, of course, but no undue elation. For in the years between we have learned that Edison Service grows not only by,
and for, but especially with its community.

tain is chairman, and assist as far as possible in devising the best possible traffic ordinance for the city of Newton. Through an agreement between the two committees, the Chamber undertook to prepare the first draft of the proposed ordinance. This has been a task involving much detail and has made necessary an extended series of meetings. These have been attended by Mr. Nichols, as legal advisor, who subsequently revised the ordinance as to the proper legal phraseology, after its completion by the committee.

At one meeting the presidents of the several improvement associations, with representative citizens from the two or three villages which do not have organizations of that character, were in attendance upon invitation of the Chamber committee. Various communications have also been received from local organizations and many interested citizens, all of which have been given careful consideration by the Chamber committee and turned over to the Aldermanic committee. Such further consideration as may be deemed necessary by that body.

The specimen ordinance prepared by the Chamber committee was studied and its various provisions considered in detail by the Chamber Directors at their meeting of last week and, after minor changes, was approved by the Board and the secretary instructed to turn over the specimen ordinance, and accompanying material, to the Aldermanic committee.

In authorizing the appointment of a special committee to assist the Aldermanic committee, it was not assumed that the Chamber would provide the city with the perfected ordinance, but rather that could be of material assistance in ascertaining the needs of the police and fire departments and the opinions and desires of the people of the various sections of the city in regard to proper traffic regulation. In submitting the result of their deliberations and labors, both the special Chamber committee and the Board of Directors are confident that they have covered most of the important points and have given the Aldermanic committee a tentative form of ordinance that will greatly simplify the work of the latter committee and which, after such revision and modification as may seem necessary to that group, can be recommended to the Aldermanic Board as a whole for adoption.

Handy Book For Autoists

"What You Need to Know to Drive in New England" is the title of a little sixteen page booklet recently issued by the Safe Roads Federation of Massachusetts, of which Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin is president. This gives a brief digest of the various laws of the six New England states applying to automobile traffic explains the road signs, defines the popular automobile routes and their markings, lists the freak and unusual peculiarities of local traffic regulations of New England cities, and explains the recognized signals to be used by drivers, and gives much other useful information as well as including a small road map of Central New England. The Newton Chamber of Commerce has secured an allotment of five hundred of these little booklets and has placed them in several of the local garages for distribution in Newton. There are also a few copies which will be mailed by the Chamber, upon request, to Newton citizens, until the supply is exhausted. The Chamber telephone number is Newton North 0477.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

It is an unusual thing to find two pictures on the same program, each dealing with an important member of the family, one the mother and the other the mother-in-law, the pictures entirely different in character yet alike in that they bring forcibly to mind the trials, joys and sorrows which come to them in making the world's people fit companionable human beings.

The Paramount picture "The Silent Partner" starring Leatrice Joy, Robert Edeson and Owen Moore is an adaptation of the Saturday Evening Post serial story by Maximilian Foster, a most satisfying drama dealing with the story of a young couple who suddenly achieve wealth which is quickly lost by the husband who learns that his wife is "The Silent Partner" in the true sense of the word. There are many dramatic incidents and the ending happy for everyone. Mothers-In-Law is adapted from the appealing story by Frank Dazy and Agnes Christine Johnston.

The program for the last three days of the week includes the Paramount picture "Glimpses of the Moon" with Bebe Daniels, Nita Naldi and David Powell also the popular out of door comedian Hoot Gibson in "Blinky."

POLICE COURT

Charles C. Lanza, of 472 Talbot avenue, Dorchester, was in court Wednesday morning, before Judge Allen, on the charge of failing to slow down and give a timely signal at an intersecting street. He was arrested by motorcycle officer Goddard. Judge Allen imposed a fine of $15; appealed.

Henry J. Stein of 31 Holborn street, Roxbury, arrested by patrolman Maguire on charges of failing to stop when signalled by an officer in uniform, and operating an automobile at an excessive rate of speed, was fined by Judge Allen $25 and $10.

DEATH OF MR. HARDY

George Franklin Hardy of Newton died suddenly Sunday, September 9, at York Harbor, Maine, where he was spending the summer to regain his health.

Mr. Hardy was born in Boston, August 19, 1863, the son of Captain John Hardy, a member of an old Scottish family and Charlotte Trask of old New England ancestry.

He spent several years of his early boyhood on his father's sailing vessel, touching at many ports of the world. Afterwards he attended the Newton Schools. Later he went to Azua, Santo Domingo, where his father was United States Consul and a sugar planter. Mr. Hardy was assistant manager of the sugar plantation and Acting Consul in his father's absence.

Returning to Boston he was with the Clyde Steamship Company for a time and later employment manager of the Walworth Manufacturing Company, South Boston. During the World War he served in the same capacity with the United States Carttridge Company at Lowell.

Mr. Hardy was a charter member of the Employment Managers' Association, of Boston, the first society of its kind in the United States.

He is survived by a widow, who was Miss Nancy Fuller of Hingham, a daughter, Mrs. Henry F. Brander of Arlington, three sons, Gresham George Hardy of Watertown, John Grey Hardy and Philip de Carteret Hardy, both of Newton, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at the Newton Cemetery Chapel and Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, officiated.

NEW SECRETARY

Mr. Harry R. Howe, for the past two years assistant to Superintendent of Schools U. G. Wheeler, has been elected secretary of the School Committee in place of Miss Nellie B. Thomas, resigned.

Mr. Howe will combine the new duties with his former work.

BODFISH-PALMER

The wedding of Miss Marjorie Cushing Palmer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving O. Palmer of Highland avenue, Newtonville, and Mr. Robert W. Bodfish of Palmer, took place last Saturday evening at Central Church, Newtonville, the pastor, Rev. M. H. Lichtner, performing the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Miss Ruby B. Litchfield as maid of honor. The four bridesmaids were Miss Mary Spaulding of Cleveland, a graduate of Western Reserve University; Miss Laura M. Herrick of Leeds, Me., a cousin and Bates College graduate; Miss Carolyn S. Heath of Manchester, N. H., and Miss Miranda E. Brooks of York, Me., the latter two Wheaton classmates of the bride.

Morris E. Dry of New York city, a Harvard Law graduate, and classmate of the bridegroom, was the best man. The four ushers were Messrs. Archibald W. Mitchell of Worcester, a Harvard Law classmate of the bridegroom; Morrill P. Josselyn of New York city, a cousin of the bride, and a graduate of Brown University; Walter N. Davis and Henry L. Signor of Worcester, both graduates of Clark University, and fraternity brothers of the bridegroom.

Proceeding the ceremony, there was a musical program at which Miss Isabelle B. Blake, instructor of psychology and education at Wheaton College, was the soloist, Miss Mary J. Tracy of the Children's Aid Association was the violinist, and Miss Lillian West, the organist. A reception for the bridal party, relatives and intimate friends followed in the church parlors.

After her graduation from Wheaton College in 1920 and a year's study at the New York School of Social Work, Miss Palmer worked as investigator for the Boston Society for the Care of Girls. Upon graduation from Clark University in 1917, Mr. Bodfish spent two years with the United States Army Ambulance Service in France and Germany. He was graduated from the Harvard Law School in June, 1922, and since that time has been practising law in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Bodfish will reside at

A Little Talk On Courtesy

By THE VETERAN MOTORIST

EVERY motorist who prides himself on being a better-than-average driver knows how important the matter of courtesy is. A whole flock of seemingly little things distinguish really good drivers from only average or fair ones.

Consideration for pedestrians, especially those on the sidewalk, is one of those little things. How often you see a driver go breezing up close to the curb full speed right through a puddle of water. He could have avoided it: But no, he has that darned, "don't care" habit, and a woman has a new dress or expensive cleaning job to pay for. I don't get sore very often. But that particular kind of thoughtlessness always gives me a sharp pain under the collar.

It doesn't cost a red cent to be courteous, and it pays big in the self-respect you get out of it—always.

IN NEW OFFICES

Mr. Simon Lustig, for forty years in the Optical business and who for the past fifteen years has been located at the Houghton and Dutton department store, has taken larger offices at the New Studio Building, room 410, 110 Tremont street, where there has been installed everything new and up-to-date with the very latest equipment.
During his stay at Houghton and Dutton Company, he was associated with his son.
His knowledge was derived from the late Dr. John Morgan, famous Boston eye specialist. He also comes from a family long connected with the Optical business, his father, uncle and grandfather being in the same line.
During his long connection with the business Mr. Lustig has catered to over twenty-thousand satisfied customers.
The new commodious quarters in which Mr. Lustig and his son are now situated have no superior in Boston, and they shall endeavor to please and satisfy their patrons more than ever before.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN DIES

Mr. Thomas Pickthall, a resident of this city for the past 53 years, died last Sunday at his home on Court street, Newtonville.
Mr. Pickthall was born in Boston and was 79 years of age. For many years he was engaged in business here as a painter.
Mr. Pickthall served in the Civil War in both the Army and Navy, listing in the 42nd Massachusetts regiment for 100 days and followed that with a year on the gunboat "Hunchback." He was an active member and a past commander of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R. Funeral services were held at his late home on Wednesday morning, Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure of Grace Church officiating and the burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

NEW ADDRESS

The Newton Welfare Bureau, Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross and The Newton Central Council have removed their offices from 206 Walnut street to 12 Austin street, Newtonville.
This is the beginning of the central building to house some of the philanthropic agencies of all the Newtons.
Telephone numbers remain unchanged: Newton Welfare Bureau, Newton 0433; Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, Newton North 2717; Newton Central Council, Newton North 2717.
It is hoped that within a short time several other organizations will occupy rooms in this building.
We hope to print in an early number of the Graphic a complete description of this house and its activities.

—Mr. S. D. Smith has purchased and will occupy the new house at 30 Hamlin road.
—Mr. H. G. Mitchell is moving this week to his recently purchased house, 21 Nathan road.
—Richard Vaughn of Parker street left this week for Andover, Mass., where he will enter Phillips Andover Academy.
—The Sunday School of the Methodist Episcopal Church will open Sunday under the supervision of the new Director of Religious Education, Mr. Fred Buschmeir of Los Angeles, California.
—Mr. Edward A. Doherty announces the opening of an undertaking establishment at 47 Union street, Newton Centre. Mr. Doherty has had a number of years' experience in this work and is well equipped for the very best of service.
—Mr. Augustus White is recovering from a serious and painful accident received some eight weeks ago when he was hit on the head by a golf ball while playing at the Sandy Burr Country Club in Wayland. Mr. White has recently left the hospital and returned to his home on Nobscott road.
—The steering gear of a car owned by Grace C. Dean of Brookline, and operated by Maurice J. Hart of Boston, broke while the car was on Beacon street at Lake avenue last Monday, and the car struck a tree. The automobile was wrecked and the driver was slightly hurt. Dr. James L. Huntington of 311 Marlboro street, Boston, stopped and rendered first aid.

—Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. White of 100 Summer street, Watertown, of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary E. White, to James A. MacDonald of this village, on Sept. 2, at St. Patrick's Church, Watertown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Duffy. After a trip to Canada, Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald will be at home at 138 Main street, Watertown, after Oct. 1.
—Mr. John E. Furdon, a well-known plumber in this village, was taken suddenly ill with a stroke of apoplexy while in his shop on Union street last Saturday and died a short time after being taken to his home on Walnut street in the police ambulance. He was 53 years of age and a life long resident of this city. He is survived by his widow and two children. A requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. James F. Haney in the Church of the Sacred Heart on Monday morning and the burial was in Calvary cemetery, Waltham.
—The Newton Centre Unitarian Church resumed its work and public services last Sunday. The Church School also held its first session. On Sunday, Sept. 16, the minister, Rev. George Lawrence Parker, will make full report of the Unitarian Conference now in session at New Haven. This conference has several interesting features. It is being held for the first time in the precincts of Yale University in whose buildings the meetings will be conducted. The delegates will have living quarters in the college dormitories. Dean Brown of Yale will be one of the chief speakers. All of this gives an interest beyond that of the usual conference. Another notable fact is that this conference will change the representation basis, making the future policy of the entire Unitarian body more democratic than heretofore and more truly representative of all the Unitarian churches.

GOOD WORK

Two men accused of violating the automobile laws were given jail sentences last Friday by Judge Thomas Weaver, in the Newton Court, and both appealed. Francis C. Ennis of Newton Centre was convicted of operating in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He was given a sentence of thirty days and also fined $100. Two weeks ago his motor car, on which the lights were alleged to be defective, struck and severely injured a woman. George Spencer of Natick was given fifteen days in the House of Correction for driving while under the influence of liquor.

EDEN—ALDERMAN

At the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, Saturday evening, Sept. 8th, the marriage of Miss Bernice Helen Alderman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Alderman of Washington, D.C., and Mr. Percy Edward Eden, son of Mrs. Ellen Eden of Newton, took place with Rev. Newton A. Merritt, pastor officiating. The bride is a graduate of Wellesley College, class of 1918, and the groom is a graduate of Bryant & Stratton School of Business.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Albert Douglas of Newton was best man and the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Florence M. Alderman as maid of honor. The other attendants were Miss Mildred Winchester and Miss Pauline Winchester of Holliston, Mass., Miss Elizabeth Eden of Newton, and Miss Dorothy Thompson of Worcester, Mass. The ushers were Frank W. Meakin, Cecil M. Leacy and Harold Secord of Newton and Leon Alderman of Beverly.

The bride wore white crepe georgette combined with tulle veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet. The maid of honor wore pale blue georgette and carried pink roses. The other attendants wore pastel shades of georgette and their bouquets were opelia roses and larkspur.

Mr. Frank W. Meakin rendered vocal selections before the ceremony and during the reception. The wedding music was furnished by Mr. Sheppard, organist of the church.

A reception followed in the church parlors for the family and immediate friends. Guests were present from Holliston, Beverly, Springfield, Worcester, Washington, D.C., New York City, and Portland, Maine.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. After an extended trip Mr. and Mrs. Eden will make their home in Boston.

CELEBRATES NEW RECORD

Four thousand people, employees of The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, and their guests, among whom were city and town officials, in the territory served by the Company, celebrated another of the company's record breaking achievements in its growth Wednesday night, at the Recreation Grounds of the company 1165 Massachusetts avenue, Dorchester.

The celebration, unusual and most spectacular in its illumination effects and special features, was in observance of the reaching by the company on August 29th of a connected load of 500,000 kilowatts.

That figure in itself means nothing to the layman, but 500,000 kilowatts, if used all at once, would furnish light for ten 50 candle-power lamps in each of 1,000,000 homes, or it would light a continuous line of such lamps set 18 inches apart on both sides of a roadway from Boston to San Francisco.

This record is another indication that the company's business grows with Greater Boston.

The 25 acres of the Massachusetts Avenue grounds were a blaze of light in all colors of the rainbow; shooting in great shafts into the sky with a brilliance that attracted thousands of spectators from miles around, flooding the buildings with ever changing color and transforming the entire area into a glorious riot of beauty.

The street in front of the main gate was illuminated by two giant flood lights in order that traffic could be properly controlled.

The American and Edison flags were illuminated by 4-500 watt flood lamps. All street lamps on Massachusetts avenue were increased in size from 400 to 600 watts and many of them were colored.

The sunken garden in front of the Welfare buildings was illuminated by 24-500 watt flood lamps placed on the Laboratory building roof and on poles at different points.

On the Restaurant building and on the Library building 14-500 watt lamps were arranged to illuminate the tennis court, where the dancing went on throughout the evening.

On the Locker building there was a 3 kw. flashing sign consisting of 4 foot letters reading "500,000 Kilowatts". This flashed one numeral at a time and, on the rear roof of the Locker building there were 10-500 watt flood lamps with colored screens giving a fan-shaped lighting effect in the sky.

The porches of the three Recreation buildings were festooned with 1500-15 watt colored lamps.

As the people entered the grounds, they were given attractive lapel buttons reading "500,000 K. W.; August 29, 1923; Let's Double It!" and as they left the grounds, they were given attractive brochures specially prepared for the occasion giving the history of the company's growth year by year from its incorporation in December, 1886, to the present time.

The observance was under the immediate direction of the Employees Club with the President, L. H. Howe, as Chairman, L. L. Edgar, Assistant General Superintendent, as Vice-Chairman, and a committee which included Messrs. L. D. Gibbs and C. E. Greenwood of this city.

At the further end of the tennis court was placed the famous 30 kw. 100,000 c. p. Mazda lamp designed for Maude Adams by the Research Laboratory of the General Electric Company. This lamp is so large as to require an amount of current necessary to operate a 50 h. p. motor and gives as much light as all the street lamps on Boylston street between Park square and Copley square. A special high tension line was necessary to operate this lamp and various rheostats in order to properly control the current.

The total illumination was estimated at 47,000,000 beam candle power.

NARROW ESCAPE

Edward McCourt of Watertown, driver for the Garden City Laundry, narrowly escaped fatal injuries Saturday when the truck which he was driving hit a tree on Crafts street, Newtonville, and turned over. The top was crushed and both wheels on the right side were ripped off. McCourt received a severe gash on his head and lacerations of the hip. He was taken to the Waltham Hospital by Joseph Doherty of Commonwealth avenue, Allston.

LAND COURT

Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, a religious corporation located in Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Howard P. Converse and Emily F. Wright, of said Newton; Olin F. Herrick, of Framingham, in said County of Middlesex; Miles P. Barrows, of Brockton, in the County of Plymouth and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court by Ada E. Balsor, of Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Southeasterly by Hancock Street, 67.90 feet; Southwesterly by land now or formerly of Emily F. Wright, on three lines, 91.70 feet, 41.70 feet and 21.20 feet, respectively; Northwesterly by land now or formerly of Centenary M. E. Church, 52.95 feet; and Northeasterly by land now or formerly of Ada E. Balsor, 146.34 feet.

Petitioner claims as appurtenant to the above described land a right of way over a driveway on the Southwest side of said land, and petitioner admits rights of way in said driveway in favor of Emily F. Wright.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the first day of October, A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

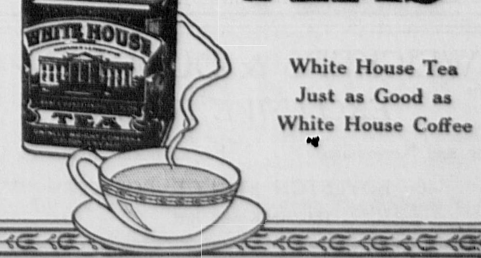

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of August, in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-three.

Attest with Seal of said Court. [Seal.] CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—Nothing in the way of a drama has been presented in recent years, if at any time, that could equal "The Cat and the Canary," now being played at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, for intensity of interest and excitement. It is the kind of a plan that everyone with good red blood in his veins will enjoy. The story is full of action that keeps one's interest fixed from the start to the finish. It had been described by those who have seen it as the most thrilling drama written in our time.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—"Nice People" which enjoyed a run of one year on Broadway and was at the Hollis last season, will be offered by the Boston Stock Company at the St. James this week.

Rachel Crothers, the authoress, has succeeded in blending together in "Nice People," a well-bred proportion of undiluted fun and touches of the heart stuff that we all of us like in our plays.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CHANGES

Captain Walter B. Randlett of the Newton Fire Department has made the following transfers in the department: Capt. Herbert W. Boothby of Hose Company 6, Newton Lower Falls, has been transferred to Engine 1, Newton Corner; Hoseman John E. Corcoran of Engine 1 has been transferred to Hose 6 in the Lower Falls. Lieut. Fred A. Perkins, who since his appointment has been stationed at Hose 6, is now in charge of this fire station.

SHUBERT THEATRE—The four Marx brothers, stars of "I'll Say She Is," which is presented at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, for a limited engagement, come by their talent honestly, and their success and prominence is the result of many years of hard work. No muchroom growth is their popularity, despite the fact that as full-fledged stars they are all on the sunny side of thirty. They are supported by a brilliant company of comedians, dancers and girls of startling beauty, all in a gorgeous production as to scenes and costumes.

States should be able to get along with neither institutions for the feeble minded nor that so many of that class are behind steering-wheels.

HOW NEWTON IS GOVERNED

Some Interesting Facts About the Various Departments of the City by J. C. Brimblecom

The business affairs of the city of Newton are in the hands of a mayor and board of aldermen, with the school committee as a semi-independent body in exclusive charge of educational matters.

The duties of the mayor are almost entirely confined to the initiation of policies, and to the supervision of the executive departments, and it is hardly possible to describe his functions in detail in a newspaper article. He is elected for a term of two years, and is also a member of the school committee.

The board of aldermen is composed of twenty-one men, elected three from each ward, one being elected annually by the voters of that ward, and two being elected on alternate years for two years each, by the entire city. The board organizes on the first day of January by the choice of a president and a vice-president. It also elects a city treasurer each year, and the city clerk and comptroller of accounts for terms of three years each. The aldermen also have the power of confirmation over most of the appointments made by the mayor.

The work of the board is performed by committees, usually appointed by the president at the beginning of the year. There are three principal committees, Finance, Public Works, and Franchises and Licenses, consisting of seven members each, one being appointed from each ward, thus giving each member an opportunity for work on at least one good committee. There is also a committee on Public Buildings of seven members, a committee on Claims and Rules of five members, (Continued on page 4)

CITY WATER

For about the first time in the history of the Water department, the Metropolitan Water Works has been called upon to supply water in addition to what is obtained from the usual source.

Newton obtains its water from driven wells in Needham adjoining the Charles river. The water is drafted by pumps and forced into the water mains and water not used in the mains finds its way to the covered reservoir on Waban hill.

This summer has been unusually dry, but little rain falling for about four months, and in consequence the pumps are now taking water some three or four feet below the usual level—a fact which probably accounts for the slight earthy taste in the water at the present time.

To help out on the supply Water Commissioner Whitney has obtained water from the Metropolitan system, a much softer water than that from the driven wells, and this water undoubtedly accounts for the slight color in the supply.

About four millions gallons were taken last week and six million gallons will probably be taken this week from the Metropolitan system.

ONLY FINED

Kennicut Wentworth of 21 Carleton street, Brookline, was in the Newton District Court Wednesday morning, before Judge Connolly, charged with being drunk and with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested Tuesday night by patrolman Thomas. Wentworth was found guilty. The drunk charge was filed and he was fined $100 for operating while under the influence.

QUOTA EXCEEDED

Mr. John W. Estabrook, the treasurer of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross reports this morning that Newton has gone well over its quota of $7000 for the Japanese Relief Fund. The total this morning amounts to $7,632.59.

In addition to the contributions of $5,975.09 reported last week, Mr. Estabrook has received the following:

$250 Mrs. R. M. Saltonstall, the Auburndale Committee for Allied War Relief, Guy M. Winslow, Treasurer.
$100 George M. Angier.
$50 Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Carter.
$25 Newton Highlands Church (additional), Charles E. Townsend, Nancy D. Adams, James A. Lowell, Franklin Estabrook, Edgar T. Ward, Chas. L. Smith, Second Church (additional), J. Franklin Fuller, Newton Centre Woman's Club, Elizabeth P. Bartlett, treasurer, Guy M. Winslow, Miss Anne M. Young.

Other contributors included: J. Preston Rice, T. Cabot, Edith Gammons, Belfast, Me., James Liggett Baldwin, Charles Whittemore, Sr., Marie H. Wallace, J. Morgan, T. W. Ness, Edward P. Crowe, R. E. Argensinger, Mrs. Florence G. Moore, Leopold Gruener, Francis L. Nickerson, F. M. Burdell, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Shepherd, Sarah E. Eaves, Waldo W. Webber, A. D. Becker, Louise and J. L. Jellison, C. A. Donovan, Herman Holt, Jr., Mrs. Martha H. Tucker, Maurice S. Stevens, Charles D. Cabot, A. A. Smith, Arthur E. Snyder, Mrs. A. W. Phillips, S. M. Muegan, John Proctor, Jennie C. Webber, Tyler K. Holmes, Mrs. W. F. Bartholomew. (Continued on page 4)

GIRL SCOUTS

Camp Mary Day which opened on July 23 for its 51 weeks camp, closed on Saturday, September 8th after a very successful summer. Eighty-seven Scouts had an opportunity to enjoy the camp during that time. Of these 71 stayed one week—14 were there for two weeks, and 2 were able to stay three weeks.

Fifteen Scouts could be accommodated at the camp each week. Three large tents housed them—five in each tent—and each group wormed a patrol. Excepting for the cooking all the work at camp was done by the girls in these patrols. The Bluebirds, the Tanagers and the Robins, worked, played and lived up to the Girl Scouts' Promise and Laws in the hopes that their tent might be awarded the highest mark possible at the Court of Honor which was held each morning and that their bird would have flown the farthest along the wall of the Camp House by the end of the week.

Six Councillors could be accommodated at camp and the Director, making a total of twenty-two, although by using hammocks, the number was once stretched to twenty-four persons.

THRU THE EMPIRE STATE

From Niagara to Manhattan with the National Editorial Association

The travel tour, which always accompanies the annual meetings of the National Editorial Association, was held this year in the great state of New York.

We in the East have been so accustomed to the thought that all the grand scenery of the country was in the West, that it was a revelation to me, certainly, and I think to many other members of that Association, (composed of editors of the weekly and smaller dailies of the country) to see the variety and extent of national wonders with which the Empire state has been blessed.

When one stops to realize that between the majestic and nature made wonder of Niagara Falls and the man made wonder of New York City, there are such places as the Thousand Islands, the Adirondacks, the Ausable Chasm, Lake George, Saratoga Springs and the beauties of that Rhine of America, the Lordly Hudson river, the resources of the state can be somewhat appreciated.

With such a wealth of nature and wealth of man, New York is well termed the Empire state of the Union. While not so large as many of the states, having a little less than 50,000 square miles of territory, New York is first in population, with about 10% of the entire country within its borders. It is also interesting to learn that about 25% of the area of the state is in the Adirondacks wilderness of mountains and lakes, and it is said, although I have not verified the fact, that the Adirondack region has a (Continued on page 4)

Service

The Service of a modern funeral director is founded on a large fund of new scientific knowledge. It is backed up with facilities that provide for every possible requirement.

We have made this question of Service a life study. In your time of need we understand just what to do in the way that makes the last tribute a comforting memory.
Our well equipped establishment at Newtonville with our corps of especially trained assistants make it possible for us to give this Service.

Every Third Generation Wears Overalls

As the twig is bent,
so will the tree grow

Wealth seems to travel in cycles, that is, the son of the laboring man, having been given greater advantages than his father, with a modest inheritance for a start, and with the habits of Thrift cultivated in his youth, is able to build up a competence that precludes the actual necessity of practicing economy. His son having had no financial responsibility or training, dissipates his father's fortune and is not able to replace it.

The third generation having neither capital nor training, goes back to "union-mades"
to earn a living.

Thrift has its place in keeping a fortune as well as building it up.

Start the child right. These lessons should be his first.

work, bedmaking, First Aid, map making, hiking, rest hour, games, basketry weaving, "Retreat" and the evening camp fire made up the day's program and the girls were always ready to fall asleep after a glorious day all out of doors—when "Taps" was played at nine o'clock.

The night before each encampment went home the girls and officers voted for the Scout who had shown the best Camp Spirit during the week's stay. The six girls who were awarded the Camp Spirit Badges were:

Ruth Lord, Troop 1, the First Encampment.
Elizabeth Meara, Troop 7, the Second Encampment.
Agnes Hartredge, Troop 5, the Third Encampment.
Elizabeth Wildman, Troop 7, the Fourth Encampment.
Betty Blacker, Troop 1, the Fifth Encampment.

Muriel MacClelland, Troop 3, Seniors, the Sixth Encampment.
Miss Charlotte Hall, a senior at the Bridgewater Normal School was the Recreation Councilor for the summer and Miss Elsie Holt, a senior in Newton Vocational High School had charge of the cooking.

Miss Marion Clapp, Miss Margaret Arnold and Miss Edith May, all of Brookline, acted as Councilors, also Miss Miriam Blanchard of West Newton.

The Newton officers who acted as Councilors and assisted the Director for periods of from one to four weeks were:

Miss Isabel Skipwith, Lieutenant in Troop 1; Miss Doris Lovell, Captain of Troop 7; Miss Margaret Gould, Miss Dorothy Colby, Miss Dorothy Fairbrother, all Lieutenants of Troop 7; Miss Eleanor Hall, Lieutenant of Troop 5 and Miss Katherine White, Lieutenant in Troop 2.

Camp will be open "week ends" until the middle of October for the use of groups of Scouts from different Troops. Scouts and friends of the Scouts will be welcome on Sunday afternoons.

Now that school has opened and the Scouts have come home from their summer vacations the Troops are starting their weekly meetings. Troop 11, the Newton Highlands Troop, held its first meeting last Monday and Troop 5, West Newton, will have its first meeting next week Tuesday. The other Troops will begin shortly and by the first of October the winter's program will be well begun.

FAIRWEATHER-CLARK

On Saturday last Miss Rebekah Eaton Clark, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clark of Allston, was married at the First Church, Newton Centre, to Mr. Edwin W. Fairweather of Lowell avenue, Newtonville, Rev. Edward M. Noyes, of the First Church, Newton Centre, performing the ceremony.

Miss Beatrice Clark of Allston, was the maid of honor, and Miss Doris Felton of Chestnut Hill, Miss Helen Nathan, Miss Charlotte Rowe, Miss May Louise Curtis and Miss Virginia Van Dusen of Newton Centre, and Miss Edith McDonald of Brookline were the bridesmaids.

The gown of the bride was of white moire crepe, and of the maid of honor of rose taffeta, while those of the bridesmaids were of different shades of taffeta.

The best man was Mr. Howard Fairweather of Newtonville, and the ushers were Donald Fairweather of Newtonville, Edward Fairweather of Allston, Sydney Holden and Payson Jones of Newton Centre, and E. J. Daugherty of Brookline.

A reception at 219 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, followed the ceremony at the church.

After a wedding trip through Maine and New Hampshire, Mr. and Mrs. Fairweather will make their home in Brookline.

BREED-LAKE

A recent wedding was that of Mr. William Mitchell Breed, Jr., of Newton Centre and Miss Marjorie L. Lake, which took place at Denver, Col., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Burgess.

Mrs. Robert F. Lamberton, a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Alice Hale, was the bridesmaid. Rev. Alfred G. Harrison performed the ceremony and the brother of the bride, Willett R. Lake, acted as best man. Two attendants of the bridegroom were Ralph L. Burgess and James H. Cowles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Lake, of Central City, Colo. She received her B. S. degree from Columbia University. She has since then been house director and dietitian at the Emma Willard School, Troy, N. Y. The bridegroom is a resident of Newton Centre. He was of the class of 1914 at Harvard and is now in business in Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Breed will be at home after their wedding trip at 5 Goodwin place, Boston.

UPHOLD THE CONSTITUTION

Hon. J. Weston Allen will have the hearty commendation of every law-abiding citizen in the sentiment expressed in the following words:

"The defiant attitude of the law breaker is a challenge to the American people. The man who says he will obey the laws which he approves and will disregard the laws that do not please him, is not 100 per cent American. The hip-pocket guardians of liberty and defenders of the constitution are teaching the doctrine of qualified allegiance. The Minute Men of '76 carried powder flasks—not whiskey flasks. The man who upholds the constitution must uphold the whole of it."

NEWTON PAYS $10,000

The full bench of the supreme court has affirmed the apportionment of the cost of building the bridge on Auburn street, Newton, over the tracks of the Boston & Albany. The total cost was found to be $46,615, and the costs were apportioned $5000 to the county of Middlesex, $10,000 to the city of Newton, $31,615 to the Boston & Albany.

WILSON-CORDINGLY

Monday, was the wedding day of Miss Harriet Cordingley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Cordingley of Chestnut Hill. On that day she became the bride of Rev. Charles Chase Wilson, pastor of St. Stephen's Church, Cohasset.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop Lawrence, assisted by the Rev. Lucian W. Rogers, rector of the Church of the Redeemer where the ceremony was held.

Miss Cordingley wore a gown of lustrous white satin with a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms, and carried lilies of the valley.

Her attendants were Miss Mildred Rogers, maid of honor; Miss Margaret Dowse and Mrs. John Farwell Howe of Boston; Miss Marion Chidsey of West Newton; Miss Guinevere Knott of Cohasset; and Mrs. Samuel D. Stevens of Peace Dale, Rhode Island. Their gowns were of yellow chiffon with golden brown hats.

The best man was Dr. James H. Wilson of Annandale-on-the-Hudson, brother of the groom; and the ushers Mr. Willard Tuckerman, Jr., Mr. A. Ellia Harding and Mr. Walter B. Binian of Cohasset; Mr. Ronald W. Cordingley of Chestnut Hill; Mr. William W. Cordingley of Mendon, N. J.; and Rev. Daniel C. Magruder of Hingham.

The groom is a member of the class of 1907 of the University of Vermont, and received a degree from Trinity College, Oxford, England in 1910.

Rev. and Mrs. Wilson will live in Cohasset where they will be at home to their friends after October 1st.

GIRDLES FAMOUS IN HISTORY

Garment, Still in Favor, Made Vital Distinction of Casts in Olden Times.

The history of the girdle, says the Westminster Gazette, is the history of civilization, and though, more than most of the little matters of mode, it has known very happily how to combine utility and the decorative, yet its third and most interesting phase of all has lain in its symbolism. It has even formed a bond between woman and goddess, and if Helen of Troy would have been, metaphorically speaking, in sore plight if she had had no girdle under which to tuck her skirts when she fled with Paris, how many devotees would Venus have lacked if she had had no magic girdle to inspire love and charm hearts, so that even great Juno herself, when she wanted very specially to please her husband, had to kneel very humbly to borrow it.

In Rome a man without a girdle stamped himself thereby as a lazy, good-for-nothing fellow, while it was the girdle which made a vital distinction between matron and maid. Roman girls wore girdles of white wool, curiously knotted, as emblem of their girlhood, and the unknotting of the bride's girdle by the bridegroom was an important part of the marriage ceremony.

Bernhardt, who did nothing by halves, wore no fewer than eight girdles when she played the part of Theodora. "I have just maddened myself thinking how eight girdles could be worn," wrote Burne-Jones. "It wouldn't be fair to call a necklace a girdle, or a garter. Eight girdles—however do they come? But I have the greatest confidence in her. I dream of those eight girdles around that twig of the Oriental willow."

CONFUSED BY "DARK STAGE"

Actors Frequently Are Befuddled When Lights Are Shut Off at End of Scenes.

In an American quick-fire play there occurred one rapid change of scene which made it impossible to fix the scenery in position. Portions of it, therefore, were held up by concealed stage hands. Miss Lord had to rush onto the darkened stage just as her stage husband was committing suicide and utter a piercing shriek.

On the night in question she mistook her bearings in the darkness, and gave her shriek in the wrong spot. It happened to be right in the ear of one of the stage hands holding up a piece of scenery. He promptly responded to her shriek with another, and fell over one way, while his scenery fell over the other. Then the shrieks became general.

Somewhat reminiscent, this, of another story in which an actor lost his bearings on a darkened stage. The sudden darkness was used instead of a curtain at the end of a scene, and when the lights went up again for his cue he was discovered bowing to the back-cloth!

Oration in Crimson Gulch.

"You placed a pitcher on the table," whispered Senator Sorghum, "to the chairman of the reception committee, 'but I notice you didn't put any water in it.'"

"I hurried around to give you a tip about that," said Judge Cactus Joe (the title having been conferred on him by popular consent for the purpose of this occasion). "I left the water out 'cause it 'ud only be in your own way. See that feller over there with eyebrows as big as his mustache?"

"Yes."
"That's Tarantula Tim. He makes a specialty of breakin' up meetin's. That pitcher ain't for you to drink out of. It's for you to throw as straight as you know how the minute you see Tim showin' a sign of gettin' restless."Misplaced Assistance.

At one of the golf clubs a young lady who is very popular with the caddies arranged a match with an elderly woman who flatters herself that she can play. The young lady, an excellent golfer, wished to keep from winning, for social reasons, but her opponent was in her worst form, and it seemed impossible to keep from winning. Finally she whispered to her caddy that she wanted to lose.

"Ah, miss," he said, "I didn't know that. Here I've been stamping on her ball every time it got in the long grass."—Boston Transcript.

Poor Shot.

When Mark Twain was running his country newspaper, he was deluged with all sorts of contributions that would have hurried anyone less than a humorist, to an early grave. One day he received a poetic effusion all tied up with pink ribbon and entitled "I Wonder if He'll Miss Me?"

When Mark Twain had recovered his composure sufficiently to mail back the poem he did so, with this note attached: "If he does he ought never to be trusted with firearms again."

Alaska's Surplus of Pulpwood.

The United States market now consumes about 5,000,000 cords of pulpwood annually and it is estimated that a third of this amount could be produced from Alaskan forests in addition to their supplying local needs.

Typewriters in Venezuela.

During the last six years there have been about 5,000 typewriters sold to Venezuela, according to a report to the Department of Commerce from Trade Commissioner C. Jackson.

POLICE NOTES

Four youngsters, child runaways from the Child Welfare Department at 66 Fort Avenue, Roxbury, were the guests of the Newton Police Sunday. The children were found by a Newton man, who telephoned the police. The oldest of the four, William McIntosh, 12, told the police that they had escaped from an institution in Worcester and had been walking all night. A little questioning brought out the fact, however, that they were from Roxbury. They rose early Sunday morning, took the best clothes they could find and started out. Although they all claimed to be brothers, the evident difference in Nationalities belied their statements. They finally gave their names as William, John and Alexander McIntosh, aged 12, 8 and 6, and Casimir March, aged 10. They were turned over to Hilda Takola of the Department of Child Guardianship.

Edwin Lawton of 147 Morse street, Waltham, was sentenced to 15 days in the House of Correction Monday morning for operating an automobile while he was under the influence of intoxicating liquor by Judge Weston. A charge of being drunk was filed. Lawton was arrested Saturday night by patrolman C. Feeley in Newton Corner. He appealed the sentence.

Judge William F. Bacon of the Newton District Court is on the Superior Court bench at East Cambridge for the next two weeks and Associate Justice Thomas F. Weston is on the bench of the Newton Court.

Patrolman C. Walker while patrolling his route in Chestnut Hill Sunday evening saw a car speeding along Commonwealth avenue. He commandeered a car and started in pursuit, standing on the running board. In making a turn on the avenue, Walker lost his balance and fell from the automobile while it was travelling at a fast rate, and was somewhat bruised.

POLICE COURT

Motorcycle Officer Goddard had three men in court Tuesday morning, charged with violations of the speed laws. William G. Kerr of 42 Munroe avenue, Roxbury, and Reginald W. Bird of 10 Waverley road, Framingham, were fined $10 each for speeding. Patrick J. Donaghey of 554 4th street, South Boston was fined $10 for speeding and $10 for not giving a timely signal at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Walnut street. After paying the two fines Donaghey was arrested for the Needham police on a charge of larceny.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

The Convention of District No. Four of the Knights of Pythias held in Cambridge on Friday evening, September 14, was a big success and the largest in the series being held through the State. D. D. G. C. Will C. Eddy of Auburndale presided. It is the beginning of a series of conventions to be held throughout the District the coming winter and those in charge are looking forward to increased interest as indicated by this start.

The tour going will be out through the middle west, with a stopover at Denver and Colorado Springs, and leaving Colorado Springs, through the American Rockies, "the Scenic Line of the World," through the Royal Gorge by daylight.

Returning, the trip will be through the State of California by daylight, stopping at Big Trees, to Los Angeles, Thence to Riverside, Grand Canyon of Arizona, where a complete sightseeing trip around the Canyon will be provided, and Chicago to Boston. The trip will include transportation, standard pullmans, hotels, meals, sightseeing trips, transfers, etc. All members interested in this new proposition should get particulars at the Company's office, 281 Washington Street, Boston.

OIL HEATING is a proved success

THERE is no question of the utility and practicability of oil-heating for homes and buildings. Thousands of oil heating devices have been installed during the past five years.

They are easily put in at a moderate cost, and, with automatic heat control, the whole house can be kept at any degree of temperature wished for. And beyond that, there is an absolute freedom from dust, litter and ashes.

SOCONY FURNACE OIL is the ideal fuel for any central heating oil device. It can be stored in quantities, the supply is easily replenished, and the cost, in view of its convenience and combustion efficiency, is moderate.

EDITORIAL

It is a source of considerable satisfaction that Newton has gone over the top in filling its quota for the Japanese relief fund and it would have been exceeded several times more if every resident of Newton had contributed through the Newton Chapter instead of sending their check to the Boston office of the Red Cross. Why can't we have a little local pride in these evidences of the generosity of our citizens?

We extend our best wishes to Registrar Goodwin in his attempt to enforce the automobile laws in this city.

We note another fine in a recent conviction for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. We wish it was possible to show these easy going judges the possibilities of serious, if not fatal accidents, which may occur by persons who are perfectly willing to take a chance on arrest where a mere fine is in prospect, and who would certainly hesitate if they knew it meant a term in the House of Correction.

The Newton Chamber of Commerce should take prompt action to combat the petition of the B. & A. railroad for a 20% increase in the charge for commutation tickets within 15 miles of Boston, and which includes every railroad station within the limits of this city. Whatever may be the financial condition of the railroad company it is very certain that the present rates for commutation tickets in this city are as high as the service rendered justifies and the company should look elsewhere for any needed increase in revenues.

With a city election coming this fall it may be of interest to Newton citizens to brush up on their knowledge of how the city is governed. We begin this week a series of articles on that subject which will cover all departments of the city before they are finished.

That $1,250,000 paid to see two husky men fight each other for five minutes would have gone a long way towards relieving the suffering caused by the Japanese earthquake.

a committee on Legislation composed of the President, and one member from each ward to act with the Mayor and City Solicitor on legislative matters, and there are minor committees on Schools, Kenrick Fund and Mayor's Address.

Meetings of the aldermen are held twice each month except during July and August, and the more important committees usually meet before each board meeting.

A brief description of the work of the different committees may be of interest in this connection.

The committee on Franchises and Licenses probably handles the greatest variety of business of any committee of the board. Its jurisdiction includes the consideration of petty licenses of all kinds, garage permits, and street railway locations. While this committee in the past had most important duties to perform in the matter of street railway track locations, there is but little work in that direction at present, and its principal business in the "Franchise" line is the consideration of the location and relocation of poles, the location of underground conduits, and the attachment of wires to poles of telephone and electric light companies.

The license work of the committee embraces almost every conceivable form of permits most of which are required by statute. Permits to erect garages and gasoline filling stations, are just now the most important in the public mind. There are also applications for auctioneer licenses, to keep bowling alleys, to keep intelligence offices, to serve food on Sunday as common victuallers, to operate power boats for hire, to operate motor or animal driven vehicles for hire, to locate steam engines, etc. The bulk of the work on licenses comes in April, as most licenses expire by statute on April 30th. As there are always hundreds of petitions, and as the committee usually grants hearings on the most important matters, the meetings at this time are always long and arduous, some of them lasting until the wee small hours.

While each city government has the right to act as it wishes on these matters, it has become the policy of the city to grant but twenty junk licenses, to refuse licenses for pool rooms where any considerable remonstrance is made, to impose careful restrictions on power boat licenses, and to restrict as much as possible the number of Common Victuallers licenses.

The committee on Public Buildings gives careful consideration to appropriations for the so called special repairs to our public buildings, usually relating to such matters as changes and improvements in heating and ventilating, painting and repairs involving any large expense, the smaller repairs being handled by the Public Buildings Commissioner under the appropriation for maintenance of Public Property. In this connection, this committee, as well as the other committees, travels close to the line which the city charter stipulates shall divide the executive and legislative branches. Neither the committee nor the board of aldermen can dictate to the executive departments as to how the money appropriated for city business, shall be expended but the board, usually acting through its committees, has the undoubted right to refuse to make the appropriation unless satisfied as to the merits of the proposition. The erection of new school houses, or other matters involving a considerable appropriation, is usually handled by the aldermen authorizing a small appropriation for plans and for obtaining bids under such plans, and when these bids are obtained, the whole matter is again considered by the board and its committee, before the principal appropriation is authorized.

The committee on Public Works has much important work to consider throughout the entire year. In the spring it usually gives a large amount of time and attention to the annual appropriations for the routine work of the Street Department, with which it has the most to do. Petitions for the laying out of streets, either under general law or under the law authorizing the assessment of betterments, for the laying of concrete sidewalks under the betterment law, for street sprinkling, for the laying of water mains, or any work done by the Water Department, and for the construction of sewers are acted upon by this committee. The aldermen have power to lay sewers in public streets without notice to the abutters, although every sewer now constructed entails an assessment on abutting property of 30 cents a front foot and two (2) cents per square foot of area for a distance of 125 feet from the street line. Where sewers are to be laid in streets which are not yet accepted as public streets, a hearing must be given and every abutter notified, before the board can legally take action.

While paved sidewalks can be laid on direct petition of the abutter to the Street Department, the board must take action if any of the abutters refuse to sign the usual agreement to pay one half the cost, amounting to about 21 cents a running foot of frontage. In such cases the abutters are given a hearing before the board takes final action. In the case of sewers as well as sidewalks, the board subsequently orders the betterments assessed against the properties benefited and such assessments become a part of the lien for taxes on the property affected.

Street sprinkling is a misnomer and a relic of previous years, when the watering cart was a prominent feature on our streets. Beginning with the time when the residents of certain streets clubbed together and hired a private contractor to water their street, the subject of street sprinkling, has, like Topsy, just "grown" without much consideration, and certainly without any systematic adjustment. The private contractor was later succeeded by the city, which watered the street and assessed the cost on each abutter, the assessments being paid with more or less grumbling, depending on whether or not, the man on the cart knew his business. More recently the substitution of oil and tarvia, as a preservative for dust, created entirely new conditions, and the Legislature authorized a continuation of the assessment plan for sprinkling streets with oil as well as water. It is now known that the use of oil and tarvia is a preservative of the street surface as well as a dust layer, and it is an open question whether it is fair to charge the abutters on about ninety miles of street which are now "sprinkled" the assessment of four cents a front foot while the abutters on other streets, repaired in a similar fashion from the Street Maintenance fund, are not so assessed.

For many years it was the policy of the city to require land owners developing new properties to build new streets according to certain specifications, before they would be accepted as public streets. This entailed no cost on the city and worked fairly well. In some cases where private streets had been partially built upon, it was found impossible for all the abutters to agree, and the city was asked to do the work under the betterment act and to assess the cost on the abutters. This required an appropriation for the work to be made by the city government, and the possibility of a law suit or other legal complication over the matter of assessments. During the past few years, the city has acted more frequently under the betterment act and has gradually worked out a policy of requiring the signatures of at least 75% of the abutters to release all claims for damages and to agree to accept the assessments levied for the work, when completed. The policy reduces to a minimum the possibility of loss on account of protest against assessments and is apparently working for the best interests of all concerned.

Water mains are laid as a routine matter on petition of the land owner who must guarantee to pay for five years, an amount equal to 5% on the cost of laying that particular main. During this period any water rates paid by other persons on this main is credited to the guarantee.

The Finance Committee has the important work of co-ordinating all the expenses of the city to the ability of the tax payers, as well as attempting to keep down the tax rate to an amount which will make this city an attractive place of residence for wealthy and otherwise desirable class of citizens.

The most important business of this committee comes in the spring, when the annual budget amounting to about three millions of dollars is under consideration. The Municipal Finance law of 1913 made a radical change in the procedure of making this budget, and considerably curtailed the jurisdiction of the board of aldermen. The mayor now submits to budget within sixty days of his inauguration and the figures so submitted cannot be increased, new items cannot be added and the only function of the board is to reduce the amounts, or to refuse to pass them entirely. Where harmony exists between the aldermen and the mayor, this method will suffice, but where there is friction, the possibilities for trouble are numerous. It is true that the board can request the mayor to submit a certain item for consideration, and in the event of his refusing to do so, may, after seven days, adopt such an item by a two-thirds vote, but this course is a clumsy method of conducting city business.

The Finance committee usually considers the budget by giving a hearing to each department head on the appropriations for his department. These hearings usually take considerable time and the committee holds many midnight sessions. The school appropriation of nearly a million dollars for some years has always been the subject of the most debate. The next important item in the budget is that for the Street Department, and it is here that the greatest cut is usually made and it is for this reason that our streets have gradually deteriorated.

The question of salaries is also one of the problems of this committee and it often spends more time on a $100 increase of salary of a stenographer than is required on other terms involving thousands of dollars.

The committee also approves any recommendation from the other committees requiring the expenditure of money, recommends when it is necessary to issue bonds for sewers or other public improvements, and in general has jurisdiction over the financial business of the city.

The committee on Claims and Rules considers every claim made against the city, most of them being for accidents caused by defects in the streets or sidewalks, and if liability on the part of the city is evident, endeavors to effect a settlement. If no liability can be proven, the legal lights of the board assert, that it is impossible to settle even what may be considered a moral claim. The claims for workmen's compensation are an important item in the cost of the city. The minor claims of this nature are settled directly by the city solicitor, but those involving any considerable expenditure come before the committee and the board for action. This committee also considers and prepares the ordinances and regulations of the city.

The committee on Schools is practically a sub-committee of the Finance committee and does preliminary work on the school budget.

The committee on Kenrick Fund arranges for the distribution of the income of a fund of some $4,000 a bequest made nearly 100 years ago by John Kenrick, and the income of which is distributed among the "needy industrious poor" of the city.

The committee on Mayor's Address generally looks over the recommendations made at the beginning of the year by the mayor and refers them to the proper committees for further consideration.

The high standard of city government which has been the proud boast of Newton for many years, is largely due to the faithful attention given to the committee work by members of our board of aldermen, and our citizens should realize the valuable service which is being given them, day by day and week by week by these gentlemen, who through a sense of public duty, are devoting their time and their energy to the public weal.

THROUGH THE EMPIRE STATE

larger area than all the great national parks combined.

With such a background of facts and figures at their fingers' end, some two hundred editors and their ladies gathered at Buffalo early in July, for a tour of the great Empire state.

Headquarters were established at the New Statler Hotel in Buffalo, certainly the last word in hotel architecture and management, and made some of us elated at the thought that Boston was to have a similar hotel in the near future.

I made a serious mistake in attempting to make the trip from Boston to Buffalo in the daytime, to avoid a night on the sleeper. In order to carry out my plan, I was forced to leave Boston at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, arriving at Buffalo at the weird hour of 1 in the morning and it was such a tiresome ride that I failed to catch up with my rest for over a week. This may account for my failure to enthrone very much over the sights and incidents of the first portion of the trip.

We spent the first morning and luncheon at the Roycroft Shops in East Aurora, which were established by the late Elbert Hubbard of Phillips-tine fame.

The business consists, in a general way, of high-class printing, equally high-class binding, and of the production of articles for ornament and use out of sheet copper and other metals. A great deal of the output is of hand work intended primarily to show forth the beauty of the designer's work and skill of the handicraft of the worker who worked out the design. Most of the artists and workers are village lads and lasses, men and women, who acquired their skill in the institution, and who, lacking such an outlet, would have been compelled to seek less artistic and perhaps less remunerative employment elsewhere.

The institution covers perhaps four or six village blocks, and most of the buildings are of artistic design.

Mr. Hubbard filled his various rooms with many mottoes. One he did not hang up but which would have told the truth might have read like this: "Make it better and different and charge two prices."

Over the entrance to the Roycroft in, off which opens the dining room in which we lunched, are three sentences: "Self Respect," "Self Reliance," "Self Control." Inside is this one-word motto: "Equality."

Here are some of the dining room mottoes: "Fletcherize," "Gossips lie like epitaphs," "Your eyes and ears inform you, not your tongue," "If you have a good time at the Roycroft shop it will be because you brought a good time with you." Here are two mottoes that I copied from rooms in mechanical buildings: "A cat has nine lives. You have but one. Take care of it." "Another patient for the hospital. He was careless." The last one was illustrated by a picture, showing men carrying a body on a stretcher.

Returning to Buffalo in the afternoon we had time enough to take a drive about the city and make its acquaintance, so to speak. Buffalo has a population of a half million and is growing rapidly. Manufacturing is on the increase and the city, because of its strategic location in relation to power (being near Niagara) and raw materials, is making rapid strides in an industrial way. Being at the lakeside it has the advantage of low freight rates. This is a great grain port and receipts average 160,000 bushels daily. Buffalo is really a world port, having water connections through the lakes and rivers to all ports. Recently the chamber of commerce has been making a determined effort to induce new industries to locate there and has secured a total of 475 new industries. There are now over 3000 industrial concerns in the city.

Buffalo has many beautiful residence streets and several fine parks covering thousands of acres. Delaware street seems to be the home of the wealthiest residents and there are some palatial mansions along that thoroughfare. In the course of our ride we reached the old grounds of the Pan-American Exposition. Part of this land is being used as a park and part of it has been built up as a residence district. The site of the Temple of Music in which President McKinley was fatally shot is occupied by a street with newly built residences on each side. In the center of the street a small boulder with a suitable inscription marks the exact place where the president stood while greeting the throng that was filing by to clasp his hand. Lest we forget to mention it later, we digress in order to mention that a fine monument has been erected to the memory of the martyred president down in the city at Niagara Square.

On the return trip we were shown the McKim residence where McKinley died and where Vice-President Roosevelt took the oath of office following the death of his chief.

That evening we were the guests of the Buffalo newspaper publishers at an elaborate banquet served in the state banquet room of the Statler hotel.

OUR SPECIAL BUILDING OFFER
Enables You to Have Your Home Built to Order at Once

It is not necessary to have a lot paid for before building. We will build on a One Thousand Dollar cash payment a single dwelling, or on a Fifteen Hundred Dollar cash payment a two-apartment dwelling, the balance to be paid on easy monthly payments, as rent, or we will arrange construction money for your builder to start at once.

Agents on the land at all times, let them explain, more fully, our liberal building plan to you.
At Newton Corner take Waltham car via Highland Street. Get off at Parmenter Road and you are on the land.

KEPT HATS ON SECOND FLOOR

English Dealer, Following Ancient Custom, Exhibited Only Sample in Show Window.

A man who attended the meetings of the International Chamber of Commerce came back by way of England. He wanted a hat, and a business acquaintance, a man who had lived for years in England, suggested a place to go.

The shop was small and dingy, but its windows held a hat which appealed. An old man appeared to be the only attendant.

"Wait a moment," said the shopkeeper, "and I'll bring down a hat like the one in the window." Bringing down the hat meant a trip up a flight of stairs in the corner of the shop, and while the proprietor was gone the American looked about the place. There were hat boxes on the shelves, but no hats were on display, except in the window. Presently down came the proprietor with the hat. It seemed to be what the American wanted, but he asked to see some other colors. Back up the steps went the shopkeeper, and down he came with more hats.

The purchase was made, and while the hat was being wrapped the American made some inquiries regarding the business. He learned with astonishment that the hat store had been operated for more than a hundred years; that the present proprietor was the grandson of the founder, and that most of the stock of hats had been kept on the floor above the store ever since the business had been started.—Nation's Business.

ARTIST NOT SLEEP WALKER

Noted Cartoonist Failed to "Stay Put" When Conveyed to His Home by Good Friend.

Mr. Ward tells in his "Recollections of a Savage" how Mr. Odell took Phil May home on one occasion, when it became quite obvious that the best and only place for him was bed. Without disturbing Mrs. May, he got the artist onto a couch in the hall, and left him asleep. Mr. Odell, having spent all he had on the cab, set out and tramped back to the Savage club—comforted by the reflection that he had rendered a service to an old friend. Arriving eventually at his destination, footsore and exhausted, he dragged his weary way up the stairs leading to the bar, where he was saddened and surprised to see the triumphant figure of Phil May, glass in hand held aloft, flushed with the joy of having defeated the designs of his Good Samaritan by a swift recovery from the ruse of the sleep on the couch, where Odell had deposited him, and by catching a smart hansom which returned him to the club to put a finish to a great evening.

Make Success of Reindeer Raising.

The experiment which was made some years ago in introducing reindeer into Labrador has conclusively proved that both in Newfoundland and Labrador it is a good economic proposition, writes W. T. Grenfell in Current History. In Alaska it has been so successful that last year, by special arrangement with the Canadian government, the Hudson's Bay company imported a fine herd of 700 deer into Baffin land. We have helped to form another company, which has received special concessions from the Newfoundland government and expects to start with a herd of a thousand deer next spring. The fact that, as a result of the war, the Lapp pastures were greatly restricted, made it possible to secure plenty of animals and herders.

Kind of a Mean Shot.

A small-town constable in an eastern state halted a motorist. "Haven't you been reading the signs along the road?"

"Yes."

"What do they say?"

"Twenty-five miles an hour on roads fifteen miles through towns."

"You should have slowed down," declared the official. "You are now inside our town limits. You admit the signs are plain enough?"

"Plain enough," responded the motorist. "But why don't you label your towns?"

YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE

The record of what you do and what I do, is history after the doing is completed or in process of completion, whether the happenings occurred yesterday or 5000 years ago. We are frequently reminded that truth is stranger than fiction. All of us, admittedly or secretly, take pleasure in learning something of the doings of our neighbors and friends; and by so much are history and biography more entertaining than a mere story, the product of someone's imagination. Here are some good samples on which to begin: These books have recently been added to the Newton Free Library.

THE AGE OF GAS FOR HEATING

The real need to conserve individually and nationally our fuel resources has been so deeply impressed upon householders and manufacturers that great interest should attach to the house heating exhibit, which the Boston Consolidated Gas Co. is making in the old Lloyd Store at 165 Tremont Street, Boston.

At the present time gas for house heating to the point where it is most economically used as an auxiliary system, has passed beyond the experimental stage.

The price of coal this winter and last made it too expensive to use the central heating plant when all that was required were a few higher degrees of heat in the house than the temperature outdoors.

It is not practical from an economy standpoint to keep a coal furnace at full blast on very cold days when extra heat can be added in a more economical manner. With coal, there is necessarily a large loss of heat up the chimney due to the necessary draft. A large percentage of this loss is saved when gaseous fuel is used.

Auxiliary or supplementary heat by means of gas is now almost essential if householders desire to square their heating expense with other housekeeping ideas of economy and comfort.

Gas is truly the city's fuel and it won't be long before what it has done for cooking will apply equally to all other heating problems.

THE NORUMBEGA YOUNG PEOPLE'S COUNCIL

A representative delegation of young people from Newton, Waltham, and Watertown, members of the Young People's Council of the Norumbega District, attended a Fall Outing of that organization last Saturday, September 15, at Sharon, at an estate known as "Stonholm." Business and recreation were combined. Tennis, handball, archery, quoits, and other games were enjoyed in the afternoon. After a picnic supper, a devotional service was held, led by Rev. D. J. Imler, of Belmont.

At the Council meeting in the evening, President Richard H. Bird of Waltham presided. The resignations of Miss Mary Elizabeth Edmonds and Miss Eleanor Richmond, as secretary and vice-president, respectively, were read, due to the fact that both Miss Edmonds and Miss Richmond enter college this fall. Miss Helen Spurrier of Newton was elected vice-president, and Miss Beatrice Fulton of Waltham was elected secretary.

It was decided to hold the annual Young People's Conference this fall on November 30 and December 1, and William Henry of Auburton was selected as chairman of the meeting-place committee. Kenneth Barton was appointed chairman of the "Father and Son Week" Committee. The Council members decided to print for this year a card announcing the calendar of Council Events, for distribution to all Sunday Schools. Robert Leitch of Newtonville was made chairman of the committee to arrange for these cards to be printed.

This event marks the auspicious beginning of the third year of the Young People's Council of the Norumbega District Sunday School Association.

ADAMS-TERRY

The marriage of Miss Martha Noel Terry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Terry of Stoneham, and Frederick Wildes Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Adams of West Newton, took place last Saturday in Winchester, Mass., at the Church of the Epiphany. Three ministers participated in the ceremony: Rev. John W. Suter, Jr., of St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston; Rev. Malcolm Taylor, executive secretary of the Province of New England, and Rev. Allen Evans, rector of the Church of the Epiphany. Miss O. M. Adams, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. There were four bridesmaids: Miss Caroline M. Adams, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Charlotte F. Conant of Manchester, N. H.; Miss Ruth Massey of Stoneham, and Miss Dorothy Lynde of Portland, Me. Miss Nancy Pendleton Jackson of Winchester was flower girl.

C. Wentworth Richards of Springfield, a classmate of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Robert M. Irwin of Newtonville, Alexander Macomber of Allston, George A. Macomber, Jr., of New York, William H. McAdams of Cambridge, Ralph L. Blanchard of Waverley and Charles F. Whiston of Melrose Highlands.

The bridegroom was a member of the Class of 1921 at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he also received the degree of M. S. in 1922. He is assistant director of the Technology School of Chemical Engineering Practice at Bangor, Me. He and his bride will make their home in that city at 12 Blackstone street.

STONE-KNEELAND

The Second Church, West Newton, was the scene last Saturday night of the wedding of Miss Madeline Eva Kneeland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Kneeland of Adella avenue, West Newton, and Mr. Henry Deacon Stone of Crafts street, Waltham. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Edgar Park of the Second Church.

The bride was attired in a gown of white satin and lace, with a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms, and her bouquet was of bride's roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Blanche G. Kneeland, sister of the bride. Her gown was of pink georgette and lace, and her flowers, pink roses.

The best man was Mr. J. Millidge Dyer, cousin of the groom, and the ushers were Messrs. Sumner H. Willis of Waltham; George A. Pickett of Waltham; Harold C. Sackerson of Medford; and Edwin F. Brown of Braintree.

A reception in the parlors of the Second Church followed the ceremony; the bride couple being assisted by the parents of the bride, and the aunt of the groom. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion with palms, gladioli, and asters in pink and white. Bouquets of asters decorated the pews of the central aisle.

Mr. William Lester Bates of the Second Church was the organist.

After a motor trip to New York and Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Stone will make their home at 25 Crafts street, Waltham.

TEDDY-LUDY

Such a fine big fellow
With a fine sweet smile!
And think what time shall mellow
And make a man worth while!

Such a fine big fellow
With such a splendid heart!
Making a real good fellow
In the world to take his part.

Such a fine big fellow,
The type who is never yellow,
But fights cleanly every day.

Such a fine big fellow,
In a world we do not see.
But in a land made far more mellow
By many such as he.

Such a fine big fellow
Makes us long to be
In that mansion of good fellow
Where such manhood is the key.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES

The consistent development of the membership of the Newton Chamber of Commerce during the summer months has resulted in an average increase of about 150 members per month during the past three months. The largest number of applications for membership received one week last week, when the number was fifty-seven. The membership total passed the 1900 mark during that week and now numbers 1930. Of this number 1551 have civic memberships. The business membership is also increasing gradually and is expected to reach the 400 mark before January 1. Present indications are that the membership objective of two thousand before the end of the present year, established by the Board of Directors, will be reached soon after October 1.

Walter T. Hannigan of Newton, head of the claim department of the New England Telephone Company and treasurer of the Community Theatre, is the new treasurer of the Newton Chamber. Mr. Hannigan succeeds Harold Moore, whose resignation was accepted with regret at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors.

President Rupert C. Thompson and the Secretary of the Chamber have been elected to serve as delegates from the Chamber to the Central Council of Social Activities during the coming year.

Representatives of the Mercantile Division of the Chamber are circulating a petition among Newton Corner business men in remonstrance against the proposed regulation recommended by the Chamber Traffic Ordinance Committee which is designed to restrict parking of automobiles to periods not exceeding twenty minutes in the Nonantum Square business section. This petition will subsequently be forwarded to the Traffic Ordinance Committee of the Board of Aldermen.

SERVICE FOR JAMES R. CARTER
Rev. John Goddard, assisted by Rev. J. W. Spiers, officiated Sunday afternoon at the funeral of the late James Richard Carter. The services were held in the church of the New Jerusalem, Newtonville.
The honorary pallbearers were Messrs. William B. Bullivant; George H. Lowe, president of Carter, Rice & Company; Henry H. Carter of the firm; Andrew G. Webster; George C. Warren of Warren Brothers; Ernest J. Redner of the Nashua Canned and Coated Paper Company; Edward C. Burrage of the Carter's Ink Company and John E. A. Hussey of the paper company.
Business associates and neighbors comprised the staff of ushers. They were Messrs. Arthur T. Lovett, Clifford F. Leatherbee, Robert Capon, E. Donald Robb, Robert A. Ware, J. Henry Ellis, Walter Howard, Robert T. Davis and Donald Ramsay.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB
There was a good attendance this week at the usual Monday luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Newton Club House.
During the luncheon, an enjoyable instrumental and vocal musical program was furnished by young ladies from the West Newton telephone exchange under the direction of Rotarian, John Harvey of the telephone company.
The young ladies furnishing the entertainment were the Misses Cecil Champney, Helena Studzinska, Mabel Norris, Elizabeth Cody, Alice Barrett, and May Rycroft.
Final arrangements were made for a week end visit for tomorrow and Sunday, at the summer home of Rotarian Joseph W. Crowell at Mashpee.

NEW EXPRESS TRAIN

Newton residents living on the south side of the city, in those villages served by the Highland Branch of the Boston and Albany Railroad, will be pleased to learn that the "Commuter's Committee" of the Newton Chamber of Commerce has been successful in securing additional train service to Boston in the morning hours, according to a notice received at the Chamber office early this week from the Passenger Department of the B. & A.

This change will become effective with the advent of the new fall and winter timetable, on October 1, the schedule of the new train providing for its arrival at the South Station terminal on week-day mornings between the trains now arriving at 7.55 and 8.20 A. M. While the new train will be of the accommodation type, its addition to the schedule will enable the railroad management to grant the request of the Chamber committee for additional inward-bound express service, through enabling the train immediately following, now making all the stops, to run express from Chestnut Hill to Boston. This will eliminate five stops between Newton Centre and Boston and reduce the running time by six minutes.

Following the train now leaving Woodland at 7.18 A. M. and arriving at Boston at 7.55, the new train will leave Woodland at about 7.34, making all stops about six minutes ahead of the present running time. The train now leaving there at 7.40, and will arrive at Boston at 8.14 o'clock.

The next train following, which is to be converted from an accommodation train into an express beyond the Chestnut Hill station, will because of this fact be regarded as the new train by the many commuters who are expected to choose it in preference to the slower trains. This train, now leaving Woodland at 7.40 A. M., will leave Woodland at 7.50 A. M., Waban at 7.54, Elliot at 7.57, Newton Highlands at 8 o'clock, Newton Centre at 8.04, and Chestnut Hill at 8.08, arriving at Boston at 8.24. Although this train will enable all Newton patrons to set their alarm clocks ten minutes later each morning, their arrival in Boston will be but four minutes later than at present. The addition of an extra train will also serve to relieve the congestion during the morning rush hour, as well as providing a greater choice of trains and leaving time for the Branch patrons.

The request for this additional train was made last April in connection with an extended conference at that time between the "Commuter's Committee" and General Passenger Agent Walter A. Barrows. Requests for changes in the evening train service on the Highland Branch, becoming effective as a part of the present summer timetable, were granted at that time but, because of the lighter patronage during the summer months the desired additional morning express service could not be provided. Previous to the making up of the new timetable for the fall and winter months, the matter was again brought to the attention of the railroad management, which has courtedly considered all requests for improved service and granted those which seemed justified by the passenger department's records of patronage.

The Chamber of Commerce "Commuter's Committee," which has been entrusted with the task of securing all possible improvements in transportation service between the several Newtons and Boston, includes James V. French of Newton, chairman; Elliott B. Church of Newton, Edward N. Gooding of Newton Centre, Henry L. Goodman of Auburndale, and E. Payson Upham, Jr., of Waban.

The engagement is announced of Miss Elizabeth Hodgson of St. Louis, Mo., to Mr. William M. Breaker, Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Breaker Freeman of Commonwealth avenue. Mr. Freeman graduated from the Institution of Technology in 1920.

Messrs. Irving J. French of Beacon street and Harry F. Stimpson of Chestnut Hill, are members of the nominating committee of the Massachusetts Golf Association and which has nominated Mr. S. Harold Greene as one of the vice-presidents for ensuing year.

The engagement has recently been announced of Mr. Harry O'Mara of Commonwealth avenue, to Miss Mildred M. O'Brien of Cambridge. Mr. O'Mara is a nephew of the former Boston Police Commissioner, and a member of the Boston Athletic Association, the Charles River Country Club, and the Woodland Golf Club.

Next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, the minister of the Unitarian Church Rev. George Lawrence Parker, will recognize the opening of autumn activities in church and community life by preaching on the topic, "The Glory of Beginning Again." The Church School which began two Sundays ago will meet at ten o'clock. The first meeting of The Hale Union will be held at 5.30 P. M., with supper. After supper Leon Perkins will make a report on the Young People's Conference at Star Island whose sessions he attended in July as delegate from the Hale Union. Other members will relate summer experiences while travelling in Europe and in our own country this summer. The first meeting of the Stebbins Alliance, Mrs. Graham Spencer, President, will be held on October 9, at ten A. M. The Laymen's League will open its sessions for the winter by an initial meeting on the evening of October 25 under a committee whose chairman is Mr. C. W. Nichols of Newton Highlands. A series of Sunday evening Forum meetings will be held by the League on the Sundays of November 25, December 2, 9, and 16. The speakers will be Rev. A. M. Rihbany, Dean McClester of Tufts College Theological Faculty, and Dr. A. C. Dieffenbach, Editor of The Christian Register. The minister of the church will also be one of the speakers. The public will be invited both to the meetings and the following forum discussions.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The Newton Choral Society begins rehearsals for its fifth season on Tuesday, October 2, at 7.30 p. m., at Central Church, Newtonville.

An active membership committee has gone to work under the leadership of Mr. Yelland. Every member is asked to bring some singer to the first rehearsal.

Dates of the two concerts are Tuesday, December 11, and Tuesday, April 8.

The aim of the society is to provide high grade choral music for Newton and vicinity at a low price. It is a fine chance for musical practice under one of the best directors in this section, Mr. Bates of West Newton.

THE SAQUENAY RIVER TRIP

The Annual Autumn Excursion of the Appalachian Mountain Club took the form this year of a trip up the Saguenay River.

Starting from Boston on Friday, September 7th, the party numbering 234, reached Montreal early Saturday morning. Here they took the train for Cornwall, forty miles west of Montreal, and at this point, the regular steamer coming down the river to Montreal.

On the way down the boat passed through several rapids, the most famous being the Lachine Rapids near Montreal. The St. Lawrence at this point is a seething mass of foam, a veritable whirlpool, and very careful navigation is necessary.

Saturday night, the party went aboard the "Cape Eternity," chartered for the trip, and the real cruise began. Although Saturday was rainy, the sun came out on Sunday morning just as the boat was passing the heights of Quebec, those heights which for centuries have been the center of conflict between two great nations.

The cove where General Wolfe landed and from which he scaled the heights of Abraham, and also the battlefield where both the English and the French generals lost their lives, was clearly visible from the river.

As the ship rounded Cape Diamond, and made its way past the beautiful Isle of Orleans, the Falls of Montmorency higher than Niagara could be seen at the left glistening in the sunlight.

The first stop was at Murray Bay, a famous summer resort where Chief Justice Taft has a summer home. Mr. Taft was at home and graciously welcomed the members of the Appalachian party, offering them the hospitality of his grounds from which beautiful views of mountain and river could be seen.

The shore of the St. Lawrence from Quebec to Tadoussac, at the mouth of the Saguenay River is precipitous, with here and there a waterfall, like a white ribbon outlined against the green of the foliage.

Tadoussac is one of the oldest settlements in Canada. Here is still standing the old Indian Church dating to the early part of the 17th century.

Between Tadoussac and Eternity Bay, the party stopped at L'Anse St. Jean, a picturesque French village, with lovely meadows, and distant mountain views.

The ship spent Monday night in Eternity Bay, world famous for its two gigantic guardians, Capes Eternity and Trinity, the latter so named from its three peaks, on the lowest of which stands a statue of the Virgin Mary, a mute testimony of the faith of one of her believers.

Some of the party climbed Cape Trinity with the aid of a native guide. Others were satisfied with shorter walks on shore and still others remained on deck.

No one who has ever seen them, will ever forget the beauty of these two peaks, beautifully wooded, outlined against a clear sky or touched with the golden light of the setting sun, the dark, ominous color of the water below—over a mile and a half deep at this point—and the intense stillness over all.

At Chicoutimi, the head of navigation and a trading post of the Hudson Bay Company in the 17th century, the party took a train for a near-by paper mill, where the entire morning was spent watching the process of paper making from the handling of the logs to the final product.

A trip to St. Anne across the river also proved worth while.

On the return trip, the party stopped at St. Basile, a tiny village of three houses with its school house and picturesque chapel. Here the party received a royal welcome, being allowed to enter the homes of the family of the French guide who is virtually king of the region.

Friday was spent at Quebec, that famous old city, with its matchless situation, its old walls, its French population, a bit of the Old World which Time has not yet spoiled.

Side trips were made from Quebec to the Catholic shrine of St. Anne of Beauport, place of miracles, and Montmorency Falls.

Saturday, the sail was resumed up the river to Montreal, reaching the latter about noon. This part of the river is flat and reminds one of Holland.

The last night was spent at the Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal, the party leaving Sunday morning and arriving in Boston Sunday night, thus concluding one of the most delightful trips in the history of the club.

West Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Bachrach, Mr. Kenneth A. Henderson; Newton, Miss Caroline R. Brannan, Miss Virginia Carr, Mrs. Corabelle G. Frances, Miss Gertrude S. Gower, Miss Mildred D. Phippen, Miss Dorothy Drake; Newton Highlands, Miss Marjorie A. Briggs, Miss Sally L. Briggs, Miss Dorothy Bell; Waban, Miss Gertrude Lockwood, Miss Helen S. Waggatt; Newton Centre, Miss Edith G. SILVER WEDDING

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Tully of 51 High street, Newton Upper Falls, was the scene of a happy occasion Saturday evening, September 15th. About 150 relatives and friends gathered to help make this an occasion long to be remembered. Mr. and Mrs. Tully though young in years and spirit celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary and also Mr. Tully's tenth year as Supt. of the Methodist Sunday School.

They were assisted in the receiving line by their two daughters, Mrs. Albert W. Davis of Needham and Mrs. Russell Poole of Newton, Mass., and Mrs. Annie K. Thompson, Mr. Tully's mother.

Many beautiful gifts were received including twenty-five silver dollars from the Sunday School. The home was prettily decorated. Music was furnished by an orchestra.

There were four generations in the receiving line, Mrs. Annie K. Thompson, Mrs. Tully's mother; Mrs. James E. Tully, Mrs. Albert W. Davis, Mrs. Tully's daughter and Miss Edith May Davis.

LETTER FROM THE ISLE OF SKYE

26th AUGUST 1923.

It pours and pours here every day, with 10 minute intervals of the most marvellous sunshine, when the views of hill and sea are beyond words!

We remembered Dr. Johnson's account of his visit to Skye, in that particular volume of his life which we read after our last visit to Skye some years ago. The whole volume is awfully diverting and the discomfort in which everyone lived then is most marked. They have preserved under glass at Dunvegan Dr. Johnson's letter written to the MacLeod after his visit. I was told a lovely story of a proposal of the "Misty Isle of Skye" which relates how an inhabitant said to a stranger that there had been three fine days in the last year, but two of them were "snapped up by the Sabbath!" I have so much to describe! Our arrival was fraught with adventure as when we got to the ferry of Lochalsh it was too rough for the car to cross so N. and I rushed and just got the Portree boat which was at that moment tied to the wharf ready to sail. We left our chauffeur looking a bit serious on the wharf, with orders to come on as soon as the ferryman would take him. The ferry is a kind of row-boat with a few planks laid across, so you want a fairly calm sea. We had a three hour sail in a wild sea. In the old "Curlew" which N. said is the oldest paddle-wheel boat afloat, as she was old when he was a boy! We got to Portree at 9 P. M. to find the relatives calm and cheerful and not at all surprised. Such is the state of mind engendered by a life in the Hebrides. Our chauffeur got in about eleven that night—having very cleverly found his way over about a dozen mountains in the dark.

The next day N. and I fished all day from a boat on a big loch up in the mountains. We caught nine trout, but I nearly froze to death—that night was the first ball. I enclose a programme. It will amuse you to notice the six MacDonalds and the four McLeods—all different families! The dances are so varied and amusing—"Strip the Willow" is a glorified Virginia Reel, with all the dull parts left out. The "Highland Scotch" is a kind of prance with a lot of whirls in the middle—such fun—I loved it, and the reels are the best thing on earth. I was rather appalled by the rows of Highland matrons lining the walls with eagle eyes, but Flora MacDonald (with whom we are staying) asked me where I had learned. "Because," she said, "you dance a perfect reel, my dear, quite correct and so full of real enjoyment." The men were all awfully poor dancers, poor things, of the fox-trot and onestep, but it didn't matter as there were so many reels. We danced till 4 o'clock and were up and at the games at eleven to hear the piping contest the next morning. The ground where they have their games is wonderful. You stand on a rocky point in the hollow of which is a green grass plateau surrounded with Scotch firs—beyond on three sides is the sea, and the hills rising to great height beyond that. You sit on the rocks and on seats around the green place, and the pipers march round and round with trees and sky for background and the dancers dance on a platform with the sky and the hills to show them off. N. and the other judges looked very picturesque and a part of the scenery in their kilts and bonnets, walking about on the ground. There were about a thousand McLeods and three thousand MacDonalds! With a liberal sprinkling of Macleans, Macfarlanes, Ramsays and Mackintoshes. Everyone had a little Cairn dog sitting on a piece of rock and watching with cocked ears. It was the only absolutely aesthetically perfect scene I have ever witnessed, I think. Inverness has just an ordinary place like any base-ball field, where their games are held. I like to think that the origin of these games is back in the dim ages, when they had to invent their sports from the means at hand—so they picked up big rocks from their hill sides and saw who could throw them farthest—this is now called "throwing the shot" and is a ball of lead on the end of a stick. Then they tore up a pine tree by the roots and dared each other to throw it over, and now they call it "tossing the caber" and it is still a real pine tree. That night was the second ball. There were only about a hundred people at the balls—a lovely floor and a band from Inverness and two local pipers to pipe the reels. Everyone is called by the name of his house—N. would be "The Thorne." There is Grishinish, Scoabust, Toat, Waterinish, Jock Redcliff and Jock Viewfield and a lot of others. We danced till 5. Since the boat sails at 6 o'clock it's not worth while for band and departing revellers to go anywhere except straight on board so they almost play till the whist blows. On this occasion the boat broke down about an hour from Portree and had to put back again! and after 3 hours at the wharf when no one dared go ashore as no one knew when she'd be off again, she finally departed and got to Kyle to find the train gone, and carried on to Mallaig and got people as far as Fort William, when they wanted to go to London, Edinburgh and Manchester! Can you picture those scenes?

The morning after that ball, we were out fishing by 11 o'clock. The river was in spate and we hoped for a fish—but at 5 had caught nothing. When ever I stopped fishing and sat down to watch N. I fell asleep? That night there was a splendid village concert. Gaelic songs, dances and pipes. When I think of the horrors we are subjected to in our English villages, it is wonderful how delightful and interesting this was. It was also amusing to watch the various house parties falling asleep under the hypnotic influence of Highland music! Yesterday we shot over H's moor—it was a most strenuous and strong as N. and I are, we were nearly done. It is all mountains—about 1200 to 1400 feet high—up and down and along these you slide, crawl or scramble as the case may be. Unluckily there were no grouse—we only got 3½ brace—I got one and N. none. The going is fearfully rough—full of bogs and holes and ponds and waterfalls—we did 10 miles of this; it is so, I got a bit bored with my gun and cartridges and was conscious of the curious way that arms and legs are attached to one's body! N. formed a pleasing distraction by sitting down plump in a bog and getting simply soaked—the rain then descended in sheets, a solid wall of water, and we were about 1400 feet up, in a gale of wind. I made him retire into a kind of cave in the hill-side, and there he took my muffler, which was dry, and put it around his waist and hips under all his clothes, to keep the wet from touching him. It was a fairly comic sight and I really did laugh dreadfully. We reached a road at last, and after walking along it for about a mile, saw our car speeding towards us. I have never seen more drowned people in my life, but we are none the worse of it. I thought I knew what a rough moor was, from that one we had near Fort William, called Glenfin-tig, but this was far worse. We are splendid today though and have been out to a very nice lunch at Mrs. MacDonald's of Toat.

—Julia Colby McLeod.

Wife Must Shield Husband.

Under the English law the wife of a criminal is legally justified in doing all she can, short of committing another crime, to shield her husband from justice; although any other person doing so would be liable to be charged as an accessory after the fact. But a husband is forbidden to shield his wife who is a criminal. His duty is to hand her over to the officers of justice.

Success.

The Sunday school teacher was doing his best to inculcate lessons of altruism, and had taken as his example the case of two little boys, one of whom was always ready to grab, while the second was willing to share everything.

"Now, children," he finished impressively, "which of these two boys will grow up into the successful and respected man?"

And as one voice the class answered: "The guy that gets it!"—American Legion Weekly.

LOAD FOR DOBBIN TO PULL

Horse Should Draw Three Times His Own Weight, Judgment of Humane Association.

A man appeared before the magistrate at the Tower Bridge Police court charged with cruelty to a horse by making it draw too heavy a load, and a discussion arose as to what was the proper load for a horse.

The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals have endeavored to establish a rule that a horse should not be required to draw more than three times its own weight, but to the person who knows anything of draft horses such a load seems excessive. It means that a horse weighing 1,000 pounds can be made to pull nearly a ton and a half.

While this would not be at all an excessive load on a well-paved, level road, it would be a fearful task for any horse to be asked to pull such a weight on a rough, hilly country road, says London Tit-Bits.

The best authorities give it as their opinion that a common farm horse is only equal to a load of 1,500 weight, while a powerful dray or cart horse can pull a ton.

For its weight, the horse is an excellent puller, and can beat almost any other animal except a mule. The elephant, for instance, finds a load of 2½ tons about all that it can manage, although that may not be more than a half of its body weight. On the other hand, it is a very exceptional horse that can travel more than 65 miles without a rest and a feed, but the elephant, and also the camel, can exceed that distance considerably.

IT WAS ACCORDING TO HOYLE

Great Master of Popular Game Responsible for Rechristening of Game of Whist.

It was an agreeable spectacle to witness Edmund Hoyle (the master of whist, whose code of etiquette for the game has been accepted for six generations) drive up to the Three Pigeons tavern at noon in his white hackney coach with his emblem—the Ace of Hearts—blazoned on the panel. Hoyle was "a man of very speechless humor," who was lured into the study of whist because it was a silent game, says Christopher Morley, in "The Power of Sympathy."

Originally the game was called "whisk"; it was Mr. Hoyle who, by his continual utterance of the imperative and hushing monosyllabic whist! when gaming with those whose tongues were apt to wag irreverently, caused the diversion, at first only in sport, and then in genuine interest, to be rechristened.

The mornings he spent in tutoring wealthy ladies in the rudiments of the fashionable game; this being the chief source of his income. He was very particular, moreover, as to the standing and rank of his pupils; he was much in demand and could afford to take only such students as satisfied his fastidious taste for youth and beauty.

Playing the Game.

In a certain New England village where the Sunday church attendance was small lived a young widow who had taken quite a fancy to the minister. She could see that he also cared for her, but was evidently too shy to say anything. One Sunday evening the congregation was smaller than usual. After the services the clergyman said to the widow: "Did you like my sermon?"

"It was beautiful," she replied.

"I wish more people would come," he said.

She saw her chance. "So do I," she answered. "Why, tonight, every time you said 'dearly beloved' I—I positively blushed."—Pathfinder.

The Horse's Speed Limit.

Before our agrarian population had taken so enthusiastically to the automobile, two farmers drove into town in an old spring wagon pulled by a very bony nag. The little burg had been incorporated, and among the evidences of this was a brand-new sign at the town line: "Speed limit—10 miles an hour." Observing this, the driver began whipping up his steed vigorously.

"What's yo' hurry?" demanded his companion in mild astonishment.

"See that sign?" returned the other.

"But I dunno if I can make it or not."—Everybody's Magazine.

He Was Some Tough.

Two negroes were lying behind a packing case on the docks at Breast taking the labor out of the alleged labor battalion. Said one boastfully: "Boy, ah comes fum a tough breed. My old man done cut his nails wif a ax an' brash his teeth wif a file."

"Huh, ain't so tough. Mah ole man am a plumber, an' twice a week he done shave hisself wif a blow torch."—American Legion Weekly.

CHANGE NAME TO ARKANSAW

Committee Decided on Indian Name as Official for State Formerly Called Arkansas.

The Arkansaws were a tribe of Indians who roamed the region which now bears their name. When the French missionaries of the time of Marquette came along, they attempted to reproduce phonetically in French the Indian sounds. So they selected "Arkansas" as the best concoction, for the French ending "as" is pronounced as a nasal "ah." As for Kansas, Cortez pronounced it Kansaw. In a military report sent at the time, the name was spelled Kansa, for that was the nearest the English could come to reproducing, phonetically, the French sounds.

In the early days of Arkansas the pronunciation of the name of the state was a variable thing. From 1844 to 1848 Arkansas was represented in the senate by Chester Ashley, who was a New Englander, and Ambrose Simms, who hailed from Tennessee. Mr. Ashley didn't depart from "Arkansas," and Mr. Simms stuck to "Arkansas." The vice president at the time was George M. Dallas of Pennsylvania, who, it must be admitted, showed much tact; for when he spoke of the state to Ashley he said "Arkansas," and when he mentioned it to Simms he said "Arkansas." Finally a committee was appointed to settle the matter definitely and Arkansas won.

CATCHING MICE WITH MUSIC

Strains of Classical Pieces on Gramophones Said to Attract Unsuspecting Rodents Into Traps.

The use of music with animals is well understood in the East, where the snake-charmer makes the deadly cobra dance to his piping.

Now it is suggested that gramophones should be installed in every cowhouse and henhouse, for it is said that the sweet strains of a Guards' band, the trills of a Melba, or the top notes of a Caruso have a magical effect upon both milk and egg production, and that the hen who comes to listen remains to lay.

But even pleasure has its drawbacks, and what is meant to the cow and the Buff Orpington is death and destruction to the rat and the mouse.

For instance, it is reported that the musical mouse-trap is extremely deadly, and that anyone bent on clearing his house or barns of these destructive rodents should not set a trap which can do nothing but wait for the coming of its prey, but one which can play, say, a Bach fugue or a Beethoven symphony.

It has been found that the tinkling strains of music attract mice irresistibly, so that they wander gayly into the trap, thinking, evidently, that it is a concert arranged on their behalf. There are cases recorded of half-a-dozen being caught at once.

His Own Opinion.

Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge leaned over his rickety fence and nonchalantly contemplated a covered wagon which was being snalled along the big road by a yoke of oxen.

"Howdy," he saluted when the equipage finally arrived in front of his residence. "Whur are you—p'tu!—going to?"

"Well, I'll tell you," responded the venerable man who walked beside the oxen. "I loaded up my family and one thing and another a spell ago, aiming to go to Oklahoma, as it were. But I've had to turn out'n the road and stop so often to let automobiles, wagons, and so forth go by, and then prob'ly got stuck in the mud and had a h—l of a time in dragging out and getting started ag'in, that, all things considered, I don't reckon I'm going no place."—Kansas City Star.

Relics of the Fourteenth Century.

An interesting relic of the early Fourteenth century was discovered by workmen when they were excavating below the foundation of a disused building in the ancient parish church of Mold, Flintshire. They unearthed a tombstone which bears an inscription showing that "Gwenllian daughter of Ieuan ap David ap Iorwerth" was buried there. History records that the latter was one of the gentlemen of "Ffyn" who did homage to the first prince of Wales at Chester in 1301. When the old tower of the parish church was taken down in 1773, it is recorded that a large number of human bones were found near the same spot.

POST ROAD FARM MILK

Do you ever stop to consider the source of your milk supply? Do you know that the milk you receive daily is coming from a herd of cows that are clean and healthy?

Do you know that the stable, in which these cows are kept, is clean and sanitary?

Do you know that the milking is done in a sanitary, careful way?

Do you know that the milk is carefully bottled and delivered?

Do you know that the tuberculin test has been applied to the herd of cattle supplying you with milk and that you are now receiving milk from a tubercular free herd?

Unless you are getting milk handled under these conditions, you are not getting the best. The source of a milk supply will easily determine its quality.

We invite you to inspect our Dairy. If you order from Post Road Farm you will get a rich, clean milk of fine flavor.

PRICE 18 cts. PER QUART

DEATH OF MRS. STONE

Mrs. Abby House Stone, a highly respected resident of Newton for the past eighteen years, died suddenly from heart trouble early Saturday morning at her home on Jefferson street, Newton. Mrs. Stone was born in Berlin, Vermont, the daughter of Rev. David Stickey and was 81 years of age.
She married Mr. Andrew H. Stone of Watertown and resided for many years in that town where she was active in the Woman's Relief Corps and other organizations. Since the death of her husband she has resided at Oak Square and Newton. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Frances Stickey Stone of Newton and one sister, Mrs. Lois Perkins of Rockford, Illinois.
Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the home of her niece, Mrs. John F. Green of Watertown, Rev. E. S. Meredith officiating and the burial was in the family lot in the Common street cemetery of that place.

MacKINNON-DONOVAN

Miss Katherine A. Donovan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Donovan of Auburndale, Sept. 14, became the bride of Mr. George C. MacKinnon of Brighton, last Saturday morning, the ceremony being performed at the rectory of the church of Corpus Christi, by the pastor, Rev. Fr. T. P. MacManmon.
A wedding breakfast for the immediate members of both families followed the ceremony at the home of the bride on Auburn street.
After a wedding trip to New York and the South, Mr. and Mrs. MacKinnon will reside in Boston, where both are members of the editorial staff of the Boston Advertiser.
The bride is a graduate of Wellesley College in the class of 1916 and the groom graduated from Boston College in 1917.

Lady Luck Was With Him.

An illiterate justice of the peace used to consult what looked like a law book, but was only a mail order catalogue. One day a negro was hailed before the squire on a charge of drunkenness. The squire heard the evidence and then, after opening his book and glancing at it, fined the negro $4.49, to be worked out on the roads at 25 cents per day. As the negro was being led away, he said to the marshal: "I sho is a unlucky nigger!" "Unlucky nothing," said the marshal. "If the squire had happened to open that book at automobiles instead of pants you'd be working on the road for the rest of your life."—New York Evening Mail.

Household Prodigious Breeder.

Supposing a great anti-household campaign were so successful that only one specimen was left alive in the whole world, should we be rid of these carriers of disease? Hardly, for the household can increase with amazing speed. If all survived, the descendants of a single fly would number 50,000, 000,000 before the end of the summer. If all these could be killed in a new campaign, 3,000 carts would be needed to remove the slain!

A Fresh Start.

Miss M. writes that while she was visiting her sister in the country she overslept one morning and was awakened by her little niece, three and a half years old, who exclaimed: "Aunt Annie, get up; the world has begun!"

LAW TO BE ENFORCED

The campaign by Mr. Frank Goodwin, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, to enforce the automobile laws reached Newton last night when State highway inspectors rounded up more than 300 cars on Washington street, West Newton, about half way between West Newton and Newtonville.
Most of the work was carried on between Cross and Eddy streets, where cars were examined for headlights, tail lamps, focus, legal lenses, brakes, license and registrations. Of the 300, about 190 were found to be faulty in some respects, and tagged. The owners of tagged automobiles will be compelled to meet the requirements of the new laws within a week, and send the tag placed on the car by inspectors to Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of motor vehicles. Of 100 at fault, six of the drivers had no license, and five no registrations. Two offenders had never registered their cars.
Officers were kept busy warding off youngsters who held up automobilists and warned them that they were to be inspected by authorities "down the road." The children collected whatever fees they could from their tips to operators.

The inspection was directed by State Inspectors Edward G. O'Hara and Hugh Grive, assisted by Inspectors Daniel Doyle, Robert O'Brien, Cornelius Merrigan, Walter F. Haley, Roy Early and Robert Huddy.

Some Interesting Facts About the Various Departments of the City by J. C. Brimblecom

CITY CLERK'S DEPARTMENT

The office of clerk or "clerk" as it is spelled in the more ancient records is one of the most important in the city, as it comes in constant contact with every citizen from the cradle to the grave.

In many respects it is a state rather than a city office, for many of its duties are arbitrarily fixed by statute and must be performed, with or without approval of the city government.

Recording the vital statistics of the city is one of these state duties and a duplicate of the annual records of births, marriages and deaths must be filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The care of the elections is also another important state duty, which cannot be ignored.

While the return of births which take place in this city is required by law from every physician, who is paid 25 cents for making such return, it has been found necessary to check up these returns by having a canvass made of the entire city once each year. The canvasser usually begins immediately after the New Year, and with the growing cosmopolitan character of the city, an interpreter is often necessary to obtain all the required facts from the numerous families of Poles, French and Italians. 790 births were recorded last year, 414 males and 376 females.

Persons in this state who wish to marry must obtain a certificate at the cost of one dollar, from the city or town clerk where each resides. The application for this certificate must be made five days before it can be issued, unless special permission for immediate use is given by the judge of the local police court. 561 marriage intentions were filed last year. After the marriage has taken place the person performing the same must return the certificate to the city clerk properly endorsed as to the time and place of the marriage, and it becomes a part of the permanent records of the office. 599 marriages were so recorded in 1922.

Returns of death are first filed with the board of health, and once a month are deposited with the city clerk for permanent record.

The city clerk is also clerk of the board of aldermen and has charge of all the clerical work in connection therewith. This involves the filing, indexing and the proper care of all the papers acted upon by the board, making a record of the same, and causing copies and notices of the action taken by the board to be given to persons interested. As over 52,000 papers are now on file in this connection, it can be easily seen that considerable labor is necessary in this department. And yet the system of indexing is so complete that any paper desired, whether filed in 1923 or in 1874, can be found within a few seconds.

It is also a part of the city clerk's duties to issue the many kinds of licenses granted by the aldermen and approved by the mayor and to collect the required fee for the same. The city clerk also issues the annual licenses to keep dogs, this being a county matter. 1739 dog licenses were issued last year and the sum of $4,370 remitted to the county treasurer. It may be of interest to note in this connection that the dog money from all the cities and towns in Middlesex County, is used as a fund from which damages caused by dogs throughout the county, and approved by the County Commissioners, are paid, and the balance is apportioned and returned to each municipality the following year. Newton received all of its contribution but $508.69 in 1922, and by a further statute, this money must be used for either school or library purposes. In this city it is placed to the credit of the school department by Budget arrangement.

Licenses to hunt and fish are also issued by the city clerk at a cost of $2 each for residents and $15 for un-naturalized citizens. Over $500 was received from this source in 1922 and the amount paid over to the Commissioners on Fisheries and Game as required by law.

Possibly the most interesting work of this interesting office is that connected with the conduct of elections. This includes the selection of proper polling place, the fitting up of the same for the work of the precinct officers, the preparation of ballots for the city election and the care of the ballots furnished for the state election, the arrangements for recording and forwarding the vote and the cancelled ballots, and in connection with the registrars of voters, of which body the city clerk is also clerk, the preparation of the voting lists and the registration of new voters. With the complicated election laws in this state, the elections of one year are hardly over, before it is necessary to prepare for the next year. The voting lists are first gone over in the most careful manner, to eliminate the names of persons who have died, moved out of the city, or who have

A FAMOUS EDUCATOR

September 29, marks the 100th anniversary of the birth of a remarkable educator of youth, far in advance of his time, a most highly esteemed citizen of Newton, who exercised a marked influence upon the intellectual and civic development of the city.

Nathaniel T. Allen was born at the ancestral home at Medfield, September 29, 1823, and died at his summer home in Lincoln, Maine, August 1, 1903. He was the fourth son of Ellis Allen and Lucy (Lane) Allen and a direct descendant of Elder William Brewster.

The family was always prominent in town and state, and leaders in reform, welcoming new ideas, if their scope appealed to them. Nathaniel Allen put into active practice in the English and Classical School, founded by him in West Newton, in 1854, many methods then new, some of them original, which are today in common use in all schools, recognized as based on pedagogical principles.

This famous school, later called the Allen School, during the almost 50 years of its ownership and conducted by Mr. Allen and his equally gifted brothers, George E., Joseph A., and James T. Allen, had nearly five thousand pupils, coming from every state and territory in the Union, from North and South American countries, from Europe and even from the Orient, receiving some of the first Japanese students who came in 1872. It is believed that the first Cuban to enter a school in the U. S., came to Mr. Allen's School—this was in its first year, 1854.

Among the many prominent men and women who were educated at this school, were: Webster Wells, professor of Mathematics at Mass. Institute of Technology; Roland Thaxter, Professor of Botany at Harvard; John Nuicat Rice, Professor of Mathematics at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis; Edward Ellis Allen (son of James T.) Superintendent of the Perkins Institution for the Blind; Sarah Fuller, Principal of the Horace Mann School for the deaf; the Denton Brothers, specialists in Natural history and makers of Natural history models; Ledyard Sargent of the Sargent School of Gymnastics; William S. Whitwell, M. D., famous nerve specialist of New York; William H. Bager, M. D., of Boston; Judges John Davis of the U. S. Court of Claims and Robert R. Bishop, of the Superior Court of Mass.; Eben S. Draper, former Governor of Mass.; Walter Crafts, distinguished mining engineer; William H. Hall, explorer and Curator

THE NEWTON HOSPITAL

The annual meeting of the Newton Hospital was held on Monday evening, September 24th, at the Nurse's Home on the Hospital grounds. The meeting was called to order at 8 P. M., by Mr. C. E. Kelsey, Vice-President of the Corporation. Miss Allen, Superintendent of the Hospital, gave an exceedingly interesting report of the year's work, emphasizing the progress that had been made along many lines towards increased efficiency and making an earnest plea that friends of the Hospital might come forward at this time with funds to build additional rooms both for the nurses and private patients.

The Treasurer's report showed a deficit from actual hospital business of about $17,000, for the year, this being entirely taken care of, however, by donations. The report further showed an increase during the year of over $53,000, in the Endowment Funds of the Hospital.

Mr. Kelsey referred to the loss during the year of three of the trustees, Newton C. Bray, who has served the Hospital for twenty-one years, sixteen years of that time as president, Mr. George Royal Pulsifer, who had served for nineteen years, fourteen years as treasurer, and Mrs. James R. Carter, who had served faithfully and well as trustee for twelve years. Suitable resolutions were spread upon the records for each of these loyal friends of the Institution.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was as follows: Mr. C. E. Kelsey, President; Mr. A. R. Weed, First Vice-President; Mr. F. A. Schirmer, Second Vice-President; Mr. S. M. Bolster, Treasurer; Mr. W. F. Chase, Clerk.

The former Board of Trustees was re-elected and the new members elected were Mr. Herbert M. Cole of West Newton and Mr. Charles B. Gordon of Newton Centre.

LODGES

At the Castle Hall, Newtonville, Tuesday evening, Newton Lodge No. 110, K. P., Deputy Grand Chancellor DeSilva and suite installed the following officers:

Fred L. Howe of Newton Centre, Chancellor Commander; Charles Cobb of Needham, as Vice Chancellor.

A contribution was made to the Newton Red Cross for their relief work in Japan. Plans were started for a Whist Party at an early date. After the meeting most of the members and guests went to Waltham to visit the K. P. Lodge there.

ROTARY ACTIVITIES

Members of the Newton Rotary Club have participated in two events during the past week which have contributed materially to the interest and enthusiasm which this comparatively new organization is developing among its membership, and the rapidly with which the club is taking its place among the live and worthwhile organizations of the city.

The first of these was the outing over the week-end, at Camp Mashnee, "Joe" Crowell's island camp near Plymouth, and the second the weekly meeting at the Newton Club on Monday, when a large attendance and unusually interesting program added another highly successful meeting to the rapidly growing list of successful events in which the membership is justly taking a great deal of pride.

The outing was enjoyed by about twenty members of the local club, including a few guests, who left Newton Saturday noon and motored to a point near Plymouth where other transportation was awaiting them for Camp Mashnee, located on a 65-acre island off Monument Beach. The outing committee, including President "Bill" Halliday, Vice President George Martin, and Secretary George Haynes, had prepared a varied program which began upon arrival, and continued until late Sunday afternoon, when the start was made for home. There were no dull moments, with perhaps the baseball game between teams captained by President Halliday and Walter Gregg, won by the former, 17 to 5, and "eats" as the big feature.

To avoid casualties, the host, "Joe" Crowell, was chosen as umpire, for the ball game, and his decisions were accepted without serious argument as the outing was proving so pleasant that no one desired to bring it to an untimely end. The "eats" were looked after in a manner that left nothing to be desired, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Piper being in charge of this important detail and attending to it in a manner that made the "eats" one of the happiest memories of an event that was memorable in many ways.

A wide variety of other sports, both outdoor and indoor, featured the twenty-four hours spent at the camp, including sailing, swimming, volleyball, and a ping-pong tournament that developed several new champions and a lot of fun.

Everyone returned safe and sound and the outing crowd was present with full ranks—excepting Secretary Geo. Haynes who was at a Rotary convention at Poland Springs, Me.—at the weekly meeting on Monday noon. President Halliday presided, with Duncan Wright acting as temporary secretary. The names of three applicants for membership were presented at the meeting, to be voted upon at the next meeting on October 1. Other business was routine in character. Rotarian guests were present from the clubs at Boston and Presque Isle, Me. The chief guest and speaker was Arthur T. Fittz, director of the De-

THRU THE EMPIRE STATE

From Niagara to Manhattan with the National Editorial Association

Tuesday morning found us already for a trip to Niagara Falls,—an old story to some of us, but ever new and ever interesting even to the most blasé.

A party drove to the falls, in automobiles on the Canadian side, crossing the river on a ferry at Buffalo for the purpose. The river averages perhaps a half mile wide, and is said to be quite deep until it reaches the rapids above the falls. The surrounding country is level, the shore lines being perhaps twenty feet above the river. Perhaps ten miles below the lake the river is divided into two channels, a considerable island, perhaps a mile wide and several miles long, lying between the two branches of the stream. This island is U. S. property, our Uncle Sam seeming to have been very successful in grabbing the islands in both the Niagara and the St. Lawrence.

A splendid boulevard on the Canadian side parallels the river all the way down to the Falls and beyond. Under the law of Canada the commonwealth owns sixty feet from the top of the bank on all lakes and streams above certain dimensions, and the boulevard is constructed on this strip of government ground. It would be difficult to discover a more beautiful drive anywhere.

The difference between the Canadian and the American shores of the river is striking. The Canadian side is bordered by well kept farms and occasional villages. The American side is industrial all the way and anything but beautiful. The Canadians, we take it, are more restful, greater lovers of the beautiful, and altogether opposed to having this wonder locality mused up by smoky, greasy, dirty factories. The practical American way seems to get the people, though. They seem to be more interested in employment, and plenty than they are in unemployment, and beauty. After the rapids begin and the Canadians on their side have a few power houses, which take water from the river for power purposes, and run it back into the river so that

It goes over the falls, diminishing then not a particle, the boulevard continues right along the shore and the power houses stand back out of the way. The power houses are splendid stone structures set in the midst of gardens of flowers and groves of trees. They do not detract from the general beauty of the scene.

We made a hurried return on the American side to our hotel where after a hasty luncheon we took a special train for the city of Rochester. Here we were met by numerous automobiles provided by the newspaper publishers of that city and given a most delightful ride.

This city was found to be all that had been claimed for it—one of the most beautiful cities in New York state. It is a progressive city of over 300,000 population and is situated on the Genesee river, a stream which has enormous waterpower possibilities. It has some 1700 manufactories which represent two hundred million of invested funds and an annual wage of over one hundred million dollars. Among the articles made are women's shoes, men's clothing, motion picture films and other photographic supplies, telephone apparatus, ivory buttons, paper boxes, soda fountain syrups. Its river forms an excellent harbor where large lake steamers and other boats find commodious docks and with the state Barge Canal, five railways and trolley lines which combine to make Rochester a retail and wholesale distributing point as well as a manufacturing city.

As a residential city it has many advantages. First its location is conducive to health, being on a high plateau, then within easy traveling distance are many lakes and streams and other natural beauty spots just made for recreation and outdoor entertainment. It is but a little way to Lake Ontario or to the romantic region of the Finger Lakes where wild gorges and enchanted waterfalls or historic Indian trails await vacation days.

The city has a park system of over

121 Families Are

Waiting

—waiting their turn to borrow money from this bank, in order to buy homes in Newton. Taking them in their turn, we shall be unable to serve the last of these 121 families for two or three months. But with YOUR aid, we can do it much sooner. YOU CAN HELP THOSE WAITING FAMILIES AND YOURSELF in either one or both of the following ways:

- (1) By Purchasing Paid-Up Shares at $200 each. $48,800 sold already this month. $51,200 more available.
- (2) By taking 1 to 40 New Shares on Monthly Payment Plan at $1 per month each. These mature at $200 each in about 140 months.

Money deposited in these shares draws interest from date of deposits—the rate has been for 26 years 5 1/2% compounded quarterly. On the New Share basis $1 a month deposited for 140 months becomes $200; $10 a month grows in 140 months to $2000; $40 a month amounts in 140 months to $8000. Deposits withdrawable any time with little or no loss of interest.

Mr. Pittz gave an interesting and especially instructive twenty-minute talk on "How to analyze a security," followed by a question period of approximately the same length, the interest of those present in the speaker's subject serving to materially extend the session beyond the time limit, an infrequent occurrence in the annals of the club. Mr. Pittz pointed out the most desirable types of securities, the features that contributed to the safety of each, and spoke especially of several well-known stocks and bonds that are recognized as being of the gilt-edge variety. Specific information regarding the safety of certain well-known securities was given in answer to the many questions asked, as well as general information as to other types of securities not covered during the talk. A rising and enthusiastic vote of thanks was tendered the speaker upon conclusion.

A FAMOUS EDUCATOR

of the Smithsonian in Washington; Joseph Thacher Clarke, explorer and excavator at Assos; William Haskell, editor; Lothrop Stoddard, Mary Robb, and Esther Tiffany, authors; Mary A. Greene, (2nd woman to be admitted to the Mass. Bar) legal author; Carlos Yzuaga, mayor of Trinidad, Cuba; and Baron Megata of Tokio, Japan, who has held many high positions in the Imperial Cabinet.

During the long career of the School (16) sixteen members of the Allen family taught in it, eight (8) at one period, and their aggregate service counts up two hundred and fifty-five years. Brothers, uncles, daughters, nieces and cousins participated in this service, among the most distinguished being Rev. Joseph Henry Allen, D. D. of Cambridge, and Professor William F. Allen of the University of Wisconsin, authors of text-books in Latin and History. No wonder the School gradually assumed the name, "Allen School."

Nathaniel T. Allen was one of the earliest graduates of the State Normal School at Bridgewater, Mass., he also studied at the Troy Polytechnic, in New York. He began his career in West Newton in 1848, as principal of the Model School connected with the State Normal School, newly established by Horace Mann. Normal Schools were then in the experimental stage and Horace Mann had to contend with much opposition. He was always the firm friend and helper of Mr. Allen, who resided for a time in his family, and whose success in the Model School was very marked.

When the Normal School was removed to Framingham, Mr. Allen, by the advice of Horace Mann and others bought the vacated building, which stood where the Unitarian Church now stands, at the corner of Washington and Highland Streets, and opened a Co-educational School. Rev. Cyrus Peirce, a noted educator, was associated, at first, with Mr. Allen; later, the brothers came to West Newton and were associated with Nathaniel T. Allen, as principals.

Some of the special features of this School were:

- (1) Coeducation, unique at that period;
- (2) No distinctions of race or color;
- (3) The family system of home life in the families of the principals, for the boarding pupils;
- (4) The stress laid upon the physical development, as well as the mental and moral;
- (5) Supervised Play, the teachers directing the activities at recess and on the ball field;
- (6) Addresses by famous men and women, who were attracted to the school by the principals by which West Newton was greatly benefited, for the Allens always extended a warm welcome to the citizens on such occasions; and finally,
- (7) Special cultivation of the social life of the school, by dramatics, debates, and parties. The school was a pioneer in working out every sane new idea advanced in Pedagogy.

The first true Kindergarten in the U. S. was established here, in 1863, by Mrs. Louise Pollock, who came at the invitation of the Allens from Germany and was continued at the School, though at a pecuniary loss, till Kindergarten were well established. The first gymnasium in any Secondary School was built by Mr. Allen. Nature studies were taught from the first, even to the youngest pupils, and the children and students were taken to the woods and fields for the study of plants and trees. It was a pioneer in instituting regular written examinations; in holding stated faculty meetings; in stressing the active co-operation of parents, including term reports to them which gave a mental picture of the pupil as the teachers saw him; in the general exercises for the whole school, including Current Events; in the Wednesday Moral lectures, inculcating moral precepts, and in the wholly unique Saturday session, where pupils could make up lessons in which they had failed.

The distinguishing feature of the school was its emphasis on the acquiring of character, as the object of all education. Not that other schools did not do this, but the peculiar feature of this school was, that this was always kept before pupils, so that none could fail to realize that all instructions and discipline was but a means to the end of developing a strong, well rounded, self reliant character.

In 1869, Mr. Nathaniel T. Allen with his family went to Europe for 2 years. As an agent of the U. S. Commissioner of Education, he made a special study of the then exceedingly popular and highly praised German system of education. His report, printed by the U. S. Government, shows that he at once grasped the radical defect which now all recognize, that all German education "is with special reference to the fact that none of these children are ever to come into possession of manhood as we understand true manhood to be, with its broad and intelligent freedom restricted only by those laws of their country which are in accordance with the laws of God. They are simply and purely Government schools, not public and common, as we understand these terms," and the ultimate object of their training is the aggrandizement of the German sovereign.

Mr. Allen's interest in public affairs was always keen. "The Allen's," said their friend, Edwin B. Haskell, "stood upon their own theories and views of life, and their opinions, plainly expressed in all sorts of political and municipal gatherings, were a sort of moral tonic to the community." Their moral standards were the highest especially was this true of Nathaniel T. Allen, and led to great influence in all movements that were projected for the good of the community. He was an active Garrison Abolitionist, a Vice-President of the American Peace Society, actively working for it. He was one of the founders and a strong supporter of the Unitarian Church in West Newton, being a deeply religious man. His heart was ever warm with him against all forms of injustice, oppression, and cruelty, so that he needs must throw himself, with voice and pen, and decisive action, into the thick of the fight, regardless of the cost to himself. As a lover of peace, he was bitterly opposed to military instruction in the schools and in 1864, aroused public opinion to such an extent against military drill in the public schools, that the legislature voted not to have military drill in the eldest daughter, Fanny Bassett Allen.

Among the special services of Mr. Nathaniel Allen to the city of Newton may be mentioned his aid in founding the Associated Charities and the Pomroy Home for Orphan Girls, of whose board he was for 30 years President. He was a cheery, mirth loving man, of powerful physique and abounding good spirits, full of sympathy and helpfulness, especially to the sick, aged and poor, whom he delighted to serve in all ways. His wife, Caroline (Bassett) Allen was his true helpmate. One wonders what the school would have been without this accomplished charming woman, the mother and loving friend of every pupil under her roof. The Golden Wedding was celebrated March 30, 1903. Mrs. Allen lived until 1915. The eldest daughter, Fanny Bassett Allen was a leader in all that was uplifting. Descended from Phineas Allen of Revolutionary times, she took great interest in the D. A. R. and was for years the Lucy Lincoln Chapter of Newton and its first Regent. To her the city owes its Playground Movement in a large measure.

The second daughter, Sarah Caroline Allen, also a public spirited and gifted woman, married P. H. Cooney, a lawyer of Boston. She died at her home in Natick, in 1897. The Sarah Allen Cooney Memorial Church (Unitarian) at Natick perpetuated her active work in its founding. The surviving daughter, Lucy Ellis Allen, owns and conducts the Misses Allen School in West Newton. Thus the traditions of the older school are carried on, especially in the emphasis upon character building and upon service for mankind.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—"Six Cylinder Love" will be the offering of the Boston Stock Company this week. The play is a sermon on automobiles and extravagant living, having as its central characters the Sterlings, a newlywed couple. Gilbert Sterling has just purchased a cottage in the suburbs, and with this purchase went the usual mortgages. The cleverness of an automobile salesman adds a six cylinder car and additional debts. The automobile is the magnet which attracts the usual group of "hangers-on," thereby increasing the responsibilities of the young husband now plunged head-over-heels in debt. How he extricates himself from this predicament forms an interesting plot to which William Anthony McGuire, author of the play, adds brilliant dialogue and amusing situations.

not been assessed on April 1st; transfers made of the names of those who have moved from one part of the city to another, and the voting list as thus revised forms the basis for the list to be used at the next election. As there were 18,900 names on the list at the last election it will be readily seen that no small amount of labor is required as well as the utmost care. The city clerk usually does the preliminary work for the mayor in the appointment of the election officers required by the 17 voting precincts of the city, but as the pay for these positions is usually good, ranging from $10 to $12 per day, there is not much difficulty in obtaining fairly good men, although they must be of different political parties. Registration of voters is required before every primary and every election, and it has been the custom in this city to give an opportunity for voters to register in each village, at least once each fall. On the last day for registration fixed by law, the registrars must remain in continuous session from noon until ten o'clock P. M. The cost of elections in 1922 was over $3000 and the cost of registration was about $1092.

The preparation of the jury list is also a duty of the registrars of voters, under the direction of the city clerk. The law requires that the jury list which consists of the names of voters liable for jury duty shall contain 462 names. A stringent law placed on the statute books a few years ago, provides a heavy penalty for anyone who attempts to influence any registrars while performing this duty. In Newton it is the custom for the registrars to apportion to each precinct its share of the total number of names, and then go over each precinct list eliminating the name of every voter who is exempt from jury service by law, the exemptions being many and varied. The names remaining are placed on separate slips of paper, placed in a box and drawn out, one by one until the quota for that particular precinct has been completed. The names so selected are placed in the jury box on separate slips of paper and when a venire is issued by the court, the required number of names is drawn from this box by the board of aldermen.

The city clerk is also required to record such papers as mortgages of personal property, certificates of married women doing business on their own account, the names of persons doing business under titles other than their own, assignments of wages and bills of sale. All of these are carefully copied, and indexed.

He is also the agent of the board of aldermen for the distribution of Soldiers' Relief, a gratuity required by law to old soldiers and their widows, and which cannot be made by the Charity department. In this connection he is also the agent of the board of aldermen for the burial of deceased soldiers, who would otherwise be buried as paupers.

The city clerk also has the duty of providing for the printing of the annual reports of the various departments of the city and for all the printing required by the board of aldermen, amounting in 1922 to over $2163. For the last two years the City Clerk has also acted as clerk of the committees of the board of aldermen, a position requiring a large amount of night work and the preparation of many reports and orders.

From all of the above it is easy to prove the statement made at the beginning of this article that the city clerk comes in contact with every citizen from the cradle to the grave. He first notes the birth, issues the certificate of marriage, notes the birth of the children, issues the licenses for many kinds of business, which he may require, dog licenses if he inclines in that direction, provides for registration as a voter, and makes arrangements for him to exercise his rights of franchise, gives him notice of street, sidewalk or sewer improvements in his neighborhood, and finally records his death. No other office of the city, therefore, so closely touches the daily life of every man as that of the city clerk.

THOMAS-TAFFE

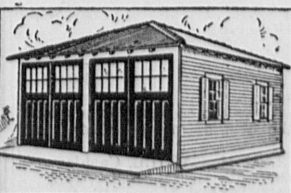

The wedding of Catherine H. Taffe of 8 Raymond place, West Newton, and Benjamin H. Thomas, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Thomas of 20 Emerson street, Newton, took place at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, last Sunday evening at 7.30. Rev. J. J. Allston performed the ceremony. Miss Alice Taffe, sister of the bride was bridesmaid, and William Whelan of Allston was best man.

The bride wore a gown of gray chiffon crepe with hat and shoes to match, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid was attired in blue chiffon velvet with gray trimmings with a gray hat and shoes to match. She carried a bouquet of pink tea roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. The house was prettily decorated with pink and blue crepe paper and flowers. About 75 friends were present from Newton, Brighton, Brookline, and Brockton. Mr. Walter Spellman of Brighton and Mr. Louis Carley entertained at the piano. The bride received many beautiful gifts including cut glass, silver, and linens.

After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will make their home in Newton. The bride is the daughter of the late Richard Taffe, a Newton police officer for 31 years.

1600 acres which is distributed over the entire corporation. One park has a four-mile frontage on Lake Ontario. There are municipal bathing beaches and public base ball parks, tennis courts and golf courses for outdoor sports, while many beautiful schools, churches and theatres provide for the educational, spiritual and mental enjoyment and needs of the people.

The Eastman Theatre is the greatest achievement in the city's history. This structure was a gift of George Eastman, of the Eastman Kodak film fame and is an adjunct of the Eastman School of Music, of the University of Rochester. It was opened September 1922, and its purpose or comprehensive scheme is to give the people of Rochester from childhood up the best possible music.

Our party were escorted through this wonderfully constructed building. They had brought to their attention the perfect acoustic conditions; to the art decorations; to the mural paintings, one of which was brought from Italy and is the work of Giordani; the various forms created by the sculptor forming bas relief, decorations, etc. They were taken from room to room, to balconies even, to the emergency hospital where a nurse was in attendance. While a motion picture house, most of the time, on Wednesday nights it is converted into a concert hall where vocal and instrumental music is given and each year there is to be a grand opera season.

In size, the house is the largest in America, with the exception of but two—the Capitol and the Hippodrome in New York City. In architecture and design, it represents the best thought and artistic ability that the land can offer.

The architects have builded a marble house of music and picture drama, in the Italian Renaissance type of architecture. The exterior is of a great dignity and simplicity. This same note is carried into the interior of the building. A unique entrance lobby, of oval form, leads to a multiplicity of interior lobbies and stairs. Yet many as these are—an audience of nearly 3,500 folk needs ample elbow-room for its comings and its goings—the entire interior arrangement is so simple that a child might easily find his way through all of it.

There are three floors to the great auditorium; a wide sweep of main orchestra floor and a vast gallery—designated the grand balcony—with a comparatively narrow mezzanine balcony set in between them. For it is to be remembered always that the University of Rochester's theatre is designed for a wider scope of endeavor than even the motion-picture, with the music that can appropriately be combined with it, may offer. The house is also designed for great concerts and grand opera, both of which have already been inaugurated there most successfully.

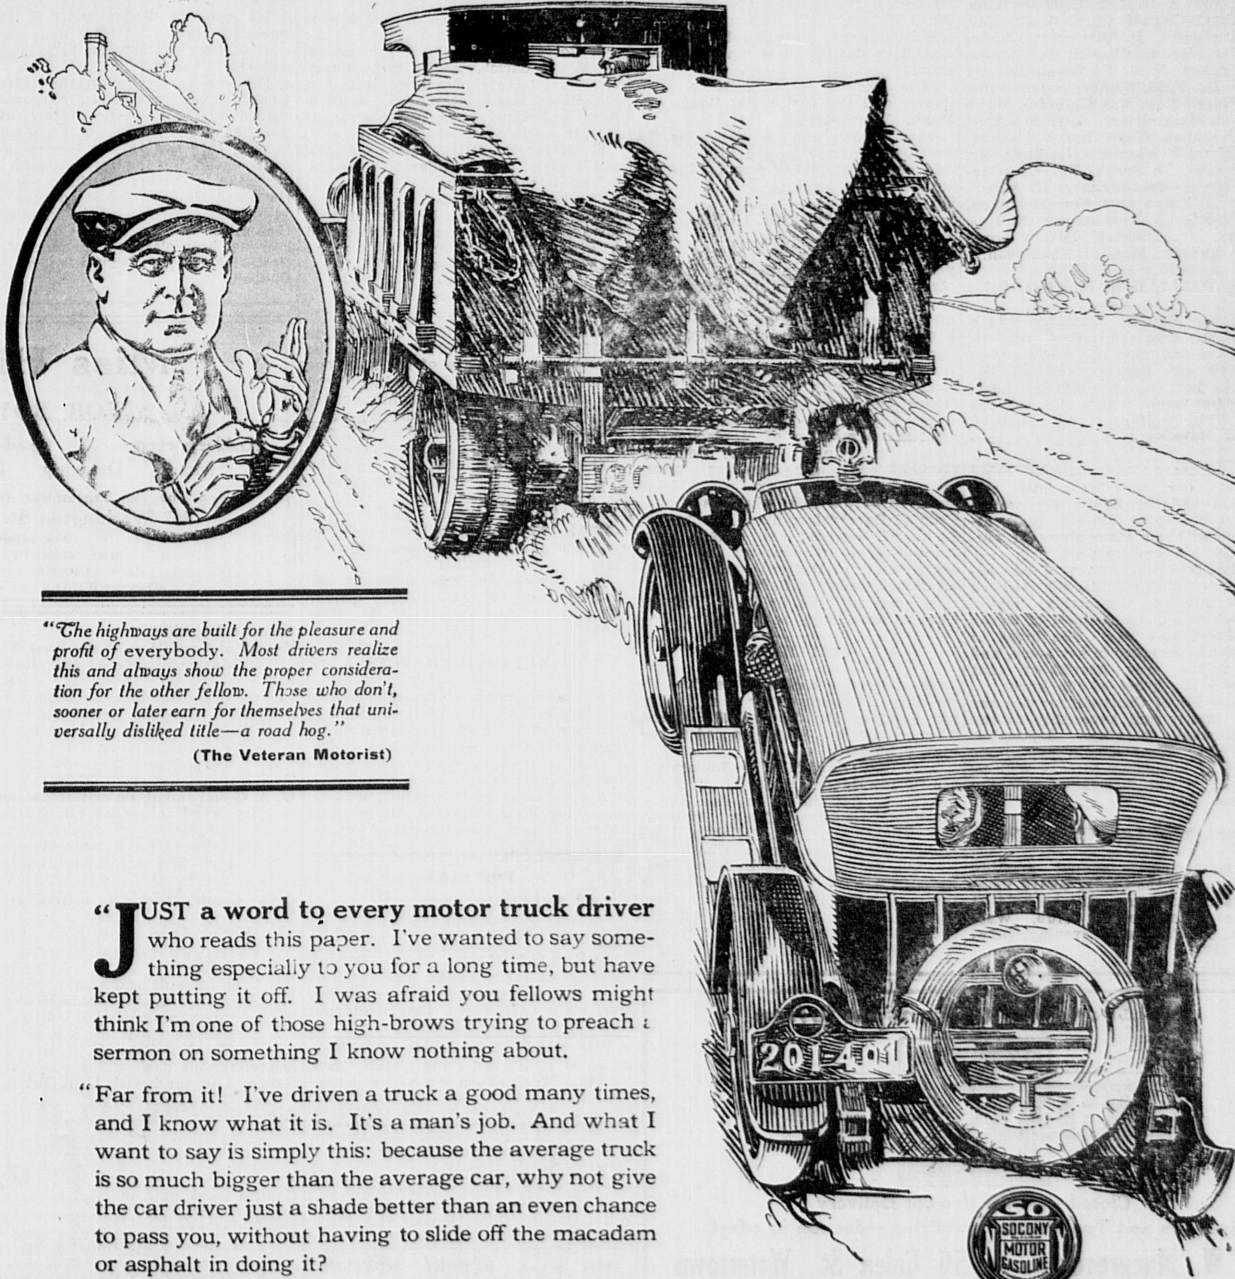

Upon the glories of the interior of the Eastman Theatre much might be written. Its ceiling assuredly is one of the handsomest in America; the great chandelier that from it hangs pendant, is a glowing, living thing of superb incandescent beauty. The side-walls of the main auditorium bear huge murals by Ezra Winter and Barry Faulkner, which depict the progress of music. There is a dream of a Maxfield Parrish, painted especially for the house, at a conspicuous turn of its main stair—other great paintings here and there and everywhere within it. It is a treasure-box of the fine arts.

Following our visit to the Eastman Theatre, we were entertained at dinner in the Chamber of Commerce building, another gift of Mr. Eastman to the city—a dinner enlivened by a song leader who certainly knew his business.

Rochester is not a lake port, and is some eight or ten miles distant from Summerville, a superb which combines a lakeside resort and a lake port for Rochester business. Here we embarked on a specially chartered steamer for a night's sail to Alexandria Bay, our next stopping place. (To be continued)

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The executive committee of the society met at Mr. Fred Alexander's on Fair Oaks avenue, Tuesday evening,

"The highways are built for the pleasure and profit of everybody. Most drivers realize this and always show the proper consideration for the other fellow. Those who don't, sooner or later earn for themselves that universally disliked title—a road hog."

(The Veteran Motorist)

JUST a word to every motor truck driver who reads this paper. I've wanted to say something especially to you for a long time, but have kept putting it off. I was afraid you fellows might think I'm one of those high-brows trying to preach a sermon on something I know nothing about.

"Far from it! I've driven a truck a good many times, and I know what it is. It's a man's job. And what I want to say is simply this: because the average truck is so much bigger than the average car, why not give the car driver just a shade better than an even chance to pass you, without having to slide off the macadam or asphalt in doing it?

"I don't believe that a single truck driver ever really means to hog the road. But a good many times he forgets. All he's got to do is to stick to his half of the road, and he's 'done his duty'. And it's better for everyone concerned. Incidentally, I understand that every driver in the big, attractive Socony fleet of trucks has special instructions to keep his machine well over to the right—never to hog the road."

DEATH OF MR. HOLMES

Mr. Joseph Holmes died at his home on Adams street on Monday in his 92d year. He was born in Pittsburg, Pa., and had lived in Newton about 50 years where until about six months ago he ran a local express. He was a color sergeant in the Fifth Massachusetts Cavalry during the Civil War, and was the color bearer of the Charles Ward Post.

He leaves a widow and three daughters. Services were held at his late residence on Wednesday by members of the Grand Army, and also a religious service, Rev. Laurens MacLure, of Grace Church officiating, and the burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM H. PARTRIDGE

Prudence Farwell Partridge was a type of the true Christian matron. She looked out upon the world cheerfully and with interest, and was devoted to her church, but her heart was in her home where she was the queen. The welfare of her husband and her children were her chief concern.

Full of energy and vigor of mind and body, her ways were quiet and gracious; and the family life was a reflex of her spirit, simple, quiet, attractive, with an atmosphere of mutual affection and respect.

In the lives and doings of her acquaintances and friends she had an interest, always thoroughly benevolent, which expressed itself in works of kindness and love. She loved to have friends with her in her home, and hers was the true hospitality that gladdened the heart of the guest.

After a life of Christian service she passed quietly and peacefully to the Life Eternal Tuesday, September twenty-fifth. The remembrance of her life and of her many virtues will be treasured in the hearts of all who knew her here.

CLAFIN GUARD VETERANS

The twenty-eighth annual meeting and banquet of the Clafin Guard Veterans Association, Inc., will be held at the Brae-Burn Country Club, West Newton, on Wednesday evening, October 10, 1923.

WEST NEWTON CIRCUS

The weather man certainly favors the West Newton Day Nursery, for he designed to show a smiling face on Thursday afternoon when a circus for the benefit of this well-known charity was held on the beautiful estate of Mrs. Herbert L. Felton on Chestnut street, West Newton.

As usual the animals, playful bears, parrot, racoon, rabbits, and the ever lively monkey proved drawing cards, especially for the boys, as was the football autographed by George Owen. Girls were attracted to the candy table, fruit and flower tables, doll's trunk upon which chances were offered, ice cream table, and fortune-telling booths.

An unusual feature was Dr. Uneedham with his extraordinary medicine warranted to make one either thin or fat as the case might be. The part of Dr. Uneedham was ably taken by Mrs. Phillip I. Dunbar.

The lollipop tree with its chocolate cat and cinnamon dog proved a fascinating spot. Pony rides, ring toss, balloon men and "hot dogs" were also attractions.

For the grown-ups the most interesting spot was the terrace decorated with wisteria blossoms where afternoon tea was served by maidens in beautiful real Japanese kimonos.

Special features during the afternoon were the Punch and Judy Show and the Bicycle Parade.

Mrs. Ernest Cooper was chairman of the whole affair. Mrs. C. E. Benson had charge of the novelties, Mrs. E. W. Whorf of the lemonade; Mrs. S. M. Bolster of the grabs; Mrs. M. E. Bonzaquin and Mrs. Norman McCutcheon of the "hot dogs"; ice cream, Mrs. Herbert L. Felton; candy, Miss Elizabeth Eddy; tea table in charge of Mrs. Harry L. Ayer, assisted by Miss Eleanor Paul, Miss Rosamund Rice, the Misses Louise and Priscilla Eddy, Miss Ann Richardson, and Miss Eleanor Gile.

Mrs. Ernest S. Gile had charge of the tickets, Mrs. Fred Felton, Mrs. Percy Howe, Mrs. Sumner Robinson, and Mrs. William Young of the fruit and flower table; Mrs. Clarence Glazier of the punch board; Mrs. Frederick W. Allen of the ring toss; Mrs. Webster, Miss Eleanor Adams, and Miss Doris Nelson told fortunes, and Miss Bartholemew made silhouettes.

Miss Dorothy Flint gave a solo dance, and the Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps played.

Jean Fisher won the prize for the prettiest costume in the bicycle parade, and Virginia and Ann Leatherbee for the most original.

DEATH OF MR. LAMB

Mr. John Lamb, for nearly forty years associated with the Jordan Marsh Company, and for some time merchandise manager of that house, died yesterday morning at his home, 716 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre. Mr. Lamb was in his fifty-second year, and was a native of Boston. His parents, now deceased, were Robert and Mary Lamb.

Mr. Lamb was active in Masonry and was a member of Massachusetts Lodge, St. Paul's Chapter, DeMolay Commandery, and he also was a member of the Boston City Club. He is survived by his wife, who was Eva L. Carr of Dorchester; a son, George R. Lamb of Newton; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Everett of Everett and Mrs. Mary Penny of Medford; and a brother, James Lamb, of Boston.

Services will be held at Trinity Church, on Sunday at 3 P. M.

CITY CALL

Albert Edgar Angier School

On Tuesday afternoon, a very successful Field Day was held on the School Playground, children from all the grades participating. Much credit for its great success should be given to Playground Instructor, Donald Houghton, who gave a great deal of time and thought to its preparation. The teachers all co-operated splendidly by arousing enthusiasm among the children and also acting as judges in the different events. This was much appreciated as it helped a great deal toward the success of the afternoon. Many parents attended and they all agreed it an afternoon well spent for both parents and children.

Following is the program and the name of the winner in each event.

1. Salute to the Flag: Muriel Andrews, President of Grade 8, acted as Flag bearer and the entire school together with their parents joined in the salute.

2. Relay Races. Grades 1, and 2, won by Grade 2.

15. Basketball Game. Alumni vs. Angier School. Won by Alumni 12-0. Good playing was done by Spain and A. Bliss for Alumni and D. Bliss and L. Woolston for the school.

Bigelow School

School opened with a registration of 574. Of these 70 are housed in the portable, and a class of 28 is in one corner of the assembly hall. There are three divisions of Eighth grade; two Latin and one English division.

The club have been organized, and a school orchestra is being formed. The Dramatic Club is practicing the play "Trial of Fie" to be presented on Fire Prevention Day.

The girls of Eighth grade have formed two Captain Ball teams—Hazel Ericsson and Frances Thompson, captains.

Miss Brown, who was building assistant last year has a fifth grade; the new building assistant is Miss Clow.

TIMETABLE CHANGES

With the ending of daylight saving the Boston and Albany Railroad will put into effect its winter schedule of trains at 2:01 A. M. Sunday morning. A number of changes on the main line and in suburban service are shown in new time table folders, which will be ready for distribution at all stations before the new schedule takes effect.

DEATH OF LOREN D. TOWLE

THE LATE LOREN D. TOWLE

Friends of Mr. Loren D. Towle were greatly shocked to learn that his death took place at the Newton Hospital at seven o'clock this morning.

Mr. Towle attended to business as usual as late as last Saturday and went to the Hospital for an operation on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. Towle was born at Newport, N. H., March 25, 1874, and was educated in the public schools of his native town and at the Eastman Business College, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

He came to Boston some 25 years ago and since that time has become one of the best informed real estate experts in that city.

He was a director in the International Trust Company until it was absorbed by the First National Bank, a member of the Newton board of aldermen in 1910 and 1911, a former president of the Newton Improvement Association, a trustee for three years of the Read Fund, a former deacon and at present chairman of the Prudential Committee of the Eliot Church and had just been elected a member of the Pastoral Supply Committee of that Church.

He was also a life member of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, of the Bostonian Society, Dalhousie lodge of Masons, Newton Royal Arch Chapter, Gethsemane Commandry, K. T., the Hunnewell Club, Eight O'Clock Club, the Boston Chamber of Commerce and other organization.

Mr. Towle married Miss Helen M. Leland, June 28, 1899, and is survived by her and two daughters, the Misses Evelyn Marion and Charlotte Frances Towle.

Mr. Towle was a great lover of flowers and at the beautiful home he has been building on Centre and Cabot streets, he had large conservatories and his exhibits had taken numerous prizes.

Arrangements for the funeral were not completed as we go to press.

"For The Benefit of The People"

Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, has said:

"I know that here in Massachusetts our savings banks . . . are conducted on the whole for the benefit of the public in order that the person of small means who desires to build for himself a home, or purchase a home, may have access to capital and the credit of the community."

President Coolidge, a member of the Board of Trustees, Nonotuck Savings Bank, Northampton, was President of that institution until he went to Washington.

NEWTON WELFARE BUREAU

Because of an increasing need, the Newton Welfare Bureau is organizing a Department of Occupational Therapy which will be under the directorship of Miss Mary Lord, formerly connected with the Boston School of Occupational Therapy and its Department of Home Treatment and Curative Work Shop.

At present, patients are being enrolled for Home Treatment and are visited and given proper treatment through occupation, crafts, exercise, games, play, or reading to meet the individual need and aid the patient in recovery.

Only patients for whom Occupational Therapy will contribute to or hasten the recovery of will be taken. In chronic cases those who can be helped to a more normal condition mentally or physically may be enrolled. This is not a department for commercial work but a scientific department with crafts as a curative treatment. A Curative Work Shop will be opened at the Welfare Bureau where patients able to leave their homes may go for treatment.

If a patient is attended by a doctor, a prescription form must be made out and signed by the doctor. Other patients must present a formal application made out and signed by the organization responsible for the patient. Daily or weekly reports will be made out showing the condition, gain, etc. of the patients, and a carbon copy of such reports may be had at the request of the patient.

THOMAS A. JOYCE REALTY TRUST, 37 Moody Street, WALTHAM, MASS.

BRITISH STATESMAN AND AUTHOR

Viscount Morley, last of the outstanding figures associated with Gladstone and his contemporaries in the stirring political events of the latter part of the nineteenth century, distinguished both as statesman and author, died Sept. 23d at Wimbledon, England. Born December 24, 1833, the son of Jonathan Morley, a surgeon, he studied at Lincoln College, Oxford, taking his degree in 1859. He went at once to London, where he gradually became known as one of the ablest contributors to the literary and political press of the day. In 1873 he was called to the bar at Lincoln's Inn, but never practised law to any extent. From 1867 to 1883, he edited with brilliant success the Fortnightly Review. Upon his election to Parliament in 1883, following two unsuccessful attempts to gain a seat, he assumed editorship of Macmillan's Magazine. In 1886 he became editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, which had been turned into a Liberal paper.

Although not an orator, he was a forcible direct speaker, respected for his strength of character and honesty of conviction even by those who differed from his views. His contributions to political journalism and ethical and philosophical criticism were numerous and valuable. His biography of Gladstone, (EG452-Mo), probably his best-known book, is a masterly account of the career of the great Liberal statesman, enriched as it is by his own intimate knowledge of and connection with many of the most important events narrated; and in spite of his own strong agnostic convictions, his treatment of Mr. Gladstone's powerful religious interests is characterized by sympathy and judgment.

Among his other biographical studies are the following: Edmund Burke, (EB917-M) (English Men of Letters Series, enlarged from an article originally written for the Encyclopedia Britannica.) Diderot and the Encyclopedists, (ED5616-M) (Sets forth what an encyclopedist should be.) Life of Richard Cobden, (EC638-Mo.) (The best account of the agitation which led to the establishment of free trade in England.)

Oliver Cromwell, (EC88-Mo) (Suggests peculiarities in Cromwell's character which go far to explain his failure in every attempt to construct a system which should outlast his own life.)

Rousseau, (ER762-Mo) (The best English work on Rousseau.) Voltaire, (EV889-Mo) A presentation of Voltaire on the supposition that we are already familiar with the main incidents of his life—full of eloquent defence of Voltaire, as well as of critical estimate of his position.

Wolpole, (EW1654-M) (Sympathetic study of the public career of the great financier and statesman, also throws light on political life of the 18th century in England.)

In addition to his biographical works, his writings include: Studies in Literature, (ZY-M827s) (E Critical Miscellanies, 3 vol. ZV11-M82) (A collection of essays and articles on literary subjects, in English and French authors as well as literary notes on the 18th century, including Carlyle, Byron, Macaulay, Emerson, George Eliot, and others.)

Notes on Politics and History, (F-M827no) (A university address.)

On Compromise, (BNCO-M8) (Some of the limits set by sound reason to the practice of the various arts of accommodation, economy, management, conformity or compromise.)

Recollections, (EX872-M) (Covering the period from his boyhood and young manhood through the rich years of his political experience down to 1917.)

On Popular Culture, (Y-9P94 vol. 1) (An address delivered at the Town Hall, Birmingham, Oct. 5, 1876, as president of the Midland Institute, before a class of young men and women.)

MIDDLESEX COUNTY KENNEL CLUB SHOW

The Fall out-door show season of 1923 will have a fitting wind-up at the annual Fall Show of the Middlesex County Kennel Club to be held on Columbus Day, October 12th, on the grounds of the Y. M. C. A., Church street, Newton, Mass.

All breeds are provided for in the premium list, and the judges selected for this event are among the best in the country, eighteen in all will judge a tremendous variety of dogs from the massive St. Bernard to the diminutive Chihuahua, which sometimes only weigh a pound or less. Among the attractions which should especially please Newton people, old and young, alike is the fact that Laddie Boy, the canine friend of the late President Harding has decided to be present at this show to compete for a trophy offered for the most celebrated dog in the United States. He will have a specially designed bench decorated to emphasize his official connection with the highest office in the land and should be a centre of observation.

This being a licensed show under A. K. C. rules, entries have to be made in advance and for that purpose premium lists have been issued to the number of 2500 to a selected list of fanciers of all breeds all over the Eastern states, and intending exhibitors who have not received their copies should send for them at once, as the first closing of entries occurs at midnight, Saturday, Sept. 29th, and the final closing Friday, Oct. 5th for which an additional fee has to be charged under the A. K. C. rules. Close to nine hundred special prizes appear in the premium list—it being one of the largest aggregations of offerings made at an open air show this season.

This show is being held in two large tents with the dogs properly banded and all details perfected by this club which has held shows every year since 1913, which have earned for it a splendid reputation throughout the Dog World.

Further information may be obtained locally from Mr. Eschrigge, the club's secretary, at 32 Paul street, phone Centre Newton 1032-J.

The well-known superintendent of Dog and Horse shows, Mr. Thomas E. L. Kemp, will have charge of this show, and he can be reached by writing to P. O. Box 3203 Boston, or phoning 0799 Main, or 77-3 Bridgewater.

As the success of this show will mean a benefit to the Newton Y. M. C. A., it is hoped that every dog-loving resident of the Garden City will help that success by entering their dogs and by their presence at the show.

BOSTON HEALTH SHOW

Several Citizens of Newton are taking prominent part in the big Health Show which is to be held in Mechanics Building, Boston, from October 6 to 13, under the auspices of the Massachusetts and Boston Health Departments and the Health Exhibit Committee.

Among them are Mr. Herman C. Lythgoe, who as chairman of the committee upon food inspection and adulteration has one of the most valuable and interesting exhibits in the show under his care. He has the assistance as a member of the subcommittee upon milk, Mr. George H. Ellis. The Display which will show the social service work carried on by the hospitals is being arranged by Miss Alla A. Libbey. Miss Mabel C. Bragg has been called upon to give the benefit of her experience to the committee dealing with the nutrition of the school child. Mrs. Roland Hopkins is a member of the general exposition committee.

DEATH OF MRS. FOLLETT

Adelaide Partridge Follett, who died at Newtonville September 25 in her seventy-ninth year, was the youngest daughter of Austin and Sarah Partridge of Paris, Maine. She was the widow of Albert E. Follett, a manufacturing jeweller of Providence, who died several years ago. Mrs. Follett had since made her home with her sister, Mrs. J. D. Billings of Walnut street, Newtonville. Two other surviving sisters are Mrs. S. Porter Stearns of Bethel, Maine and Mrs. O. A. Maxim of Paris, Maine. Mrs. Follett was a member of the Congregational Church and during the years of her life in Providence was an active social and welfare worker.

GIRL SCOUTS

Troop 5—The first meeting of the season of Troop 5 was held in the Entertainment Hall of the Congregational Church, West Newton, on Tuesday of this week. Sixty-seven girls were present. Of these fourteen were applicants wishing to join the Troop this fall. Because of the large number of girls in the Troop it was decided to have them meet in two sections, the younger girls at 3 o'clock each Tuesday and the older girls, those in High School and the last year of Junior High at 4—The two sections will then have half an hour together and at 4:30 the first group will be dismissed leaving the second group to stay until 5:30. With these two smaller groups the girls will be able to do much better Scout work and the Scouts and leaders will have opportunity for closer co-operation, while the Troop Spirit and enthusiasm will be maintained by the Color Ceremony, the Scout Promise and Laws and business meeting which the groups will have together each week.
It was decided also that it would be wise to take new girls into the Troop only three times during the year—the first Tuesdays in October, January, and March. This first meeting was a very enthusiastic one and girls and officers alike are looking forward to the best year yet.

Troop 7 will hold its first meeting on Tuesday, October 2, in the Mason School, Upper Falls, at 7 o'clock.
Camp Mary Day, after a brief period of quiet, awoke with laughter and song again last Friday when a group of 15 Scouts and 5 leaders from Troop 7 spent the weekend there with the Director. On Saturday 4 Scouts from Troops 2-3 Seniors and 5 "hiked" up for the day. It was warm enough for a swim. The girls slept in the tents, had a glorious time and those who had not been there during the summer felt that they had had a taste of the "long time camp" of which they had heard so much. Troop 8 is to spend this week-end in Camp.

SINGERS WANTED

The Newton Choral Society begins rehearsals for its fifth season, Tuesday, October 2, at 7:30 P. M., at Central Church, Newtonville.
Singers wanted on all parts, particularly tenors and basses.
This is a splendid chance for musical practice and enjoyment under an inspiring leader, Mr. Bates of West Newton.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

The West Newton Women's Educational Club will open its season on October 5th, with a "Get-together Meeting" which will take the form of a motor trip, picnic luncheon, and visit to places of historic interest.
This unusual feature has been planned with a view to promoting sociability among the members. A busy year is outlined, with classes in Home Economics, Parliamentary Law, and Travel, also lectures on Art, and a club chorus. Some community service work will also be done, and members are already working to ensure the success of a Christmas party which will be given for 25 little ones from the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children.

Prior to the regular fall opening of the Waban Woman's Club in November, there will be a subscription bridge party, in aid of the Scholarship Fund, held at the Neighborhood Club House, on Monday, October first, at two o'clock. Mrs. James Willing and Mrs. Joseph Bartlett are in charge of the affair and are arranging a pleasant afternoon for all. Come and bring your friends, and have a real time!

Another occasion of great interest is the Indoor Circus to be given for the surplus fund of this Club. This exciting event will come on Wednesday, October 24th, and will be open from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M., under the direction of Mrs. Earle Parker, Mrs.
Eugene Russell and Mrs. Harry Tilton. Come and see the circus and take advantage of the bargain sales at the same time!

A Parliamentary Law Class under the well-known teacher, Mrs. Electa
M. Sherman, is being arranged for Monday afternoons at 1:30 beginning October 8th, at the rooms of the Welfare Bureau, 12 Austin street, Newtonville. Price $1.50 for the course of ten lessons. All ladies interested are invited to join, and applications may be made to Mrs. John R. Mc-Lean, 1947 Beacon Street, Newton Lower Falls.

MOTHERS' CLASS

The Mother's Class which interested so many of the mothers of Newton in its varied and practical program last winter, will be held on the first Tuesday afternoon of each of the fall months, in the Eliot Guild, in the Women's Parlors of Eliot Church, at 3 o'clock.

A program which will appeal to mothers of children of all ages has been planned. It is as follows: October 2nd, "The Influence of Story Telling and of Books in the Home," Mrs.
Harry Fitts; November 6th, "The Influence of Art in the Home," Mr.
Royal B. Farnum, State Director of the State Normal School in Boston.
December 4th, "The Influence of Music in the Home," Mrs. Charles L.
Pincke. It is suggested that those who attend come with paper and pencil prepared to take notes.

A competent person will be glad to take care of children when mothers may wish to bring them.
Tea will be served at the close of each afternoon's program.

D. A. R.

A very pretty and successful card party was held on Monday by the Lucy Jackson Chapter of the D. A. R., at their Chapter House on Washington street.

The affair was under the direction of the members of the chapter from Newton Lower Falls and Wellesley, with Mrs. O. L. Schofield as chairman, and Mrs. Edward B. Parker in charge of the dining room.

The chapter house was most attractively decorated in yellow, yellow daisies forming the center of attraction.

About forty tables were in play.
Following the playing, tea and frappé were served by Mrs. A. S.
Tucker, Mrs. Joseph S. Cordingley, and Mrs. Frederick J. Fesenden.

Prizes were won by Mrs. C. Q.
Adams, Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. James Bryan of Wellesley Hills.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, $7,500 was appropriated for new hydrants for the water department.

The following were chosen as jurors for the criminal court: Ashley Q. Robinson of 274 Church street; Clinton W. Ksie of 119 Austin street; J. Harvey White of 116 Algonquin road;
George W. Bryson of 5 Hovey street;
A. Warren Armstrong of 58 Grafton street; Samuel C. Lawrence of 201 Auburndale avenue; William H. Cady of 12 Gordon terrace; Robert J. Armstrong of 124 Carlisle street; Thomas H. Burns of Mill street; John A.
Delaney of 202 Chapel street; James
R. Borgan of 192 Woodward street;
Leonard B. Berry of 257 Auburndale avenue.

GARDEN CITY GRANGE

Garden City Grange will hold its Annual Fair, Massachusetts Department of Agriculture co-operating, in Odd Fellows' hall, Newtonville, Saturday, Sept. 29, opening at 2 P. M. It is expected that there will be a fine display of Arts and Crafts, Flowers, Canned Goods and Poultry. The Grange has endeavored to make the fair especially attractive to the boys and girls in the Junior Department.
Many pieces of fancy work, canned goods and home-cooked food and candy will be on sale.

Mr. Robert Trask and Miss Louisa
Patterson of the Middlesex County Farm Bureau of Waltham will be the judges. There will be about an hour given to instructive moving pictures and at 8:30 dancing.

Garden City Grange held a reception to the School Teachers of Newton on Tuesday evening, Sept. 25, in Odd Fellows Hall, Newtonville. About 150 were present. The Master, George E.
Hardy, welcomed the teachers and Francis L. Bacon, Principal of Classical High School, entertained the gathering with a most interesting talk on "Who Shall or Who Should Go to College." A varied entertainment was furnished ending with dancing. Reception to the school teachers is an annual event with Garden City Grange.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

This week sees the opening of the private schools of the city, the public schools having been in session for several weeks.

The Fessenden School opened on Wednesday with a capacity enrollment. The following are changes in the faculty: Mr. Chauncey Craig is in charge of the French; Mr. E. J.
Saunders is to teach Latin; Mr. B. T.
Riley will teach English. On Friday at the first opening exercises Principal Lewis Perry of Exeter Academy was the speaker.

Miss Marcy and Miss Lewinthal reopened their school for girls on Centre street on Thursday.

The Country Day School opened on Thursday with an enrollment of 180.
The following are new instructors this year: Mr. Bartlett Boyden in English, and Mr. Charles Goodrich, Physical Director.

Mr. Ida School opened on Thursday with an enrollment of 150. New teachers this year are Miss Ruth King of Smith College, Miss Harriet Ramsey and Miss Elsie Nicholson of Vassar, Miss Charlotte McKenzie, Miss Audrey Pearson and Miss Francis McGaw.

Lasell

The Senior Class of Lasell Seminary has elected the following officers:
President, Miss Frances W. Badger, 628 Broad street, Portsmouth, N. H.
Vice-President, Miss Katharine C.
Webb, 300 Bedford street, Stamford, Ct.

Secretary, Miss Dorothy Barnard, 36
Pine street, Concord, N. H.
Treasurer, Miss Edith W. Hadley, 20
Pond lane, Arlington, Mass.

Song Leader, Miss Helen C. Schroer, 331 W. Fourth street, Mansfield, O.
Cheer Leader, Miss Gertrude M.
Wragg, 96 Lincoln street, Norwood, Mass.

The regular Thursday afternoon lecture to the student body was given by Miss E. R. Potter, the preceptor, her subject being "Morals and Manners."

Saturday evening there is to be a special party in Bragdon Hall when the old girls will be hostesses to the new girls.

On Sunday evening the usual vesper service is to be omitted and the students will attend the song service at the Methodist Church conducted by Mr. E. R. Potter.

Work in the Physical Training Department is getting well started, the main features at present being outdoor sports, canoeing, and field hockey.

About forty of the Woodland Park pupils took a trip to Lexington and Concord Saturday afternoon.

Miss Allen's School

Miss Lucy Allen will open her school for girls next Tuesday, (Oct.
24). Three members of the faculty have been abroad during the summer, Miss Lucy Allen, Miss Keeler, and Madame Edward. Additions to the faculty are Miss Marguerite Manning, of Radcliffe College, who will teach Latin and Miss Emma Wilder who will teach French.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

The enrollment on the first day of school was 503, as against 495 for the same day one year ago. The figures for the first day have been raised to 528 to date.

Miss Florence E. Lewis resigned on the last day of school in June to accept a position in Brookline in the Edward Devotion School. The position thus vacated is at present in charge of Miss Beryl Fisher, formerly a principal in Athol.

Miss Marie C. Kelly is to give a talk in Cambridge next week to the teachers of grade four on the subject of "The Teaching of Geography."

The Class Pin Committee of the graduating class consisted of these members: Florence O'Hara, Mildred Stuart, Norman Payne, and Edwin Rumill. A pin has been adopted by the class and an order already placed.

Claflin School

An increase of one hundred and twenty-nine jars of milk this week is reported for the Claflin School. The weekly total now has passed the thousand mark, sixty per cent of the school enrollment now drinking milk at mid-morning. The children and members of the faculty are anxious to have this number increase weekly.
There is no well founded objection to this practice and parents are asked to join children and teachers in this school lunch drive.

Fifteen new bank accounts have been started this week and a total of thirty dollars deposited by the Claf-lin School children. Clearly thrift teaching is of great value. We expect soon to have all the pupils in the building saving regularly.

The first football game of the year was played with the Horace Mann School. The final score was 19 to 6 in favor of our school.

Mason School

School started two weeks ago with an enrollment the first day of about 590 in Mason 200 in the Rice, and 175 in the Bowen Schools.

At present the numbers are Mason,
675; Rice 247; and Bowen 184.
Four new teachers are with us this year: Mr. Person in grade eight, Miss Glenfield in grade seven; Miss Miles in grade five and Miss Lawrence also in grade five.

The eighth grade was shocked and saddened by the sudden death of one of their number Gertrude Daly. At school all day on Friday, she was taken ill with pneumonia on Friday night and died Sunday morning.

A lovely girl, winning all by her kind disposition, she will be greatly missed by her classmates and teachers.

Football practise by the Mason boys has already begun under the supervision of Mr. Person during the recess periods.

Last Fall Dog Show The Middlesex County Kennel Club

announces an All Breed, A. K. C. Licensed Show for the Benefit of the Newton Y. M. C. A., on the grounds of the Newton Y. M. C. A., Church Street, Newton, Mass., Columbus Day, October 12, 1923. Premium Lists are ready. Close to 900 Special prizes with plenty of money, medals, etc., in breeds of all kinds. Send for List and make your entries at once, as entries close at midnight Saturday, Sept. 29th, with post entries at increased fee Friday, Oct. 5th.

All information and lists may be obtained by phoning F. T.
ESKRIDGE, 1032-J Centre Newton. 32 Paul St., Newton Centre.
Note. Points won here count towards Championship.

Thrill is very popular at the Mason School,—already many dollars having been put into the Automatic Bank.

Mr. Griffin, the new music director, sang for the pupils of the 8th grade on Tuesday, to their very great enjoyment.

F. A. Day Junior High

A thorough physical examination of every boy and girl in the school is being given by the physical education directors, Mr. Simmons and Miss Mason.

After the completion of these examinations, corrective exercises are given to those who are not normal in all respects. Very often much can be done for some physical handicap which would not have been noticed by the director, had no examination been given.

The Boys' Athletic Association will hold its first meeting Friday at which time discussion as to the means of raising funds for the coming athletic season will be in order.

The football squad under Mr. Simmons is practising faithfully three afternoons a week. There are only a few veterans left from last year's championship team, but there are many recruits eagerly striving for places. Such consistent spirit as is now shown by the entire squad is bound to result in another worthy team.

New books for the library are still coming in and Mr. Carr is very grateful to those who are remembering that the F. A. Day Junior High School is on the trail of every good book, which is looking for a happy home.

The entire school appreciates the thoughtfulness of the school department in resurfacing the playground.
It is now a fit place for athletic games; even the football team is practising on it. Besides the comfort afforded to the pupils who have games there, it adds much to the order of things about the building.

NEW CHURCH ASSOCIATION

The Fall meeting of the Massachusetts New Church Association, will be held in the Church of the New Jerusalem, Highland Avenue, Newtonville, Friday, October 12th, 10.30 A. M. The morning session will take the form of a memorial meeting to the late Mr. and Mrs. James Richard Carter of West Newton, for very many years connected both with the Newtonville Society and the Massachusetts Association. In the absence of Rev. W. L. Worcester, President of the New Church Convention in the Far East, Rev. H. Clinton Hay of Boston, will preside. Mr. E. H. Alden, Vice-President, of the New Church Convention from Philadelphia, William F. Wunsch, principal New Church Theological School, Cambridge, and Rev. Earl Gould now pastor at Brooklyn, N. Y., and formerly associate pastor at Newtonville, and other well known members of the New Church organization are expected to be present and address the meeting. There will be luncheon at 12.30 P. M., in the church parlors, and in the afternoon the New Church Sunday School Association will hold its fall session in the Sunday school auditorium. A large attendance is expected.

CHURCH NOTICE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton. Player's Hall, Washington Street, West Newton. Sunday service 10.45 A. M. Subject of Lesson, Sermon: "Reality." Sunday School 10.45 A. M. Testimonial meeting Wednesday 8 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend the services and to use the Reading Room at 255 Walnut Street, Newtonville, which is open daily from 2 to 5.30 in the afternoon.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT ACTIVITIES

The Advisory Council of the Norumbega District Sunday School Association, consisting of Sunday School superintendents and other appointed laymen and ministers, met last Monday evening for a supper and business meeting at the Newton Y. M. C. A. building. There were 40 present. Mr. W. H. Timble, president, presided.

After the regular reports of officers, Mr. Nathan Heard gave a report for the Community School committee, saying that this School begins its third year on Monday evening, October 15, 1923, at the parish house of the Church of the New Jerusalem at Newtonville. Advance registrations to the number of 42 have been received. A special committee of Community School former students is at work promoting the School attendance in a personal way, and securing advance registrations.

The instructors for the coming year are Dr. Herbert W. Gates, Professor J. P. Berkeley, Mrs. Henry W. Pitts, Miss Lullona Barker, Miss Ruth J. Seabury and Miss Priscilla H. Fowle. The courses of study for the first term are as follows:— in the first period; Early Old Testament Teachings, Child Study, Methods of Young People's Work, and Dramatization and Pageantry; in the second period; The Ideals of Jesus, Problems of Religious Education in the Home and Community, Junior Department Methods, and Missionary Education.

It is urged as most important that any Sunday School desiring to benefit largely by the Community School should send at least one, preferably more than one, of its administrative officers, and a majority of its teachers to take these courses of study.

Miss Lullona Barker gave a report for the Young People's Committee, stating that the Annual Young People's Conference will take place this Fall on November 30 and December 1, and that Father and Son Week comes November 11 to 18.

Mr. G. L. Foster of Belmont, gave a talk on the new educational bulletins recently issued by the International Council of Religious Education.

The State Sunday School Convention, to take place at North Adams, on October 10 to 12, 1923, was announced, and a committee appointed to interest delegates in attending this Convention, for the purpose of hearing addresses on week-day religious education and other important topics. Mr. James E. Tully was made chairman of this committee; other members being Mr. E. W. Greene of Watertown, Mr. A. P. Williams of Newton Highlands, Miss Lizette Smythe of Waltham and Miss Lullona Barker. After a brief discussion of Rally Day work in the local Sunday Schools, the meeting adjourned.

DEATH OF MR. HILDRETH

Henry G. Hildreth, a retired wool salesman, died on Saturday at St. Barnabas Hospital, Portland, Maine, after a long illness. Mr. Hildreth had been spending the summer at Portland in an effort to improve his health.

He was born seventy-eight years ago and was the son of Abel F. Hildreth and Eliza Hildreth of Auburn, Maine. Mr. Hildreth attended the Newton school and after completing his education entered the wool business. He was for many years associated with the firm of H. N. Slater & Sons, which had offices in Chauncey street. He retired from business two years ago because of illness. He had made his home in Auburn for more than sixty years and was prominent in church affairs there, having served as clerk of the Auburn Congregational Church.

Mr. Hildreth is survived by his wife, who was Miss Elizabeth F. Spalding, a daughter, Mrs. Walter H. Eddy of New York City; and a son, Harry F. Hildreth of Boston.

Services were held in the Newton Cemetery Chapel on Wednesday, Rev. Edward P. Drew, officiating.

DEATH OF MRS. ROTHERY

Mrs. Margaret (Bull) Rothery, wife of John J. E. Rothery, a Boston insurance broker, died Tuesday, at her home in Duxbury. Mrs. Rothery was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Bull of Quincy, Ill. She came to Boston with her parents when a child and settled in West Newton. She married Rev. Theodore P. Prudden, D. D., who was for many years pastor of the Second Congregational Church in West Newton. Mrs. Rothery was active in church affairs and was prominently identified with the Second Congregational Church up to the time of Dr. Prudden's death which occurred in 1915.

She married Mr. Rothery and has since lived in Brookline and Duxbury. Mrs. Rothery is survived by her husband, son, Theodore Prudden, and four daughters, Miss Elinor Prudden, Miss Lillian Prudden, Miss Edith Prudden and Miss Elizabeth Prudden. Services were held in Duxbury.

COLLINSON-WOODS

In the Second Church in West Newton on Saturday evening, September 22nd, at eight o'clock, Miss Margaret Louise Woods, daughter of Mrs. Martha Fowler Woods and the late Andrew Salter Woods, was married to Mr. Kenneth Clyde Collinson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Collinson of Wakefield.

The officiating clergyman was Dr. John Edgar Park and the bridal music was played by the organist of the Church, Mr. William Lester Bates.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of soft ivory satin trimmed with rare point lace and her veil was of tulle edged with the same. Her only ornaments were a string of pearls and the gift of the groom, a platinum bracelet set with diamonds and sapphires. She was given in marriage by her uncle, Hon. John W. Weeks, Secretary of War, and she had for her attendants her sister, Miss Katherine Woods as maid of honor, her cousin, Mrs. Paul Glover of Bath, N. H., as matron of honor and her maids were Miss Edith Collinson, sister of the groom, Mrs. Richard Warren, Miss Kate Wheelock, Miss Eleanor Gibbs, Miss Irma Bartholomew and Miss Katharine Roquemore, all of West Newton.

The gown of the maid of honor was of changeable pink chiffon taffeta and those of the matron and bridesmaids the same in changeable blue.

Mr. Collinson had for his best man, his brother, Mr. Alfred Collinson of Wakefield, and as ushers Mr. Stanley Collinson another brother of Newton Centre, Mr. Moulton Cox and Mr. Arthur Langley of Wakefield, Mr. Millard Thresher of Cleveland, Mr. Amos Blandin, Jr., of Concord, N. H., Mr. Thomas S. Woods of Boston, and Mr. Sinclair Weeks of West Newton, cousins of the bride, Mr. Richard Cook of Newton Centre, Mr. Paul Glover of Bath, N. H., and Mr. Richard Warren of West Newton.

A large reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, at 66 Fountain Street, immediately following the ceremony.

HAVE YOU A GOOD VOICE?

Have you a good voice? If not, why? A good voice is everyone's birthright, but through neglect and mismanagement, standing of how to use the voice it can very easily become a most unpleasant interpretation of the individual. Very brilliant and deserving people are often hindered by faulty and inadequate voices. A good voice is essential because it provides the finishing touch to a noble thought. It lends beauty to speech creates poise, commands respect, gives confidence to the speaker. In conversation, on the platform, in the pulpit or on the stage, the quality of the voice is an element of first importance, transmitting the essence of the mind by speech so as to produce the most intelligent and happiest results.

Does this interest you? If so, you will be pleased to hear that Flora M. Bosson is opening classes for vocal training and expression. Individual lessons will be given if desired. Ages, twelve up. Any questions will be answered by

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor, Newton Graphic:

Will you favor me by bringing to the attention of the Newton public a matter which is of vital importance to every member of the community inasmuch as whatever affects the well being of the individual tends to promote the welfare of the community.

We read and hear of a great deal about the housing problem. It can be seen from two distinctively different viewpoints—that of the landlord and that of the tenant.

To a large number of people this subject is merely an abstract one which receives but little consideration. It is to those who must face the question in all its seriousness that the subject assumes alarming proportions.

Recently since the problem has become my own I have come into contact with many, many others who are facing the same difficulties.

My specific case is this. I have three children, which being notified to the apartment in which I am now living. My time limit expires within a very few weeks. So I have proceeded to make every possible effort to find shelter for my family. I have telephoned to real estate agents. I did this systematically by looking up every real estate agent listed in the business section of the telephone directory in the City of Newton and also in the surrounding cities.

I have asked practically everyone I have met such as the druggist, grocer, man, laundryman, milkman, etc. All were considerably kind and promised to let me know of any vacant apartment of which they might hear. I have been eagerly watching the "Apartments to let" section of the Boston and suburban newspapers.

My husband and I have received the Newton Graphic and have received a great many replies. However the general program of an answer runs in this way. The telephone rings, I answer. A voice asks, "Did you advertise for an apartment? I have one." I answer that I am the one—then comes the question, "How much of a family have you?" I begin by telling that I have three children and that my death warrant is as far as obtaining an apartment is concerned because the party at the other end of the line usually informs me that her apartment is too small for children or has some other excuse ready—Some are braver and say quite plainly, "Well we don't want any children."

Why is there such an antipathy to children? Why is this feeling so general among landlords? Surely all families of children do not abuse their apartments, must all suffer because of the wear and tear inflicted upon apartments by some children has been a little severe? Or don't those grown-up remember that they were once children and indulged in childhood's legitimate activities—maybe their own voices were once upon a time full of the sound of childhood, which now seem like noise to the ears of the landlord as well as the smallpox or a cage full of rattlesnakes and try to hire an apartment as to try to gain admission with children.

The children of today will be citizens of a few years hence. They will be well equipped educationally. This city offers exceptional opportunities in that direction. But along with Education, there must be the necessities of life. A man in moderate circumstances works hard to provide for his family, food and clothing but besides these he must also give to his shelter—some sort of a place to live. He cannot pay exorbitant prices for every thing in the line of up to the minute modern conveniences. He must provide the other actual necessities for life and cannot spend the largest share of his money for rent. All that he hopes for or expects is that he may secure a liveable place at a fair price where children will be at least as welcome as pet dogs, cats or monkeys.

One instance of a place which I looked up was that of a neighbor who intended moving away. There were children in the family so I felt sure that they would secure a place from which my children would not be barred—but to my surprise I found that the landlady had followed the example of other property holders and had decided that henceforth she would let her apartment to no more families having children.

And so the story goes—the same thing over and over—one disappointment following another. Any number of places would have been at my disposal if I had not had three children.

Why is there such an unnatural prejudice against children? What irreparable damage has any child ever done that there is such a prevailing sentiment against them? What fair-minded parent would not prevent his child from destruction of the property of another from motives of correct habit forming and also because it also means added bill of expense to his already well taxed pocket book.

All these present day landlords were children once upon a time. All had shelter of some sort. It can not be that these well favored ones who have an abundance of shelter not only for themselves but also to sell by the month for a stipulated sum to their less prosperous brothers. It can not be that they fully realize what it means to a man to be barred from admittance into this self same shelter because he is doing his duty in life and trying to rear a family of little ones and giving them the necessities of life.

Is not the family having children more desirable as tenants than the family of "Adults Only" which so many "Apartments to let" advertisements call for because where there are children in a family the parents are actuated to greater thrift and self-sacrifice for the love of these little ones—who act as an incentive to bring out all that is best in their parents—thus forming the foundation of the family which is the unit upon which the foundation of the community is based.

We are told "poor people shouldn't have so many children." Haven't many of our greatest men been children of large and poor families who have had to fight for their existence and this very circumstance has given them greater ability to meet the big problems of life in later years and handle them successfully.

Cannot the Newton managers whom we elect to office who provide such excel-

HILL-BOLTON

Last Saturday evening, the Newton Highlands Congregational Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Audrey Broderick Bolton, daughter of Mr. Harry T. Bolton of Rogers street, Newton Highlands, and Mr. Converse Hill, son of Mr. Willard C. Hill of Lexington, Mass. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Samuel H. Woodrow, pastor of the Congregational Church, assisted by the Rev. William Collier of Lexington. The Church was attractively decorated with palms, ferns, and gladioli for the occasion. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Hubert C. Grieve of Lexington, was the matron of honor, and Miss Shirley Bolton, a sister of the bride was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Ethel M. Gegan of Brookline, Miss Jessica H. Thompson of Dorchester, Miss Edith Hill of Lexington, Miss Helen Jack of East Milton, Miss Elizabeth Mahoney of Beach Bluffs, and Miss Elinor Waters of White Plains, New York.

The bride's gown was of white moire with an under-dress of georgette embroidered in pearls. The veil arranged in Spanish effect was of princess lace and is an heirloom in the family.

The gown of the matron of honor was of flame-colored chiffon and lace, and her bouquet of gladioli. The matron of honor wore a gown of orange-yellow chiffon and carried brilliant autumn flowers. The gowns of the bridesmaids were of chiffon in the autumnal colors.

The best man was Mr. Forrest L. Pitman of Somerville, Dartmouth '19, and the ushers Messrs. Chester W. Kingsley of Cambridge, Harvard Law School '21, Robert G. Merriman, Harvard '19, Galen L. Russell of Lexington, Dartmouth '18, and William B. Plummer of Brookline, Harvard '20.

The groom is a World War veteran and served in the American Field Ambulance Service in France, for two years. He received the Croix de Guerre from General Gouraud for meritorious conduct under fire. He graduated from Cornell in 1918.

The bride is a graduate of Vassar College, class of 1921.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony. After their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Hill will live on Massachusetts Avenue, Lexington, in a new house, the gift of the Groom's father.

TROOP 7, BOY SCOUTS

Troop 7, Boy Scouts located at the Second Church, West Newton, opened wide and with a bang and a hoot of enthusiasm this week. Scout master Harlan D. Crowell was in charge and Merit Badge Scout Eddie Ovington was acting senior patrol leader. Merit Badge Senior Jack Ford was Scout Scribble.

It is a pleasure task to note that during the Summer Bill Bengier and Eddie Roberts became first class Scouts. Val Kenny, Bradford Bachrach, and Morton Ray received their junior life saving honors this vacation.

Ned Dewing, a former first class scout of Troop 7, has been elected Captain of the Newton High Football team. Ellison Smith, also a former first class scout, and the son of Scout master Charles M. Smith will probably make his letter in the backfield for Newton High this fall. Our last year's senior patrol leader, Franklin Hoyt, winner of so many scout contests in the fire making without matches event is the manager of the gridiron team at Newton High. "Bill" Phelps and Phil Hoyt, both former first class scouts of our troop have gone to college, "Bill" to Williams, and Phil to Cornell.

In the athletic and sports' events that followed the troop opening, the Steamrollers with Eddie Ovington, Captain, defeated the Tanks with Jack Ford as Captain. The horse and rider event was the most interesting and important. Al Brigham and Phil Sheehan were the winners of the final and vociferously acclaimed troop heroes. They will attempt to hold their honors at successive meetings.

Tonight there will be a young peoples social in the entertainment room of the Second Church, to which all the Scouts are invited. Next Friday, the troop election!

NEWTON CONSTABULARY ASSOCIATION

The Association will hold its September 29, 1923. At Cabot Park, Newtonville, there will be sports and a band concert by the Newton Constabulary Band, beginning at two o'clock and an Exhibition Drill by Troop C of the 110th Cavalry under Capt. Philip L. Brown, formerly Major in the Constabulary.

Supper will be served in Temple Hall, at 6.30 o'clock, and after the Annual Election of Officers, a Motion Picture Entertainment will be provided.

lent educational facilities for our children extend their activities a little farther and devise some means to provide a sufficiency of shelter at a fair price so that the family of moderate means may not be barred from these hallowed places on account of having among its members the nations hope—its children.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, LAND COURT.

To the Newton Savings Bank and the Auburndale Co-operative Bank, duly existing corporations having usual places of business in Newton, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth; Maud M. Bacon and Edward A. Mahoney, of said Newton; John C. L. Dowling, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Mary A. McKinnon, of said Newton, to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Southerly by Watertown Street, 103 feet; Western by a passageway 20 feet wide, 250 feet; Northern by land now or formerly of Margaret F. Mahoney, 103 feet; and Eastern by land now or formerly of Maude M. Bacon, 250 feet.

Petitioner claims as appurtenant to the above described land rights in a passageway twenty (20) feet wide from said Watertown Street along the Western side of the above described land over the land now or formerly of Margaret F. Mahoney.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk on the eighth day of October A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of September in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-three. Attest with Seal of said Court.

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder, (Seal.) Sept. 14-21-28.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Louise Jackson, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, Mass., deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are hereby required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

HARRY H. KEITH, Executor. (Address) 527 Washington St., Newton, Sept. 17, 1923. Sept. 21-28-Oct. 5.

STUDEBAKER

1924 Model
Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car
$995

The Price of This Car Is Misleading

Some buyers take it for granted that cars which sell at about the same prices are equal in value. This is distinctly not the case. To buy on this basis would be an injustice to yourself.

You can pay several hundred dollars more than the Light-Six price and get a car that represents no greater, if as great, intrinsic value as the Studebaker Light-Six.

Or you can pay about the same price as the Light-Six, or less, and get a car that is high-priced when compared with the Light-Six because it does not represent as much for the money invested.

And in the Light-Six you enjoy all the advantages of smooth, flexible, dependable, six-cylinder performance.

You get a beautiful, substantial, well-built, roomy and comfortable car.

The practical absence of vibration in the Light-Six is a notable achievement. It is due largely to the fact that the Light-Six crankshaft and connecting rods are machined on all surfaces. This is an exclusive Studebaker practice on cars within hundreds of dollars of the Light-Six price.

Stop in and see the 1924 Model Light-Six.

Test it for yourself—drive it and make your comparisons. Driving is believing.

After seventy-one years of service the name Studebaker enjoys confidence and respect more than ever.

The bowling teams are being made up. The alleys are in A-1 condition and will be ready for use October 1. Tournaments will be conducted during the entire season.

The Newton Association plays Brockton on Saturday afternoon in the semi-finals of the State Y. M. C. A. Tennis Tournament. If this is won, the Newton Team will play the Boston Y. M. C. A.

Newton Centre

—Miss Caroline Stewart of Montvale road, has returned from a recent visit through the West, and will be at home this winter.

—Mr. and Mrs. Settle and family are to make their home at 891 Beacon street. Mr. Settle is the Director of Religious Education at the First Church.

Auburndale

—Mr. Charles S. Cowdrey spent the week end at Dunstable.

—Miss Lucy Burr of Hancock street, is reported seriously ill.

—Mr. Kenneth Keyes has returned from a visit to New York.

—Mr. Walter Beal of Melrose street is on a motor trip to New York.

—Mr. Lester Lawrence is a student at Middlebury College this year.

—Photographic portraits in the home or studio.—Lila J. Perry.

—Mr. Eugene Wentworth of Evergreen avenue, is visiting friends in Maine.

—Androns repaired and retrained. P. A. Murray and Company, Newton.

—A Junior Department social will take place in the chapel of the Congregational Church, on October 2d.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Houghton of Auburndale avenue, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

—Mrs. F. B. Richardson of Melrose street, has returned from St. Johnsbury, Vermont, where she has been visiting her son.

—There will be a Get-Together Social for neighbors and new people at the Congregational Church home, on Friday, October 5th.

—Tomorrow will be the 42d anniversary of the first service held in the chapel of the Church of the Messiah. A service will be held at 9 A. M.

—There will be a meeting of the Woman's Guild of the Church of the Messiah, next Monday. Following the luncheon, plans will be discussed for the coming year.

—Parents of the Beginners' and of the Primary Departments of the Congregational Church, are invited to attend a meeting of the Sub-Kindergarten and Kindergarten on Tuesday, October 2d, and an "at home" of the Primary Department on Saturday, October 6th.

—A cabaret entertainment and dance was held Wednesday evening, in the Norumbega Park restaurant, under the auspices of the reunion committee of the parish of Corpus Christi, Auburndale. "Eddie" Hanlon was in charge of the musical program. Sunday night a successful motion picture show and concert was given in the Norumbega Park Theatre for the benefit of the reunion.

—The following are new guests in the Missionary Home: Rev. and Mrs. Otis Cary, D. D., of Japan; Rev. and Mrs. Hilton Pedley, D. D., of Japan; Rev. J. K. Browne, D. India; Rev. and Mrs. Frank J. Woodward and four boys from Philippines.

—Sunday night, September 30, a musical service will be rendered at the Methodist Church, entitled "The Life of Christ." This is a "congregationalized" presentation of Handel's oratorio "The Messiah." A number of the choruses and arias of the famous oratorio will be sung by the choir and soloists, but the congregation will have a very important part in the service through the medium of correlated hymns, responses, and ritual.

—The officers of the C. E. Society of the Congregational Church are as follows: President, Miss Ruth Obermeyer; Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. Arthur Sederquist; Lookout Committee, Miss Katherine Scott, Mr. Edward Ufford, Miss Evelyn Keyes and Miss Gertrude Davis; Prayer Meeting Committee, Miss Mary Warren, Miss Winifred Scott, and Miss Marjorie Berry; Music Committee, Miss Ruth Ufford, Miss Ruth Henrich and Miss Gertrude Locke.

—The Get Together Social Friday evening, October 5th, from eight o'clock to ten at the Congregational Church is a social evening for our entire Church. A program has been prepared which will be interesting and entertaining. A number of people have enjoyed some quite unusual experiences in various parts of the world during the past summer at home and abroad. They are going to tell us the stories of where they have been and what they have seen. Everybody will want to hear these interesting accounts of travel and adventure. There will be songs by Miss Turner to whom we always listen with great delight and there will be community singing by everyone. The decorations and the refreshments will be in charge of the ladies of the Benevolent Society who are to be our hostesses for the evening.

OFFICERS ELECTED

At the Convention of the Federation of State, City, and Town Employees held at Lowell recently the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: National President, Francis J. Dowd of Dorchester; National Secretary-Treasurer, A. L. Moriarty of Newton; National Vice-President, Jeremiah Herlihy of Newton and Jeremiah Ford of Newton, member of the Finance Committee.

—Mr. Frank Rumrill of Lake avenue, Mrs. John Briggs of Parker street, Mrs. Charles M. Fitz of Homer street, and Mrs. Joseph S. Cordingley of Lake avenue, have returned from Chatham, where they have been spending the summer.

—On Thursday, October 4th, at 2:30, the Newton Centre Girl Scouts' of Troop 3 Juniors, will begin their fall meetings at the Congregational Church. They will have a jolly reunion and make many plans for the coming year. New members welcomed.

—Among Americans returning home from Europe in the past few days were Mr. and Mrs. A. Winsor Weld and family of 47 Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill, who arrived at New York, on Tuesday last on the White Star liner Olympic, from Southampton Cherbourg.

—The hearing on the petition of the Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club to enlarge its clubhouse will be held next Monday evening, at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen. The plans call for alterations to cost approximately $50,000. The members are contemplating four new bowling alleys, additional squash courts, pool tables, larger lounging room and porch, facilities for serving luncheons, supper and more locker space. The club now has 200 members but after the enlargement of the building a membership of 250 is planned.

—The South Middlesex Conference will meet in the Unitarian Church, on October 24, at 3:15 and 7:30 P. M. The hours are set in order to make the conference possible for the business men of all the South Middlesex Churches. The general topic of the program will be "Religious Education." Some very well-known speakers have been invited to address the gathering. Dr. George E. Horr of Newton Baptist Institution, will speak in the afternoon, and Rev. Palfrey Perkins of Weston, will report on the recent New Haven Conference. The Annual Bazaar under charge of the Stebbins Alliance will be held on November 15. Chairman of Committee is Mrs. Charles P. Powers.

—The examination of our young men for the army in 1917, showed that among the vast array of men between the ages of 18 and 35 the average intelligence was that of children of eleven years of age. These men had not really grown up! Professor Steiner of Grinnell College, Iowa, says that "prolonged youth" and "permanent youthfulness" are America's greatest danger. It is fitting that we think of this at the beginning of the serious time of the year, autumn and winter.

At the Unitarian Church, next Sunday, the minister, George Lawrence Parker, will preach on the subject "The Duty of Growing Up." Church School will meet at ten o'clock, morning worship at eleven. The public who have no other church engagement are invited. The first meeting of the Laymen's League will be held on the evening of October 25, under the chairmanship of Mr. C. W. Nichols.

KEMP-POST

Miss Fannie Bertha Kemp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kemp of Worcester, was married last week Wednesday, to Mr. George Atwell Post of Jackson, N. H. The ceremony was held at the Second Church, West Newton, Rev. J. Edgar Park officiating.

The bridesmaid was Miss A. Leila Hall of West Newton, and the best man Alvin Bullard, of Framingham. Mr. Hugh A. Berg was usher.

The bride wore a traveling suit of navy blue with hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of white bridal roses. Her attendant wore a brown taffeta gown with hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses.

A reception at the home of Miss Gould on Watertown street, West Newton, followed the ceremony in the church.

The bride is a graduate of the Newton Hospital, class of 1920, and the groom of Amherst Agricultural College, class of 1913. The groom is a constructor of golf courses.

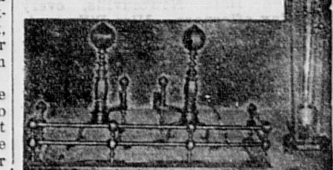

Mr. and Mrs. Post will make their home in Jackson, N. H., for the present, and later, will go to Florida.

POST ROAD FARM

Do you ever stop to consider the source of your milk supply?
Do you know that the milk you receive daily is coming from a herd of cows that are clean and healthy?
Do you know that the stable, in which these cows are kept, is clean and sanitary?

Do you know that the milking is done in a sanitary, careful way?
Do you know that the milk is carefully bottled and delivered?
Do you know that the tuberculin test has been applied to the herd of cattle supplying you with milk and that you are now receiving milk from a tubercular free herd?

We invite you to inspect our Dairy. If you order from Post Road Farm you will get a rich, clean milk of fine flavor.

ANNOUNCEMENT

George Lambie, Superintendent for the past five years of the G. C. Winters Company of Southbridge, has become associated with W. B. Wolcott, a continuance of the valued patronage conducted a plumbing and heating business at 65 Elmwood Street, in this city. For ten years previous to Mr. Lambie's connection with the Winters Company, he was master plumber for John McIlroy of the Mt. Auburn district.

Although a young man, Mr. Lambie has had a wide experience in the plumbing and heating line and will endeavor to maintain the same high standard of service and thereby merit a continuance of the varied patronage which has been extended to me in the past.

The firm will be known as Wolcott-Lambie Company.

Substitute Shelves.

"The decorative value of a fireplace and chimney piece can be approximated, in a room which lacks this architectural touch, by a shelf supported on brackets extending to the floor in the curved line of a capital. The place selected for this shelf should be the one which would have been chosen for a chimney, had one been put in, and it should be of the length and breadth appropriate to a mantel in that space. Its color and finish must match that of the woodwork in the room and its ornaments carry out the idea of a chimney piece. In front of it a sofa may be drawn, its back turned to the mock chimney, thus calling attention away from the absence of grate and hearth.
